

Philippines Demand Immediate Recall Of Governor Wood

MCDONALD'S MOVE TO CUT ARMAMENT LOST IN COMMONS

Resolution For Convening International Conference On Subject Rejected by 286 to 169 Vote.

London, July 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, moved a resolution today in favor of convening an international conference to discuss the limitation of armaments, but the

No vote was taken on an amendment introduced by R. W. O'Neill, which has been accepted by the government, inviting the government to take the earliest favorable opportunity

The opposition leader explained that no mention had been made in his resolution of the league of nations because that organization had not yet won the confidence of all the important nations of the world. It was most desirable that the United States should come into such a conference and he wanted to make it perfectly clear to the American people that there was no wish to make it difficult for them to come in.

O'Neill's Amendment.

The debate on Mr. MacDonald's resolution in favor of a disarmament conference turned less on the ideal to be attained than on the manner of attaining it. The government could not meet the labor resolution with a simple negative, because, as Mr. O'Neill confessed, such a course would create a misunderstanding abroad and would not represent the real feelings

Briefly, Mr. O'Neill's amendment was to the effect that the house view with alarm the danger of renewed competition in armaments and considers that the government should, at the earliest favorable opportunity, use its utmost influence through the league

Mr. MacDonald had represented the world as sitting under the dark gloom of threatened war and reverting to its 1914 frame of mind. He denounced the Singapore project as colossal folly on the part of the government and invited the nation to take the lead in international disarmament.

Urges Direct Negotiations.

In moving his amendment, Mr. O'Neill argued that an immediate disarmament conference was impracticable and, until the Ruhr difficulty was settled, undesirable. He advocated direct negotiations with France for disarmament and also urged that Great Britain should offer France an unconditional guarantee against aggression, to replace the abortive An-

Herbert H. Asquith agreed fully with the substance of Mr. MacDonald's opposition and speech, and only regretted its implication of ignoring the league of nations as the proper vehicle to attain disarmament. He again appealed to the government to stay its hand with regard to Singapore until the imperial conference had considered the question.

Sir Samuel Hoare, the air minister, emphasizing the government's difficulties, contended that even were the government to summon such a conference there was no reason to suppose that Russia or France would respond. He asserted that the whole history of the past four or five years proved the extreme danger of starting international conferences until there was some definite measure of agreement and a program had been prepared.

LAUSANNE TREATY FORMALLY SIGNED
THIS AFTERNOON

Lausanne, July 29. (By the Associated Press.)—A great dinner to celebrate the advent of peace was given tonight by the Swiss federal council. All the delegates to the near east conference and Joseph C. Grew, the American minister to Switzerland, were present. M. Scheurer,

At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the ceremony attending the signature of the treaty of Lausanne will be held in the Hall of Lausanne University. The affair will be exceedingly simple.

The Americans will attend, but will not sign the treaty or any of its annexes or records. It is hoped to regulate American relations with Turkey.

mate American relations with Turkey in a special treaty now under negotiation. Several points in this treaty are still in dispute and the Turco-American pourparlers have been suspended pending receipt of instructions from Washington and Angola.

New Bill Proposed To Bar McMichael From Highway Probe

Senator Stephen Pace, of the thirteenth district, Monday introduced in the senate a substitute for the McMichael resolution, calling for an investigation of the state highway department. The salient feature of the substitute would prevent appointment on the investigating committee of any member of the general assembly who is directly or indirectly connected with the department, or of any legislator who has previously sought a department probe.

Under provisions of the Pace substitute, Representative McMichael or any other member of the legislature who has previously sought investigation of the highway department would be prevented from serving on the committee, which would be composed of twelve representatives and five senators.

The resolution was referred to the senate's highway committee along with the McMichael resolution which has already passed the house. Senator Pace declaring that he would institute a fight for passage of his measure.

Strong opposition to the house measure aimed at abolition of the new class of confederate pensions created in 1919 was voiced in the senate by several speakers prior to the adoption of a resolution offered by Senator Boyce Ficklen, requesting the senate pension commissioner to pay all classes of pensioners their pro rata share as soon as funds are available.

Those speaking against the house proposal to abolish the new classes of pensions were Senators Hamby, King, Loftis, Parker and Ficklen. Professor J. H. P. McPherson, of the University of Georgia, addressed the senate on income taxation, stressing the need for a measure that would give the general assembly the right to classify all property for taxation.

In the absence of President George Carwell, who missed train connections from his week-end trip to Irwin, Senator Stephen Pace presided.

MICHALOVE DENIES MONOPOLY CHARGE IN PICTURE FIELD

After examination of only one witness, the federal trade commission's inquiry into monopoly charges against Famous Players-Lasky adjourned Monday until Friday morning, when it will be resumed in New Orleans.

Later this year Examiner E. C. Alford will return to Atlanta to hear witnesses for the defendants. The session just concluded was devoted to the interrogation of government witnesses by W. H. Fuller, counsel for the trade commission.

Dan Michalove, general district manager for Southern Enterprises, took the stand Monday to testify with reference to the disposition of several theaters operated by Southern Enterprises, which is an adjunct of Famous Players-Lasky. A direct question by Attorney Fuller asking if Southern Enterprises was not exercising monopoly in the south brought a negative answer from Mr. Michalove.

Friends of Park Bonds Movement Ready for Drive

With only a short time left before closing of the city registration books, Atlantans who wish to vote upon the issue of $2,000,000 bonds for establishment of a centrally located playground are urged to place their names upon the books without delay and avoid the rush that will come at the end of the period.

Friends of the Central park movement, who are joining forces for a rousing campaign, are planning to send a number of eloquent speakers into the field to induce the people of the city to give their support to this project. The fact that park space at the present time is extremely limited, and that it will become more and more inadequate as the population increases and business continues to encroach upon the residential section, is pointed to by friends of the project as being sufficient reason to stimulate the interest and sympathy of every public-spirited citizen.

"We have not enough parks for our children," said a prominent backer of the movement, Monday, "and if we do not do something at the present time our children's children are going to be almost without recreation grounds for the simple reason that Atlanta will soon outgrow her present park facilities. The thousands of children who will live in Atlanta 20 years hence will be forced to remain in their yards or play in the streets if we do not do our duty to them now while we have the opportunity."

County Police Open Drive on Roadhouses Violating Liquor Law

The privilege of operating "chicken houses" will be withdrawn from those who permit whisky to be sold disorderly parties, according to the announcement of Chief George Mathieson, of the county police force, Monday, in the campaign to suppress the night revellings in the roadhouses.

"Numerous complaints have been received by my office to the effect that whisky is being sold openly in some of the roadhouses, and that drunken midnight parties are being staged, and it is the intention of this department to keep close watch on all 'chicken houses,' arresting those who violate the law and taking steps to have their permits revoked," Chief Mathieson stated.

D. J. Scott, proprietor of a "chicken house" on the Adamsville road, near the Chattahoochee river, was taken in a raid late Sunday night upon his place, where police claim whisky was found. The officers also arrested A. A. Wooten, owner of a house in Mayson and Turner road, near the Hightower road. Whisky is also alleged to have been found in his place by the police.

AUTO ASSOCIATION WILL ENTERTAIN SOLONS TONIGHT

Governor Clifford Walker and members of both houses of the Georgia legislature will be guests of the Georgia State Automobile association at a dinner this evening at the Kimball house, at 7 o'clock.

Clark Howell will be principal speaker at the meeting at which the general theme will be "Good Roads Legislation in Georgia." Other speakers will be Governor Walker, Speaker Neill, of the house, President Carswell, of the senate, Mrs. J. E. Hayes, president of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs, M. C. Holley, president of the Georgia County Commissioners' association, and Frank T. Reynolds, secretary of the automobile association.

The dinner for the legislators has been made an annual event by the association, of which W. Tom Winn is president.

MOONSHINER'S DOG FLUSHES DISTILLERY

Continued from First Page.

try" in tow and proceeded on their way.

Arriving at their destination the man they sought was not at home, but his little dog, which had been left to stand guard over the premises, immediately made friendly overtures to the judge and led the way to a spring at the bottom of the hill back of the house.

After partaking of the cool spring water, Judge Tarver and his party were attracted by the capers of the dog, which evidenced great pleasure at the unexpected visit of the "court."

Judge Tarver followed the dog a short distance down the stream and found an 80-gallon still, "ready for business."

Flushes Another Still.

The little dog seemed frantic with joy, and led the way further down the stream. The judge, astounded by the rapidity with which things were being discovered, pressed onward and soon was rewarded with the finding of the third outfit, a still of 30 gallons capacity, which showed signs of recent use. Rests of copper, sugar, mash, barrels, kegs, bottles and jugs were in profusion, but very little "drinking likker" was found.

The little dog, which was dubbed "Izzy" Elnston, the famous New York hooch sleuth, seemed anxious to press further down the stream, but Judge Tarver "called the game on account of darkness," summoned the "fiers" around him, and while "Izzy" looked on, destroyed the stills.

The officers expressed the opinion that the owners and operators of the stills were in attendance at the funeral of Brackett, as nobody was seen at either home or near any of the still sites.

Judge Tarver states he is unable to fathom the motives prompting "Izzy" to reveal the secret places of his master, and expresses the hope that no harm will befall the innocent cause of the discoveries.

The two suffrage societies, the National Association, under the leadership of Susan B. Anthony, and the American Association, under the leadership of Lucy Stone, joined forces in 1880 under the name of the National American Woman's Suffrage association.

Approximately 8,500,000 women are included among the wage workers in the United States.

JOHNSON MUM ON PRESIDENCY

New York, July 23.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California, boomed by his friends for the republican presidential nomination in 1924, returned today from Europe on the Leviathan and tonight was preparing for delivery at a banquet to be given in his honor Wednesday night, a message to the American people on the nation's foreign relations.

The senator, who spent four and one-half months abroad, refused to discuss either domestic or foreign politics at the banquet. He said Wednesday night he would set forth the attitude "which in my humble opinion, America should adopt toward Europe."

Pleading ignorance of first hand information of late developments in the political situation at home, Senator Johnson insisted he could make no comment on them until he had a chance to catch up.

Mum on Presidency.

He categorically refused to say whether or not he would be a candidate for the republican nomination in 1924. He asserted that his address on Wednesday would not embody any statement on that subject.

"For four and one-half months," Senator Johnson said, "I wandered through Europe, generally close to the ground. I visited seven countries and talked with everyone I could, in high and low places. The visit was very interesting and informative."

"On Wednesday night I will tell about my impressions and my opinions, necessarily somewhat inchoate. Then I will deliver my message to the people when I can and how I can. But, of course, I cannot say as yet anything."

Immediately after his arrival with Mrs. Johnson at his hotel, the senator set to work preparing his address which will be delivered at a testimonial dinner to be given in his honor by a committee of his supporters headed by Rhinelanders Waldo and George Henry Payne. He planned to call on Mayor Hylan tomorrow afternoon.

Omens in Homecoming.

Johnson enthusiasts professed to see two good omens in the incidents of the home coming. One was the fact that in the little fleet of craft that went down the bay to meet him was the tug Monmouth, the other was the fact that while he didn't shy his hat into the ring a capricious wind shield it for him into the bay.

The senator only laughed however, when he was asked to comment on the omens and declared:

"I will not be interviewed on domestic politics at this time. Later I may have a little to say."

Sensor Johnson was taken aboard the national steamer Monmouth down the bay and landed at the battery. He was cheered there by a crowd of more than 2,000 persons as he entered an automobile to take him to the Waldorf.

To reporters who pressed him for some indication of how he feels about the "Johnson-for-President" movement he had ever the same answer, though he phrased it differently. He said he wasn't going to be interviewed on the subject today.

NEW OCCUPATIONAL TAX IS PROPOSED

Continued from First Page.

siderably reduced from that now proposed.

"The people of our state, as well as others, are now paying a federal income tax of $45,000,000 annually and they are beginning to feel the strain of such a burden. To impose another income tax for state purposes of equal percentage would cause considerable discontent among this class of taxpayers."

Would Reduce Income Tax.

"I am not advocating passage of this particular bill, but it seems to me that the state should realize funds from this source of commerce as well as other sources. The main point I'm raising is to provide a measure that would permit reduction in the percentage of income tax. The state should have an income tax by all means, but it should not be more than 2 per cent."

The bill further provides that the occupational tax be levied against those actually engaged in operation of severing such products from the soil or water, whether it be the owner of the soil or a lessee. The law would become operative on September 1 of this year and would require persons to whom it applied to file with the ordinary of the county in which they are engaged in business a statement showing the nature of the business, amount of products handled and value of such resources.

The committee recommended favorably a bill by Representative Elders, of Tattall, providing for assessment and collection of a tax on railway equipment companies.

Representative J. H. Ennis, chairman of the committee, announced that a special meeting of the committee would be held Wednesday afternoon to consider bills providing for a special tax on cigarettes and gasoline.

Apes call in a plaintive tone that can be heard nearly a mile, usually for about an hour in the morning and early evening.

HOTEL ASTOR

Times Square-New York

To stay at the Astor is to live in New York; to dine on the ASTOR ROOF is to find a cool, inviting and enjoyable refuge from the heat and clamor of the city streets.

F.A. MUSCHENHEIM

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Two Men Charged With Girl's Death Freed in Waycross

Waycross, Ga., July 23.—Marcus B. Norris and J. P. Barner, charged with the murder of Mrs. Nell Price, who wearing man's attire recently was found dead on the railroad tracks at the city limits, were freed at the conclusion of the commitment trial early this afternoon.

The three justices sitting on the case deliberated for 20 minutes, then rendered their decision. The evidence presented by the state was held insufficient to bring them to trial.

Among the witnesses who were examined by Solicitor General A. B. Spence of the Waycross circuit and Jap McDonald, attorney for the defense, were: Coroner John H. Quarterman, Sheriff H. J. Sweet and H. Lester Marvill, local undertaker who prepared the body for burial.

The state's contention in the case, according to Solicitor Spence, was that the girl was killed and the body placed on the track to conceal the crime; that the defendants were with her before and up to the time of the alleged murder, and that they later made their way to Douglas street to prevent their apprehension.

McDonald and Willingham, of Douglas, were attorneys for the defense. The state was represented by Solicitor A. B. Spence, L. A. Wilson and John W. Bennett, of Waycross, and Judge Marcus Land and Col. Jake Jetter, of Cordele.

CALHOUN BAPTIST REVIVAL IS CLOSED

Calhoun, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)

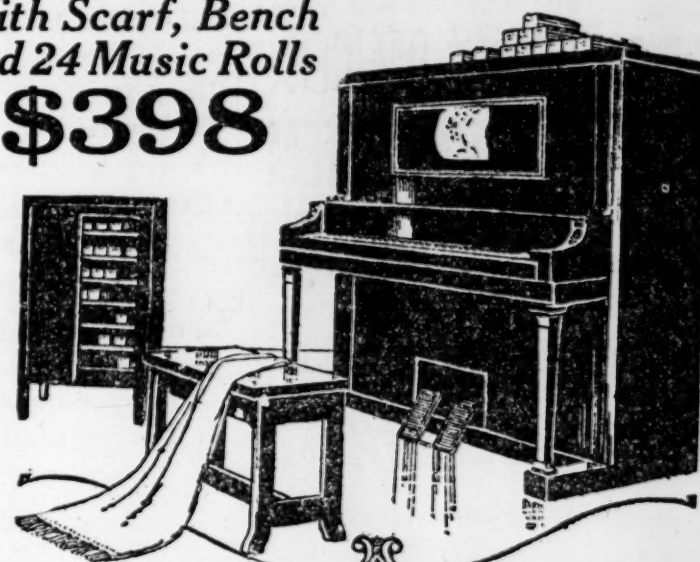

of Revival services, which started at the church, of Savannah, Ga.

Calhoun Baptist church on July 2 closed last night after 42 new members had been taken into the church. The services were held in the new church building.

Dr. L. R. Christie, pastor of the First Baptist church of Meridian, Miss., assisted the local pastor, Rev. Charles S. Henderson, in conducting the services. Singing was led by A. G. Park, of Atlanta. Dr. Christie formerly was pastor of the First Baptist church of Savannah, Ga.

ON SALE THIS WEEK The New Meldorf PLAYER PIANO

With Scarf, Bench and 24 Music Rolls $398

Improved 1923 Model

In our Exchange Piano Dept.

Certified, slightly used and used Player Pianos of the better kind at attractive prices.

Player Piano	..$195
Player Piano	..$295
Player Piano	..$365
Hardman Piano	..$365
Emerson Piano	..$335
Everett Piano	..$87

Brand New, Modern Quality Player Piano

Note its clear, beautiful tone—its easy action—the simple elegance of its beautifully finished case design—and remember that this New 88-Note Player Piano contains, among other desirable features, a six-point motor, full iron plate, spruce sounding board, hinges—finished in brass, loud and soft expression device—and, of the utmost importance, sound construction throughout, guaranteeing years of satisfactory service.

Only $10 Down delivers then take a long time to pay the balance on our Approved Credit Plan. Easy terms. Pay weekly or monthly.

Home of the Hardman, Hallet & Davis, Kurtzmann, and Many Others

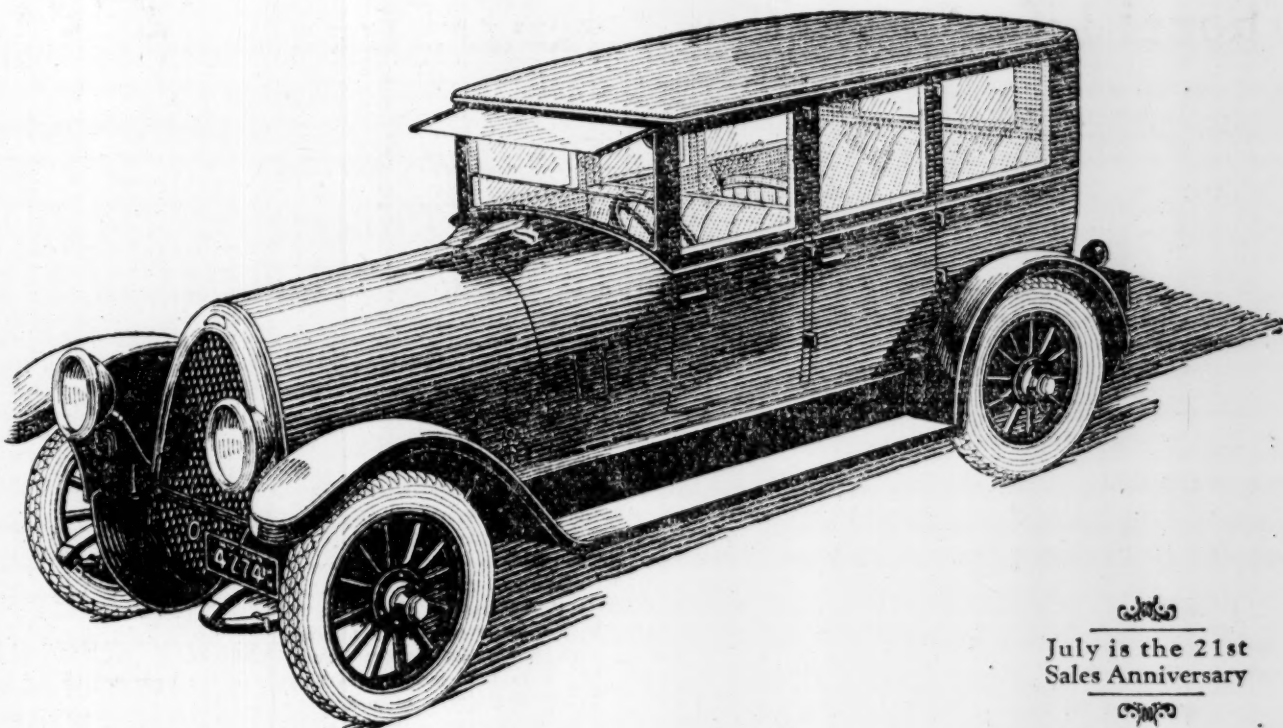

Carder Piano Co.

Telephone Walnut 1426

50 N. Pryor

At Corner of Edgewood Ave.

FRANKLIN

July is the 21st Sales Anniversary

The Sedan

$2850 f. o. b. Syracuse

Keeping pace with the demand for this new Sedan has been a difficult task ever since it was first shown—even with production more than doubled.

The Franklin Sedan gives people the finest ride they ever had. That, in short, is the story of its unequalled road ability and accounts for its great popularity. It is without a closed car rival in comfort, easy handling and making time.

Many Franklin owners are among those who have been unable to get this new car because of the over-demand. During July, Franklin's Twenty-first Sales Anniversary, we will make special effort to take care of their requirements.

Powerful New Six Motor Beautiful Body Design.

FRANKLIN MOTOR CAR CO.

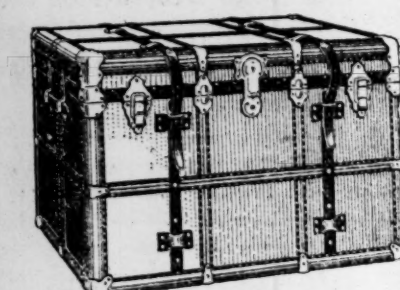

94-96 West Peachtree Street ATLANTA, GA.

Other Franklin dealers in this vicinity:

AUGUSTA—T. B. Corley
MACON—Chas. H. Yates Motor Co.
SAVANNAH—P. S. Bacon Motor Co.
ALEANY—Consolidated Motor Co., Inc.

COLUMBUS—McMurry Motor Co.
ROME—G. H. Hays
BIRMINGHAM—Scouten Motor Co., Inc.
MONTGOMERY—Satter-McKee Automobile Co.

VACATION TIME IS HERE

Dress Trunks

Fiber-Covered, cloth-lined, 32 to 38 inches. Was $18.50.. $12.95

Wardrobe Trunks, complete in every respect. $32.50

FULL-SIZED WARDROBE SLIGHTLY SHOP WORN GREATLY REDUCED

FOOTE'S TRUNK FACTORY

19 E. Alabama St.

Repairing Done on Short Notice

LADIES' BAGS OF STRIKING DESIGN

Durable, serviceable, and withal, very artistic and ornamental—the kind of bag you like to go visiting or shopping with. Our bags add charm to your costume.

ROUNTREE'S

186 Peachtree St. —2 Stores— 77 Whitehall
W. Z. TURNER, Mgr.
WE DO REPAIRING

HOTEL ST. JAMES

TIMES SQUARE, NEW YORK CITY

Just off Broadway at 100-113 West 45th St.

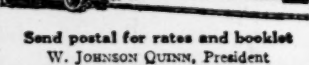

Much favored by women traveling without escort. "Sunshine in every room."

An Hotel of quiet dignity, having the atmosphere and appointments of a well conditioned home.

40 Theatres, all principal shops and churches, 3 to 5 minutes' walk.

2 minutes of all subways, "L" roads, surface cars, bus lines.

Within 3 minutes Grand Central, 5 minutes Pennsylvania Terminals.

Send postal for rates and booklet
W. JOHNSON QUINN, President

HUBIG'S FAMOUS HONEY-FRUIT PIES

THE MORE YOU EAT THE MORE YOU WANT

10¢ 20¢ 30¢ AT YOUR GROCERS

Lazy, Tired and Weak or Full of Malaria

The Body Depends Entirely on the Blood for Strength.

If the Blood is Weak, the Body is Weak. A Poison in the Blood such as Malaria can Weaken the Body to a dangerous degree and render the muscles infirm. Malarial Germs increase and spread rapidly in the Blood.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic

destroys Malarial Germs in the Blood and removes the Impurities. It Purifies and Enriches the Blood. It restores Energy and Vitality by creating new, healthy blood. When you feel its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect, see how it brings Color to the Cheeks and how it Improves the Appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value. Very Pleasant to Take. 60c.

Liver Pills

A package of Grove's Liver Pills is enclosed with every bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for those who wish to take a Laxative in connection with the Tonic.

NUMBER TABLETS ANNOUNCED SOON

Public announcement will be made in the next few days of the exact number of "Founders Roll" tablets in the great Memorial hall of the Stone Mountain Confederate memorial.

Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, is completing his design of the hall and his design of the bronze tablets to be placed in the hall in memory of Confederate soldiers in whose honor "Founders Roll" subscriptions are made.

Full details of the great hall, the arrangement and location of the wall panels for each of the southern States the dimensions and design of the bronze tablets, and other interesting data, will be made public as soon as the plans have been approved by the executive committee of the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association.

In the meantime, the "Founders Roll" is going forward steadily without any direct solicitation. Upwards of fifty "Founders Roll" subscriptions of $1,000 each have been made in Atlanta in fifty days, as well as a substantial number outside of Atlanta.

That "Founders Roll" places will be taken rapidly when the number allotted to each state is publicly announced, is the confident belief of the executive committee.

Work at Stone Mountain is going on rapidly. A platform 24 feet long has been erected on the precipice across the face of General Robert E. Lee, and a stairway has been built down to this platform from the large working platform higher on the cliff.

Men armed with compressed air drills are drilling several hundred holes each day and taking out granite around the head of General Lee, so as to bring out the projection for carving base relief. Many tons of granite must be removed around the head alone, which is 20 feet square. When this work is finished, Mr. Borglum will begin carving the features. He expects to have the head finished by the end of the summer.

Railway Must Agree To Viaduct Project, Reads Change in Bill

The Georgia Public Service commission and the N. C. & St. L. railroad company, lessee of the Western and Atlantic railway, would both have to agree to the Pryor-Wall-Central viaduct plans before they could go through, under provisions of an amendment approved by city council Monday to the original viaduct bill in the general assembly.

The bill would give the city authority to build the viaducts. The amendment would protect the lease of the N. C. & St. L. and the rights of other interests subject to control of the public service commission.

Mayor Sims announced Monday that he would call a meeting of affected property owners the latter part of this week to hear explanation of tentative plans drawn for the improvement.

The mayor stated that property owners generally have rallied to support of the viaduct program.

J. W. POLE GIVEN IMPORTANT POST IN WASHINGTON

J. W. Pole, for five years chief national bank examiner of the sixth district, has been called to Washington to an important post in the office of the comptroller of the currency.

Mr. Pole's successor has not been named. The sixth district embraces Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi and parts of Tennessee and Louisiana.

NEW CHURCH BUILDING

Druid Hills Contract Will Be Awarded August 1.

Contract for erection of the new Druid Hills Presbyterian church, on Ponce de Leon avenue, west of Highland avenue, will be awarded August 1. Plans for the structure have been filed with the Atlanta building exchange by Pringle and Smith, architects.

At present the church is located at Highland and Blue Ridge avenues. The new edifice will cost $100,000.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY GOVERNOR WALKER

Governor Clifford Walker Monday announced a number of appointments. As new members of the board of trustees of the state medical college, at Augusta, he named Dr. J. F. Lunford, Preston; Dr. E. S. Osborne, Savannah; Judge W. H. Barrett, Augusta, and Dr. Henry W. Shaw, Augusta.

F. C. Wright, of Gainesville, was named to be a member of the governor's staff.

Dr. A. F. White, of Florio, will be a member of the Georgia state board of Medical Examiners. Dr. W. E. Hall, of Columbus, and W. E. Brown, of Newnan, will be members of the state board of chiropractic examiners.

H. H. Dean, of Gainesville, is placed on the board of trustees of the Georgia State sanitarium, while W. C. Cureton, of Rising Fawn, becomes a member of the board of trustees from Dade county, to the seventh district A. & M. school.

MAYOR IS SEEKING TO SOLVE GARBAGE PROBLEM OF CITY

Mayor Walter A. Sims is looking for an oil, glycerine or fertilizer manufacturer who will make use of Atlanta's garbage and solve the city's vexing problem of sanitary inspection and collection in the same way that New York and other large cities have met this situation.

The mayor said Monday, in discussing his plan, that he believed at least $50,000 worth of substances, that could be put to use, now go to waste in Atlanta's garbage dumps every year.

BUSINESS BLOCK ON PIEDMONT AVE. BARRED BY MAYOR

The second vote Mayor Walter A. Sims has ever had an opportunity to cast as chairman of the city planning commission was to prevent building of a business block at the corner of Piedmont avenue opposite Avery drive. The commissioners had come to a deadlock on the proposal at their meeting Monday. The mayor decided to himself opposed to any incursion of business into the residential districts that is not absolutely necessary.

The commission accepted "with regret" the resignation of H. D. Cutter, Jr., as secretary and engineer of the commission. Mr. Cutter stated that he will also resign as secretary of the board of consulting engineers and of the board of appeals of the planning commission, in order to accept a position not connected with the city government.

The commission will hold public hearings at its meeting August 13 on permitting business buildings on Washington avenue near Georgia avenue and on the corner of Linden and Hunt.

Changes in Schools Force Reassignment Of Many Children

Elimination of double sessions at Grant Park school and the tearing down of the condemned and Monday morning, resulted in Cecil Wright, engineer for the N. C. & St. L. railroad, suffering serious burns and bruises. He was carried to Davis-Pike sanitarium.

ENGINEER IS BURNED Traffic Tied Up in Collision Monday Mornings.

A collision between a switch engine, pulling passenger coaches and a string of freight cars at the North avenue railroad crossing Monday morning, resulted in Cecil Wright, engineer for the N. C. & St. L. railroad, suffering serious burns and bruises. He was carried to Davis-Pike sanitarium.

Engineer Wright's engine was traveling east, toward the terminal station, pushing a passenger coach, when a string of cars pushed by another engine from the spur track which crosses Marietta street, crashed in the side of the switch engine.

Traffic on four lines of the track was tied up for several hours while the wrecker was engaged in clearing the debris.

HOKE SMITH RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP

Hoke Smith, former United States senator from Georgia, returned to Atlanta Sunday from Washington and New York where he has been engaged in legal business. He will remain in Atlanta during the summer and will open offices here with his son, Marion Smith. While in Atlanta, he will make his home with his son-in-law, Ronald Ransom.

G. H. ROBERTSON, ONCE ATLANTAN, PROMOTED

G. H. Robertson, formerly connected with the Lowry Bank and Trust company, of Atlanta, has been promoted to the position of cashier of the Canton Bank and Trust company, of Canton, Ohio. Mr. Robertson is 29 years of age and has many friends in Atlanta.

The Canton Bank and Trust company is said to be young institution with a capital of $250,000 and a surplus of $82,000.

COLUMBUS HARDWARE STORE IS BANKRUPT

Columbus, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the local division of the U. S. supreme court here Monday morning against the Bush Hardware company, one of the oldest, firms of its character in the city.

It was stated that the claims against the business would amount probably to $35,000. Soon after the filing of the petition Judge Frank D. Foley, referee, designated William D. Worsley as receiver and the store at 1013 Broad street, was closed.

Pavo Hit by Fire.

Moultrie, Ga., July 23.—Four brick buildings in the outskirts of Pavo, near here, were destroyed by fire yesterday, the loss resulting, it is estimated, at from $1,000 to $20,000. Two of the buildings were occupied by a garage and a general merchandise store.

Man Held in Default Of Bond on Charge Of Annoying Girl

Ben Simmons Cohen, of Rome, Ga., was arraigned before Judge T. C. Hathcock, of the municipal court Monday and placed under a $200 peace bond, upon the complaint of Miss Eudell Harden, of 38 Capitol avenue, who charges that Cohen has annoyed and persecuted her since their engagement several weeks ago. Cohen said that he had proposed to Miss Harden while she was sitting with the corpse of a dead friend.

Miss Harden charged that Cohen had failed to appear on two separate dates set for their marriage, and that he had employed various methods in worrying her. Cohen explained to Judge Hathcock that soon after their engagement he had "heard stories about Miss Harden" and that he had been trying to find out if they were true.

Cohen was unable to make the bond and was taken to Fulton tower. Miss Harden preferred another charge against him Monday at the trial, charging that he wore a Shriners' pin when he was not a member of the organization. This is a misdemeanor under the laws of Georgia. Judge Hathcock set the bond on this warrant at $200, which has not been made, and the hearing will take place within a few days.

Mail in your films

Wherever vacation takes you, our developing and printing service of the superior sort is still at your command.

And vacation pictures deserve the careful attention you have learned to expect from this store.

Eastman Kodak Co.
(Glenn Photo Stock Co.)
183 Peachtree St.

Housewares Specials For Economy Tuesday

Aluminumware Half!
These pieces are famous Quality brand aluminumware—guaranteed for twenty years.
—2-qt. pitchers.....95c
—3-pc. saucepan sets....$1
—6-cup percolators.....$1
—8-cup percolators.....$1.95
All other aluminumware offered at just half price!

Special Table of Bridge Prizes, $1.95

Assortment includes silver bon bon, silver baskets, silver covered relish dishes with handle, cut glass compotes, cut glass salad oil bottle, cut glass candlesticks, cut glass boxes, etc. Choice, $1.95.

Art Pottery Special, $1

Japanese art pottery hanging baskets, in various unique shapes and color combinations. Some with white china chains; others with Chinese rope. Specially priced $1.

Wall Vases Special, 95c

Art pottery wall vases and Japanese art pottery, in Jap boy, floral basket, fruit and other designs. Specially priced 95c.

Thin Blown Glass Tumblers, 50c Set

Set of six first quality thin blown glass tumblers with band border decorations.

Cutlery Has Been Reduced

High-grade cutlery with well-sharpened, highly-tempered, crucible steel blades. Natural and red birch handles securely fastened with two or three heavy brass rivets.
—Fruit and paring knives 25c
—Grape fruit knives.....75c
—Bread knives.....$1
—Carvers.....75c and $1
—Carving sets of three pieces.....$3 to $6.50
—2-pc. chafing dish sets $2.50

High's

Today at High's---a Day of Outstanding Bargains

Economy Tuesday

Here's the good news that will be read eagerly by thousands of Atlanta women who know the meaning of the word THRIFT! Scan this list of offerings—seasonable merchandise priced 'way, 'way below normal levels. Quantities, in many instances, are limited, so make it a point to shop early on Economy Tuesday!

35c Bath Towels for 25c

Fifty dozen of these — our regular 35c quality Turkish towels. Double thread. Size 18x36 inches. Have hemmed ends. Buy these in lots of six and a dozen at 25c each.

Children's $4.98 Sweaters, $2.49

Half price for fifty Bradley all-wool sweaters in sizes 24 to 32. In white, brown and orange, navy and henna, turquoise and white, tan and rose, African and emerald. Now reduced to $2.49.

69c Creepers, 39c

One hundred to clear. Cute little garments of cotton crepe in white, pink and blue. These come in all sizes. Another lot of 89c creepers is to be cleared away at 59c.

Girls' $3.98 Frocks for $1.00

Just fifty of these summer dresses of crisp organdy. They are soiled, so we have reduced them to $1. In maize, lavender and green. Will fit girls 7 to 14 years of age.

Girls' Wash Frocks for 79c

One hundred every-day dresses of gingham for girls of 2 to 6 years and 7 to 14 years. Fine for the opening days of school this fall. Original prices for these dresses were $1.25 and $1.49.

Boxed Stationery for 29c

Several hundred 50c to 75c boxes of stationery which we've reduced to 29c because the boxes are slightly soiled. Linen finish stock of good quality. In white and tints.

Boston Bags, $1.39

These are made of real leather—split cowhide. Have strong double handles. They are cloth lined and come in 13 and 15-inch sizes. Come in brown only.

Art Mirrors, 69c

Art panel mirrors size 8x27 inches. Have gilt wood frames and at the top a reproduction of a famous painting under glass. Have been reduced to 69c.

$1.50 Pearl Beads for 79c

Necklaces of graduated strands of lustrous pearl beads. These are indestructible pearls. Mounted with gold-filled spring ring clasp. 24-inch strands.

Novelty Trimmings for Half

Clearance of lace and organdy, ruffings and vestings. For wash dresses, etc. Formerly 59c to $4 yard. Now 30c to $2 yard.

$1.50 Longcloth for $1.00 Bolt

Full ten-yard bolts of medium weight, soft finish longcloth 30 inches wide. For nightgowns and underwear.

15c to 19c Laces 10c Yard

Imported Val. and linen lace edges and insertions. Mostly in matched sets. Widths of 1/2 to 2 inches. Reduced to 10c yard.

Clearing $8.40 to $11.40 Summer Dresses At $5.00

Lovely little frocks. Some hand embroidered, some hand-drawn and trimmed with real Irish crochet.

Aprons for 89c

Bungalow aprons of light and dark ground percale. Several different styles in the lot. Full run of regular sizes.

$1 Bloomers, 59c

Wash and ready crepe bloomers; also batiste bloomers and step-ins in white and colors; plain and figured. 59c.

Wash Goods Remnants At Half Price

Clearance of all short lengths of summer materials for dresses, house dresses, aprons, children's wear and men's and boys' shirts. All at half price!

—Percale —Voile —Swiss —Chambray
—Madras —Batiste —Suing —Ratine
—Gingham —Organdy —Crepe —Linene

$3.50 Spreads, $2.79

Full double bed size white cotton crochet spreads. These are closely woven, will give long service, and some in a number of attractive patterns.

$1.75 Sheets, $1.48

Plain hemmed full bleached muslin sheets size 81x99 inches. Thirty dozen of these sheets are to go Economy Tuesday at $1.48.

One Hundred Trimmed Summer Hats at $1.45

Choose from white summer hats, hats of Milan, felt hats, banded hats, Leghorns and black hats.

These are hats which were originally three and four times the Economy Tuesday Clearance price of $1.45.

49c Madras, 33c

Imported Scotch shirting madras in attractive striped effects for men's shirts and women's blouses and dresses.

15c Muslin, 10c

Fine spun, medium weight unbleached muslin. This is 36 inches in width. Save one-third on this at 10c the yard.

Remnants of Silk Formerly $1.95 to $3.50—1 to 4 1-2 Yds.

Clearance of short lengths of silks suitable for making skirts, overblouses, summer dresses and early fall dresses.

Plain Canton $1.00
Satin Canton
Flat Crepe
Taffeta
Crepe de Chine
Printed Crepe
Figured Foulard
Silk Radium
Sports Silks
Knit Silks

25c Percale, 15c

French finish percale, 36 inches wide. In neat figures and dots for men's shirts and women's house dresses and aprons. 15c the yard.

45c Cases, 28c

Bleached muslin pillow cases with plain hemmed ends. These are regulation 42x36-inch size. Forty dozen of these at 28c each.

Redfern Corsets Clear Less Than Half

Odds and ends, broken assortments and models that we will not re-order. When you find you a corset to fit you among these, you've found a real bargain.

At $1.39. Plain white and pink corsets with medium and low bust and medium and long skirts. Small sizes only. Back lace. These were originally $5.

At $2.99. Front and back lace Redfern corsets made of different materials. Sizes from 23 to 31. Original prices on these ranged from $6 on up to $10.

High's
Phone Main 1061
Whitehall and Hunter Streets

Men's $1.59 to $1.95 Shirts, $1.00

Woven striped madras, white and pongee oxford cloth, and checked and striped percale shirts. Size ranges are incomplete. To be cleared today at $1.

Infants' 49c Gauze Shirts, 23c

Five dozen button-front shirts of gauze with long sleeves. In sizes 6 months to 2 years. To clear at 23c.

Set 6 Tumblers For 50c

Thin blown tumblers of first quality lead blown glass. Band and line decorations.

15c Tea Toweling 8c Yard

Buy enough of this to make the dozen of two dozen tea towels that you require. A good grade of cotton toweling crash, 17 inches in width, with red border. 8c yard.

10c to 15c Laces 7c Yard

Three thousand yards of pretty Torchon lace in width of 2 to 4 inches. Regular 10c to 15c qualities for 7c yard.

Save to a Third on Eyelet All-overs

White and ecru eyelet embroidery all-overs for trimming dresses, 20-inch width, $1.50 quality, for $1 yard. 40-inch width, $2 quality, for $1.50 yard.

$1 Luncheon Sets for 49c

These are seconds of Sanitas oilcloth luncheon sets. Thirteen pieces to the set. Come in a variety of attractive designs. For porch or breakfast room use. 49c.

Linens, 1-3 Off

Odds and ends of linen towels, linen table cloths, linen napkins, linen scarfs, linen centerpieces and remnants of crash. Some of these are soiled. Marked down 1-3 for quick clearance.

Double-Panel Petticoats, 79c

Regular 98c. Double-panel petticoats of heavy white muslin with scalloped finish bottoms. In regular sizes. Reduced to 79c.

$1.95 White Blouses for 99c

Roll collar, square neck, short sleeve blouses of white voile trimmed with filet and Irish lace. These are soiled. To clear at 99c.

25c to 35c Linen 'Kerchiefs, 17c

These are pure linen handkerchiefs. Men's 'kerchiefs are plain with hemstitched borders. Women's and children's 'kerchiefs are plain or embroidered. 3 for 50c.

$2.98 Wool Sweaters for 99c

Close-out of four dozen all-wool slipover sweaters of summer weight. These come in black and desirable colors.

Art Pottery, Special, $1

Japanese art pottery hanging baskets in various shapes and colorings. Some suspended with white china chain; others with Chinese rope.

The Great New Discovery HEROIC GUM REMEDY

Strongly recommended and Endorsed by hundreds of Atlanta people for sore, bleeding, receding, abscessed gums, mouth ulcers, tooth ache, sore throat and tonsillitis. GUARANTEED TO BENEFIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

PYORRHEA,

At your druggist's or sent postpaid for $2.00.

HEROIC GUM REMEDY CO., Dept. B., Atlanta, Ga.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT for the Six Months Ending June 30, 1923, of the condition of the National Life Association OF DES MOINES

Organized under the laws of the State of Iowa, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia, in pursuance to the laws of said State.

Principal Office—114 Eleventh Street.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.

Amount of Capital Stock None

II. ASSETS.

Total assets of Company (Actual cash market value).....$2,308,014.49

III. LIABILITIES.

Total Liabilities.....$ 91,622.22

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1923.

Total Income.....$ 757,243.14

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1923.

Total Disbursements.....$ 636,970.45

Greatest Amount Insured in any one risk.....$ 25,000.00

Total Amount of Insurance outstanding.....76,307,500.00

A copy of the Act of Incorporation, duly certified, is in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF IOWA, COUNTY OF POLK.—Personally appeared before the undersigned, F. W. Stuart, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Assistant Secretary of National Life Association, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

F. W. STUART,
Assistant Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 15th day of July, 1923.

(Seal) OLE O. ROE, Notary Public.

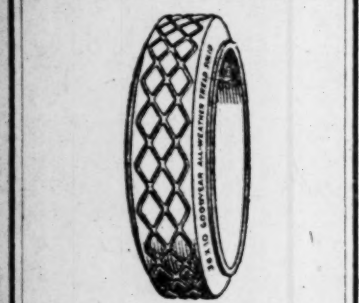

My Commission Expires July 4, 1924.

How to build up your Weight

To be under weight often proves loss of fighting power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but at the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1876, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

S.S.S. The World's Best Blood Medicine

WEAR them out!
Of course you can. But you will have to haul thousands of tons many thousands of miles, and have them re-grooved, before you can say your Goodyear All-Weather Tread Solid Truck Tires are done.

It is one of the complete lines of Goodyear All-Weather Tread Truck Tires we sell.

GOOD YEAR

Dobbs Tire Co.

120 W. Peachtree Street

GOOD YEAR

And catch the 34.5 and a good swim!

Our New Address

403 METROPOLITAN BLDG.

Walnut 5419

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S

BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

DRY LEGISLATION GETS UPPER HAND

Prohibition Wins Out in Nearly Every Case in Legislative Sessions in Fourteen States.

Chicago, July 23.—The question of enforcing prohibition laws came up recently in the legislatures of fourteen central states, and action was taken as follows:

Illinois—The 53rd general assembly enacted no "wet" legislation. Two "dry" bills, were passed. One of them provides for a fund for the enforcement of prohibition drawn from fines collected for violations of the law, prosecuted by the state's attorneys and the attorney general. This bill will relieve taxpayers of the burden of enforcement, and, it is believed, create a surplus.

The other bill makes the man who sells poison liquor which causes death punishable the same as if he committed murder.

Indiana—Four bills, two of which amended laws already in force, having to do with strengthening of the state prohibition law, were passed by the Indiana general assembly at its recent session and have been signed by Gov. Warren T. McCray.

The bills, briefly, provide that: Persons operating saloons while under the influence of liquor are guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding $500, to which shall be added jail sentences of from ten days to six months. Persons convicted a second time are guilty of felony, punishable with a jail sentence of from one to five years.

Guilt of Felony.
It is unlawful to have in possession or under control, any still for manufacturing intoxicating liquor in violation of the laws of the state. Persons caught doing are guilty of felony punishable by from one to five years imprisonment and a fine ranging from $100 to $1,000. Possession of any still or distilling apparatus not registered according to the provisions of the laws of the United States shall be prima facie evidence that such possession was for the purpose of manufacturing intoxicating liquor.

Anyone transporting liquor in any vehicle, or by water or aircraft, shall be guilty of a felony, punishable by from one to five years imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $1,000.

A fine ranging from $100 to $500 and 30 days to six months imprisonment is provided for the first conviction on charge of giving away, selling, bartering, etc., of intoxicating liquor. Second offense punishable by imprisonment of from one to two years and $200 to $1,000.

Iowa—Seven new prohibition laws were enacted by the Iowa legislature, which adjourned April 27. A summary of the laws follows:

Bills defining the sale of liquor that causes death as manslaughter; declaring illegal the possession of materials with which to make liquor; extending the prohibition laws to cover the sale of a motor car while intoxicated subject to a penalty of $1,000 fine or one year in prison; applying a special penalty for the misdemeanor of furnishing liquor to a minor; providing for the confiscation of vehicles used to transport liquor; and defining any person twice convicted of liquor crimes as a persistent violator.

Number Bills Fail.

Kansas—When the law makers of Kansas forty years ago enacted the first prohibition law they did not anticipate that the control of "moonshiners" would ever become a state problem. Now in later years, when the prohibition laws were tightened up by the "bone dry" and "snake bite" amendments, did they contemplate any "moonshine" menace. So it befell the 1923 Kansas legislature to place an "anti-moonshine" law on the statute books. This law provides a penalty of six months in jail and a fine up to $200 for any one found guilty of having a still in his possession.

Heretofore the possession of a still was not necessarily evidence of guilt; it was necessary to prove trafficking in liquor. It was necessary that the officers produce as evidence the liquor "sold, bartered or given away."

Two bills were introduced in the recent legislature to make the sale of liquor causing death first degree murder, but both bills were failed in committee.

The federal internal revenue collector's efforts to collect taxes from "moonshiners" whose stills may be seized, is made easier by a new law which makes the filing of such federal tax lien with the register deed of any county equivalent to a chattel mortgage against the property of the alleged illicit liquor maker.

Michigan—No prohibition bills were passed. Three were introduced with the sponsorship of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, suggesting that driving while intoxicated be made a felony, furnishing poisonous liquor punishable as manslaughter, and that proprietors of soft drink establishments and pool rooms be required to waive their rights under the search and seizure laws. All passed one branch, but died in committee in the other.

Drastic Laws.
Minnesota.—With the passage of amendments by the 1923 legislature to prohibition laws in effect, Minnesota stands out prominently in having the most drastic prohibition laws of any state in the Union.

Under the provisions of the new laws it is illegal to possess a formula, recipe or directions which are designed for use, or used for, or in connection with the manufacture of intoxicating liquor. The law explains that it is also illegal to possess any apparatus, implement, machine or device, jugs and other containers, used in the manufacture or storing of liquor.

It further provides that the destruction of any apparatus implement or device, or any container, is prima facie evidence that these were for use in connection with the manufacture or possession of liquor, and that any building wherein liquor is sold is subject to abatement proceedings and closing for any kind of use for one year.

Missouri—More stringent enforcement of prohibition laws was proposed in seven bills introduced in the recent session of the Missouri legislature. Two of the bills, which were passed, include a general regulatory prohibition act and an act providing that cities may pass ordinances to aid in the enforcement of prohibition.

More Power to Police.
The regulatory prohibition measure gives police officials and county officers more power to enforce the eighteenth amendment and imposes heavy fines and penalties for violations. It does not affect soft drink establishments or manufacturers of proprietary medicines operating under government permits.

The measure carries drastic provisions for the punishment of persons apprehended while in possession of liquor. It provides that anyone who is found guilty of a felony punishable by a sentence to the state penitentiary for anyone to manufacture, sell or give away "moonshine, bootleg, or corn whiskey," that causes death, is guilty of a felony. Physicians are not permitted, under the provisions of the bill, to change more than one prescription for the same person.

A measure introduced by Mrs. Melvina T. Smith, representative from St. Louis county, and enacted, permits residents of villages to enact ordinances to aid in the enforcement of the federal prohibition laws within their territory.

Nebraska—Nebraska enacted two laws on prohibition at the last session. One makes bootleggers or persons who give away liquor liable for damages growing out of its consumption, either to the person drinking it, or because of any act committed by him while under its influence. The other makes it prima facie evidence of guilt when any person has illicit liquor in his possession, dwelling, or when he breaks bottles or containers or throws them away or pours out the contents when about to be searched for violation of the prohibition law.

North Dakota—North Dakota's recent legislature wrote into the statutes virtually all the provisions of the federal prohibition laws, thus insuring state prosecution of liquor cases independently of federal action. It also adopted a clause permitting each physician in the state to have five gallons of liquor a year for prescription use.

Two Bills Passed.

Ohio—Two prohibition bills were passed by the Ohio legislature and signed by Governor Donahoe. One bill classifies as second degree murder the act of furnishing drink, dealing liquor, makes the manufacture of distilled liquor a felony, makes the soliciting of orders for liquor a felony, and the solicitor equally guilty with the person selling it.

The other enacts into the state laws the federal "bone dry" clause. This would permit Ohio courts to order locked up for a period of not more than one year premises declared to be nuisances because of the manufacture or sale thereof of intoxicating liquor.

Oklahoma—Prohibition legislation came up early in the ninth Oklahoma legislature. Two dry laws were enacted. The first declares that any person who sells, gives away or otherwise furnishes any liquor preparation or compound for beverage purposes, which causes death shall be guilty of murder. The second bars the manufacture of distilling apparatus except by persons properly licensed by federal authorities, bars the making of liquor or any mash, wort or wash; declares the discovery of liquor making apparatus or materials in any

FOUR ABOLITION BILLS RECEIVE APPROVAL

Four bills referred to the house committee on labor and labor statistics were approved by that body at its meeting Monday night at the Kimball House. One of these was a bill backed by local representatives of brotherhoods of railroad engineers, firemen and conductors and introduced by Representatives DeFord, of Clayton, which provides that all automobiles shall come to a full stop before crossing railroad tracks at grade crossings. The bill provides that railroads shall erect suitable warning signs, 100 feet on each side of all grade crossings, and that the stop is demanded by state law.

Other bills passed included one by Pickens, of Charleston, to make it illegal to employ children below the age of fourteen, sixteen when the work to be done is night work, in the state. An amendment to this bill was adopted providing that it does not apply to child performers on the stage.

Another bill, by Guess, of DeKalb, provides that the attorney general of the state shall be paid $1,500 per year for his services as a member of, and as legal adviser to, the industrial commission, which administers the state workmen's compensation law. It still another bill, also introduced by Representative Guess, this law is amended so as to remove certain ambiguities in its wording. It was pointed out by some members of the house that the bill provided for an extra salary for the attorney general that this money does not come from state funds, but is provided by a special tax levied against employers affected under the provisions of the bill.

A number of railroad men appeared before the committee in support of the bill to require autos to stop before crossing railroad grades.

Mrs. C. W. McDade, of 683 Edgewood avenue, Atlanta, wife of a railroad engineer, told of a number of cases where families she knew had lost loved ones through accidents at grade crossings, and concluded her remarks by saying that she was telling her own son, aged twenty-one, had died in an automobile accident which, she said, this law would have prevented.

Will Ask for Hearing.
New York, July 23.—William Morrell, a book salesman arrested in a hotel here last night, who admits that he escaped from a prison ward gang in Georgia, announced today that he would ask Governor Smith to investigate his case before honoring extradition papers.

Morrell added that he would kill himself rather than return to Georgia where he charges he was cruelly beaten by guards. Morrell, who will be heard in court tomorrow, was examined today by Dr. Perry M. Lichtenstein, physician in the tombs prison, where the salesman is held as a fugitive from justice. Dr. Lichtenstein said he did not have the authority to disclose the result of his examination.

The examination was made in the presence of Warden John J. Hanley and reporters. Morrell displayed marks on his legs which he asserted were made by shackles and the warden said the marks showed at the place where the shackles would have been attached.

Marks on His Back.
Marks on his back, Morrell said, were the welts left after officials in charge of the gang who he worked in Jasper county and Madison county, Georgia, were barely perceptible. Morrell claimed he was particularly roughly treated because he was from the north.

Morrell asserted he had pleaded guilty in Atlanta to forgerly under misapprehension and he had received an unusually severe sentence.

He told reporters that he had decided to escape when he could not stand rough treatment any longer. He said he cut the shackles from his legs with a hack saw and fled. Guards held him back at him as he ran, he added.

The prisoner claimed that several weeks ago he was arrested in Buffalo as a fugitive from justice but that he was released when an official in Georgia was unable to identify him.

Jurors Fail to Agree
In Trial of Priest
Charged With Murder

Montreal, July 23.—The jury which considered the case of Adolphe DeLorme, former priest, accused of murdering his half brother, Raoul, reported a disagreement this afternoon after deliberating since late Saturday.

The jurors were discharged by Chief Justice Francois Lemieux after they had returned for the third time with the report that they could not break their deadlock. DeLorme will stand trial again at the next session of the court of King's Bench.

CHARTER REQUESTED FOR STEAMBOAT LINE
Application for a charter was filed with the secretary of state Monday by the Hilda Navigation company to operate a line of steamships on the Atlantic Ocean and Océanides rivers and between Brunswick and Savannah.

The company is capitalized at $9,000. Its incorporators are M. M. Mobley, W. A. Roush, G. H. Hubbard, C. A. Thompson and G. M. Nottingham. Macdonald will be headquarters for the company.

JUST as the U. S. Mono-Twin swept everything before it in the heavy duty truck tire field—this new U. S. Cushion Tire with pneumatic mat-type tread is filling a long felt need for owners of trucks whose service requires non-pneumatic cushioning properties.

Whatever your operating conditions, the U. S. Truck Tire Service Dealer has a tire to fit your need. Call on him.

United States Truck Tires are Good Tires

Quick Tire Service, Inc. 44 W. Peachtree St.

Several other attacks on the dry law met defeat when they ran against the senate dry majority. With every wet measure killed beyond the possibility of revival, the Wisconsin liquor statute stands unassailable for another two years. This statute was enacted by the 1921 legislature, and is supported by the Anti-Saloon League.

Governor Orders Probe of Charges Made by Convict

Calling attention to two policies he announced in his inaugural address—"a square deal to every person of every class or condition," and "a defense of the state against all slander at home or abroad"—Governor Clifford Walker last night ordered the state prison commission to investigate charges of William Morrell, alias William McGarrity, now held in New York, that he had been treated brutally while confined in a Georgia chain gang.

The governor stated he did not believe the allegations of Morrell, but added he intended to investigate all such cases brought to his attention and correct what he termed "slurs and falsehoods" directed at the state. Morrell was said by state prison commission officials to have escaped three times from Georgia prison camps while serving a sentence of five to seven years as a result of his conviction of forgerly.

Suggests Prompt Probe.
"I suggest that you dispatch promptly the most trustworthy inspector available for this investigation," the governor's letter to the prison commission reads.

"Particularly do I wish the following information:

"Your record as to the punishment meted out to this convict. If this record is full and complete. If in fact the convict was unreasonably punished. In this event, I am sure you will be able to furnish me with the information in the absence of power is promptly discharged."

Morrell recently was apprehended in Buffalo, N. Y. Requisition papers were received last night and the governor said he would be returned to the state immediately.

A statement issued by the prison commission before the governor's letter, stated that if the proposed Elders amendment to give the common schools a flat fund of $450,000 were adopted the schools would lose in his opinion, at least $500,000. The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

SLIGHT DAMAGE DONE BY CALIFORNIA QUAKE

Los Angeles, July 23.—Reports gathered today from all sections of southern California showed that the earthquake at 11:28 last night was general but there was no serious damage outside of San Bernardino and nearby towns. The shock was felt from Santa Barbara to the Mexican border and east into Arizona. Railroad officials said they were satisfied the earthquake centered about San Bernardino.

A survey was made at San Bernardino of all buildings damaged and one three-story office building in the business district was pronounced unsafe for occupancy. Scores of other buildings were damaged slightly.

George R. Fisher who was injured when debris from the roof of the San Bernardino hall of records crashed into his house, was reported out of danger.

R. H. Lee, of Redlands, Cal., was taken to a hospital after an automobile in which he was riding went over an embankment. He said the shock tore the steering wheel from his hands. His injuries were slight.

Schools To Lose By Elders' Plan Says Culpepper

With the introduction of the general appropriations bill, carrying allowances totaling approximately $8,400,000 Monday in the Georgia house of representatives, J. W. Culpepper, chairman of the appropriations committee, stated that if the proposed Elders amendment to give the common schools a flat fund of $450,000 were adopted the schools would lose in his opinion, at least $500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure as submitted provides that the schools shall receive $1,250,000 and one-half of all state revenues above $8,500,000.

The appropriations measure

ONE DEAD, 2 HURT IN FIGHT OVER $4

Oak Park, Ga., July 23.—In a knife and gun battle staged on the main business street of Oak Park yesterday afternoon Tom Alford, 30, was cut and shot to death, Elden Griffin was seriously shot and wounded and Walton Griffin badly wounded by a blow over the head.

The row, according to officers, started at a church near Oak Park, where an all-day singing was in progress, over $4. Later it was renewed at the home of the Griffin boys and terminated in a fight later in Oak Park.

Walton Griffin, early in the battle, was knocked unconscious by a blow over the head with the butt end of a pistol. Elden Griffin turned on Alford with a knife and wound above one of his ears, also cutting him severely about the face and chest.

Both Elden Griffin and Alford exchanged shots and Griffin fell to the ground with a bullet wound above his heart. The shooting subsided for a few moments and doctors were summoned.

While waiting on the doctors to arrive the belligerents it is said, revive the fight. Elden Griffin, who was armed with a pistol, started firing at one another again. Alford fell mortally wounded and died before medical aid arrived.

The dead man is a brother of J. A. Alford, who several years ago shot and killed Deputy United States Marshal Ben Wilson at Soperton, Ga. He is unmarried. He was employed by the Georgia and Florida Railway company.

The two Griffin boys are world war veterans and reside at Oak Park.

MERAUX SURRENDERS IN LOUISIANA CASE

New Orleans, La., July 23.—J. Claude Meraux, St. Bernard parish attorney, former secretary of the Lake Borgne levee board, and former aviation officer and football star, who was indicted as an accessory after the fact in connection with the killing of Joseph L. Estopinal, and August Esteves, deputy sheriffs of St. Bernard parish, on April 17, last, near Violet, La., and who has been missing for several months, returned today and was released on $1,000 bond.

The charge against Meraux is that he assisted Gus Tones, alias "Dutch" Gardner, former prize fighter, to escape across the Mississippi river after the two deputies had been slain in an encounter with alleged run runners. Tones last Saturday began serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for the killing of Deputy Estopinal and also was given a sentence of from 15 to 20 years for the slaying of Deputy Esteves.

Nine men, alleged to have been members of a run running party, were indicted in connection with the killing of the two officers.

Meraux declined to state where he had been during the last three months.

Bill Proposing Pool Room Ban Tabled in House

Monday's session of the house resulted in tabling the bill of Representative Woodruff, of DeKalb, which would prohibit the operation of pool rooms in Georgia, in tabling a second resolution by McMichael, of Marion, aimed at the highway department, and decision of the house to begin double sessions today.

The Woodruff bill brought forth heated debate, in which the author was supported in his plea for passage by Representative Pope, of Walker; McMichael, of Schley, and others. Leaders of the fight to defeat the measure were Representatives Woodruff, of Fulton; Harrel, of Stewart, and Parker, of Ware. Mr. Parker urged the passage of his bill instead which provides for strict regulation of pool rooms.

Speaks for Masses. In the course of his speech Representative Wood declared that he spoke on behalf of the great masses of the common people. He criticized the bill in that it permitted the wealthy man to indulge in pool or billiard playing in his home or his club, but forbade the same pastime to the poor man.

who could not afford it elsewhere than in a commercial poolroom. Mr. Wood also declared it a question strictly up to the local authorities or the municipality and said he resented the attempt of one county to say what another county should do.

Mr. McMichael, of Schley, arose to ask question and Mr. Wood continued by asking Mr. McMichael if he did not possess a private poolroom in his own home, which he admitted.

An amendment was introduced by Representative Bozeman, of Worth, which would have made it unlawful to play checkers, basketball, baseball, tennis, horseshoes, mumblepeg or anything else except golf, and golf only during the hour between 3 and 4 p. m. on Sundays. The same amendment provided that any individual who desired to indulge in any other form of recreation, must file request for permission at least 10 days before indulging in said recreation with a committee composed of the "pastors, elders and laymen of the nearest church."

Substitute Bill. Representative New, of Laurens, introduced a substitute bill to prohibit all pool tables in the state, whether in commercial establishments, clubs or private homes.

The motion of Representative Harrel to table the bill, introduced by amendments, was carried by a vote of 74 to 72.

The resolution of Representative McMichael, of Marion, called on the highway department for full information as to salaries of employees and traveling expenses, automobile and other costs of the department. In opposing the motion, Representative Barrett, of Stephens, pointed out that this information could easily be secured by the committee provided for in the resolution of investigation and the resolution was tabled by a large majority.

A bill introduced by the Fulton delegation was unanimously passed by the house Monday morning. It provides authorization for the Fulton county board of commissioners to contract for adequate electric lights for public roads within the city limits.

Teaching Constitution. Miss Kempton, of Fulton, and Mrs. Napier, of Bibb, were joint authors of a bill that passed Monday by 118 yeas and 60 nays, to compel the teaching of the United States and Georgia constitutions in public schools and colleges, beginning September 1, 1923.

Mrs. Napier made her first speech in the house in support of the bill. She points out that the constitution of the United States is taught in the public schools of Japan as a model of the science of government.

Another bill passed by the house Monday was that of Representative Russey, of Crisp, which provides for the sale by hotels of baggage for guests who fail to pay their bills. The act provides for the advertisement of the sale and says that the surplus cash secured above the amount of the bill, if any, shall be turned over to the individual if he applies for it within twelve months. Otherwise it goes to the educational funds of the county.

With the adoption of the motion to adjourn, the house adjourned. The Rules committee, providing for double sessions beginning Tuesday, a determined drive to draft proper tax legislation for the state is foreseen. The general adoption of the bill, introduced by the chairman of the appropriation committee Monday, will come up for discussion Tuesday and some form of tax measure is expected out of committee before the end of the week. Then it is expected the session will devote their entire attention to the tax matter until they are finally disposed of, before taking up any of the other numerous bills awaiting their consideration.

FINANCE COMPANY OPENS IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—The announcement was made here today of the organization of the American Finance and Mortgage company, a financial institution, which will maintain its executive offices in Savannah. The capitalization is $1,000,000.

A group of prominent Savannah, Cleveland and New York business men are largely interested in the enterprise. The corporation will deal in mortgages, accounts receivable of reliable merchants, jobbers, manufacturers, automobile dealers and others. Its business will be largely of a semi-banking nature, except that the company will not accept deposits.

The field of operation will be in the south. The board of directors is composed of Howard E. Coffin, Alvin Macaulay, Harry M. Jewett, H. N. Torrey, P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, all of Detroit; Harrington E. Walker, Ontario, Canada; Ford Ballantyne, Detroit; Eugene W. Lewis, Detroit; Charles A. Bond, Cleveland; and Chicago; I. H. Fetter, Savannah; Lewis M. Smith, Savannah; Gordon Saussy, Savannah, and Clement G. Amory, New York city.

The officers of the corporation are Lewis H. Smith, president, Savannah; Howard E. Coffin, vice president, Detroit; I. H. Fetter, vice president, Savannah; H. B. Hodgkins, secretary-treasurer, Savannah; and C. S. Anderson, assistant secretary-treasurer, Detroit.

Plans, it is understood, are under way to double the capitalization.

MACON LAWYERS WILL STUDY BILLS BY BIBB SOLONS

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) A meeting of the Macon Bar association has been called for tomorrow morning to consider two bills recently introduced in the legislature by Bibb representatives, which affect the salaries of the judge and officers of the municipal court of Macon.

One bill, introduced by Representative Napier and Winslow, would increase the salary of Judge Hugh Chambers from $3,600 to $4,800 per annum. The other, introduced by Representative Fowler, would reduce the salary of the judge to $3,000 and also cause proportionate reductions for other officers of the court.

Representative Fowler says he will not support the Napier-Winslow bill without a referendum being attached to it.

GOVERNMENT MODIFIES CATTLE REGULATIONS

Washington, July 23.—Amendment of the federal cattle tuberculosis eradication regulations, effective today, as announced by the department of agriculture, provides for classification of counties, where a complete test of all cattle shows less than one-half of one per cent to be affected with tuberculosis as modified accredited areas.

These areas will be recognized and freed from certain prohibitions which are necessary in other territory. No cattle may be taken in unless from an accredited herd, or they have passed a satisfactory tuberculosis test, except for slaughter or for feeding, and grazing under certain conditions. Counties classified as modified-accredited areas included Bradley and Marshall in Tennessee.

ENCAMPMENT OPENED BY GEORGIA WOODMEN

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Activities at Camp W. P. Y. of the uniform rank encampment of the Woodmen of the World, at Central City park, got well under way today. Woodmen of the military branch of the order from all parts of Georgia, Tennessee and Florida are here for the six-day encampment.

Wednesday and Thursday will be special days at the convention when the Georgia Log Rolling association, the Woodmen's circle and the women's auxiliary of the order will meet here.

Adjutant General C. L. Mather, Omaha, Neb., ranking officer of the encampment, officially dedicated the camp today when special exercises were held on the parade ground. General Mather tendered the command of the camp to Colonel Herbert B. Kennedy and the Stars and Stripes were run up while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

Five additional companies of the uniform rank arrived today which will bring the camp roster to its full quota. Among the arrivals were Company A, sixty-sixth regiment, of Knoxville, Tenn., commanded by Lieutenant J. P. Baker; Company H, one hundred and fourth regiment, of Rome, Ga., commanded by Captain George C. Murdock; Company E, one hundred and forty-eighth regiment, of Hawkinsville, Ga., commanded by Captain I. D. Surratt; Company I, twenty-ninth regiment, of Bainbridge, Ga., commanded by Captain J. W. Matthews; Company L, eighty-second regiment, of Toconoco, Ga., commanded by Captain W. D. Beck, and Company K, thirty-third regiment, of Titusville, Fla., Major H. C. Carter, of Knoxville, Tenn., and other officers were among the arrivals.

The Georgia Log Rolling association will open Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the city hall auditorium. Hundreds of delegates from all parts of the state are expected.

A torchlight parade, in which the Georgia Log Rolling association, the Woodmen of the World and Woodmen of the World of Macon and other parts of the state will take part, will be held Wednesday night.

Ryan Refuses To Seek Divorce From His Wife

New York, July 23.—Allan A. Ryan testified today before the grand jury which indicted George Maxwell, president of the American Association of Authors, Composers and Publishers, charged with the murder of William J. Ryan, that he would not seek divorce from his wife despite evidence that her photographs and articles of clothing were found in Maxwell's apartment, it was brought out today when Maxwell's attorney attempted to have the indictments dismissed.

Mr. Ryan said that, being a Catholic, he could not get a divorce and would permit his wife to obtain one.

In asking today that the indictment be returned, District Attorney John E. McLean, said that the testimony given before the grand jury was illegal and incompetent, and that the defendant's constitutional rights had been violated in the seizure of personal articles from his home. He said Mr. Ryan testified he had obtained from Maxwell's housekeeper photographs in which Mrs. Ryan appeared, and a garment which Ryan and his wife's maid said was hers.

Judge McIntyre reserved decision.

BOBBY JONES IS GUEST OF KIWANIANS TODAY

Bobby Jones will be the special guest of the Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon at the chamber of commerce today. The program, which has been prepared by William Orr, will begin promptly at 12:30 o'clock.

Judge W. A. Covington, a member of the Georgia legislature and Kiwanian from Moultrie, will be the principal speaker; Preston Epps, baritone soloist, will sing several selections, and Bobby Jones will say a few words. Arthur Brooke is president of the club.

COLLEGE PARK CHURCH HOLDS PICNIC TODAY

The College Park Methodist Sunday school will hold its annual picnic at Grant park on Friday, July 27. Major Oscar Palmer is being assisted with preparations for the event by a committee consisting of T. M. Kemer, E. C. Smith and R. W. Fitzpatrick.

The Sunday school will assemble at the church at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning. Special cars will leave College Park for Grant park at 10 o'clock. Basket lunches will be spread. A program attractive to both children and grown-ups will be given.

Dr. Laniel Dr. Christian
NEW YORK
Painless Dentists
Over Liggitt's Drug Store
Cor. Peachtree and Marietta Sts.
At Five Points.
$5
Crowns and Bridges
$3, $4 and $5
TEETH EXTRACTED FREE

THE CAT'S
WHISKERS
FOR TO-NIGHT'S DANCE
Two Big Hits
Edison
Flashies from Broadway
FOX TROT
HAROLD ATLANTIC
ORCHESTRA

THE EDISON SHOP
182 Peachtree St.

Promise Speedy Trial for Alleged Pittman Slayers

Jackson, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) A speedy trial is assured the negroes charged with the murder of C. A. Pittman, prominent Butts county citizen, who was slain, robbed and his body thrown in the Ocmulgee river Friday night.

Superior court is now in session and Solicitor General E. M. Owen stated the grand jury would probably begin an investigation of the murder Tuesday. Judge W. E. H. Sealey, Jr., said the negroes would be tried at this term of court, if indicted.

An important development of the day was the arrest of Clem Lynch, a brother-in-law of Evans McDowell, confessed principal in the murder. Three packages of money were found in Lynch's house following his arrest. This consisted of a package of silver, a package of currency and a pocket book. The money was turned over to the solicitor general to be used as evidence. The amount of money was not made known. Lynch told officers the money was given him by Evans McDowell.

Pittman's pistol and keys have not been found. Lynch, who was arrested by Bob Oxford, Jasper county policeman, was taken to the Atlanta tower.

Officers who have been at work on the case now believe the robbery and murder was the work of one man, with possibly one or two accomplices.

The funeral of Mr. Pittman, victim of Friday night's brutal murder, was held Monday morning at 11 o'clock at Moore's chapel and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Officers are confident they have the guilty parties under arrest and are ready to present the evidence to the grand jury.

A speedy trial will satisfy the family of the slain man and all citizens of the county and no outbreak is anticipated when the case is called.

Head of Realtors To Discuss Proposed State Legislation

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) J. Clay Murphy, president of the Georgia Real Estate association, will go to Atlanta tomorrow morning to discuss with members of the legislature a number of bills now pending which are of interest to real estate men of the state.

The real estate license law will be one of the most important to come up at this session and Mr. Murphy says pressure will be brought to bear in its favor. The bill requires all dealers in real estate to be registered and have a license. The object of this, according to Mr. Murphy, is to eliminate the curb broker and land shark.

Another bill, the Farm Loan association bill, would create a commission of emigration, work in connection with the department of commerce and labor of the United States government.

Permanent headquarters between sections of sleeping cars are a new equipment of the Pullman cars.

In infected localities about one-third of the animal deaths from all causes is due to tuberculosis.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Preparatory to the beginning of work on improvements that are to be made on Broad street north of Twelfth street, engineers of the Columbus Electric and Power company were Monday making their preliminary surveys.

The two lines of wooden poles are to be eliminated from the street, as will the mass of overhead wires leading into the various places of business. It is understood that the necessary plant changes are being made for this improvement and that the company is practically ready to begin the work, as soon as the materials are on hand.

Following the improvements to be made by the Columbus Electric & Power company, it is understood that the city will cut down the center park about six feet on the west side to make the width of the driveway the same as that on the east side and to make more space for traffic and parking.

ANNISTON PLANS BIG RECEPTION FOR GEN. PERSHING

Anniston, Ala., July 23.—(Special.) Plans for the reception of General John J. Pershing when he comes to Anniston next Wednesday for an official inspection of Camp McClellan, were practically completed today by the joint committee from the chamber of commerce, junior chamber of commerce and other civic clubs.

In addition to the Camp McClellan committee of the chamber of commerce, designated last week as a reception committee to meet the general in Birmingham, others will be in the delegation to the Magic City, including Mayor J. L. Wike, Congressman Lamar Jeffers and ex-Governor Thomas E. Kilby, and instead of the 25 originally planned to meet the party in Atlanta, it is now predicted that 200 or more citizens of Anniston and other Calhoun county towns will be in the delegation, according to members of the committee arranging for the reception, of which Sam S. Powers, past president of the chamber of commerce, is chairman.

The army chief will be met at the station in Anniston by General Edwin B. Winans, camp commandant, and other officers, and taken at once to the local post, where the inspection will begin. No public reception will be accorded the general at the camp, it has been announced, but he will be the honored guest at a barbecue given at the Anniston Country club on Thursday by the American Legion and other organizations.

ENTIRE BOND ISSUE PROGRAM IS HELD UP

Continued from First Page.

his compromise measure again Wednesday, leaving the park bonds intact and scaling down the other three proposals to keep within the city's legal bonding limit.

Will Ask $500,000.

Alderman Jesse Armstrong, chairman of the police committee, will reintroduce the resolution asking a vote on $500,000 police station bonds, which failed to pass Monday.

The Greer and Vaughan compromise proposals and the Armstrong resolution were the only ones definitely scheduled Monday night for introduction at the special session Wednesday.

The aldermanic board which met after the session Monday, also adjourned to meet again Wednesday afternoon in order to act immediately on any solution of the bond tangle council may propose.

Mayor Refuses to Sign. Immediately following adjournment of the aldermanic board, Alderman Jesse Armstrong, who had interceded with the sanitary committee in behalf of the seven inspectors dropped from the sanitary department, Councilman J. A. Couch, of the fifth ward, member of the committee; Alderman Oscar Williamson, and others, went to the mayor to urge him to sign the resolution reinstating the seven sanitary inspectors. The mayor, however, refused to be rushed into re-consideration from his position in favor of the economy program of which the dropping of the inspectors was a part.

"Some of my best friends are among the men dropped," the mayor said, "But I have been informed by the chief of the department that he is getting efficient service with the reduced force and I can't sign this resolution unless I am convinced that the best interests of the city require the reinstatement of the men."

The mayor took the matter under consideration, stating that he would examine the complaint records since the inauguration of the new system and assure himself by investigation of the merits of the resolution to reinstate the seven men.

Councilman Pennington's resolution to reinstate the inspectors was passed with only Councilman Edgar Watkins, of the eighth ward; Councilman C. D. Knight, of the ninth ward, and Councilman L. J. Caselle, of the twelfth ward, opposing it. Several members of council did not vote. In the aldermanic board it was passed without opposition.

Commissioner Fullbright, in his talk, drew attention to a situation which, he said, has been overlooked in much of the tax discussion. He said that advocates of the North Carolina plan seemed to think that Georgia, with the same taxes as that state, would raise the same amount of revenue. Yet, he said, under the same federal laws, Georgia paid in 1922 federal taxes of only $20,000,000 compared to North Carolina's $120,000,000. The reason, he pointed out, if Georgia raised only one-sixth in state taxes of the amount North Carolina raised, she would be in worse condition than at present.

Mr. Fullbright stated his belief that the chief fault with Georgia's tax system is the failure to provide proper machinery for its collection. He said there were no means of enforcing the auto license tag law, the occupation taxes, inheritance taxes or others. He cited Alabama as spending $50,000 per year in the administration of her tax laws, Tennessee $80,000 and North Carolina $100,000. Until Georgia is willing to spend approximate sums for the collection of her taxes and the administration of her tax laws, she will continue to fall behind, he said.

COUNTY OFFICER BILL ADVERSED

Continued from First Page.

burden of tax payment from the poor man was mistaken.

Would Pass the Tax.

He pointed out that the railroads would simply pass the tax along by increasing both passenger and freight rates and that the man who eventually would pay this tax would be the man too poor to travel in his own automobile. He also pointed out that the law of the United States, by guaranteeing that the railroads shall earn 6 per cent on their investments, would back the roads in reimbursing themselves for this tax in this way.

Judge Powell affirmed his belief that invisible property ought to be made to pay its fair share of taxation, and said that the rates ought to be made equal to all.

He said he liked the general idea of the Lankford bill, but disapproved of the clause which exempted the man who had less than $250 in property from the charge. He said everybody ought to pay some taxes, no matter how little, and advocates an income tax imposed at the source, in order that non-resident property owners might not escape.

In conclusion Judge Powell urged that if the present legislature decided to classify property, that this be done in the form of constitutional amendment, and not be left to the mercy of future legislatures, which might or might not be so easily composed.

Dr. McPherson declared his belief that a general property tax is basically unjust. He said that all men should be taxed, not on the value of their property, but on its tax-paying ability.

Dr. McPherson illustrated by comparing the man who puts $1,000 in the savings bank at 4 per cent while his neighbor lends $1,000 on mortgage notes at 8 per cent. The amount of property owned by both is the same, he said, yet it is manifestly unfair to tax the man who receives $40 income at the same rate on his property as the man who receives $80.

One Perfect System. The income tax is the one perfect system, said Professor McPherson, if it is perfectly administered. There is a danger, however, he added, that it would, in some years, fail to raise sufficient revenue for the state's needs. Thereafter, he advocated a classified property tax as a secondary source of revenue to the income tax.

Professor McPherson pointed out that if taxes are levied on a reasonable basis public sentiment will call for their enforcement, but said that unreasonable taxation throws public sentiment on the side of the man who refuses to pay his taxes in full.

He pointed out that, under the present laws of Georgia, the man whose $1,000 is earning $40 in the savings bank, is legally called upon to pay $30 in taxes, three per cent on his property, in many counties. This, he showed, amounts to 75 per cent of the income from that property, which he branded as unreasonable and unenforceable.

He therefore advocated a classified ad valorem tax which would differentiate between the income producing capacity of different classes of property, as a reserve source of revenue to an income tax, which should be the basis or main source of the state's finances.

Thru Wrightsville Beach Sleepers

VIA SEABOARD
18 WALNUT STREET
Phone WALnut 5015-5019.

HAYNES value was never more appealing
CHARLES W. TWAY COMPANY
29 E. NORTH AVENUE

- each day
one round of pleasure
San Francisco

Often you have heard of the variety, charm and festivity of life in San Francisco, but to know its intense fascination you must see it. You must know its parks, theatres, hotels and cafes—its famous Chinese quarter, a fragment of old Peking in the center of a western metropolis—its lovely environment, with Mt. Tamalpais soaring above it on the northern peninsula, Muir Woods with its ancient family of big trees, Twin Peaks and the Bay cities, where each day is a renewal of festivity.

San Francisco Overland Limited
Leaves Chicago (C. & N. W. Station) at 8:10 p. m. daily. Solid Pullman train with observation, buffet-dining and sleeping cars.
Pacific Limited
Leaves Chicago (C. & N. W. Station) at 10:45 a. m. daily. Standard observation and tourist sleepers, chair cars, diner.
Pacific Coast Limited
Leaves St. Louis (Wabash Union Station) at 9:45 a. m. daily. Observation and standard sleepers, chair cars, diner.
Greatly Reduced Round Trip Summer-Tourist Fares
You can include Denver and Colorado Springs without additional cost. Salt Lake City and Yellowstone by short side trips.
For reservations, complete information and descriptive booklet, ask W. C. Elgin, General Agent, Union Pacific System, 1232 Healey Bldg., 49 N. Forsyth St., Phone WALnut 5163, Atlanta, Ga.

Union Pacific

Public Sale of Fine Farming Lands, Under Foreclosure Decree in U. S. District Court

2,550 Acres, in high state of cultivation; clay, pebbly soil—located in Irwin and Turner Counties, Georgia

Sale First Tuesday in August, 1923, Ocilla, Ga.

BASCOM S. DEEVER, Macon, Georgia,
JAMES W. TALBERT, Augusta, Georgia, Commissioners.

For full information or opportunity to inspect, address
R. D. SMITH, Tifton, Georgia

You big men are thrifty
Read this
Hart Schaffner & Marx and Daniel's special two-piece suit sale
$23

THIS sale of fine summer suits will put you money ahead in the game. You're getting better style—cooler comfort—bigger value than you ever got before. We have an extra number of stouts, short and long stouts, for you big fellows—come and save

Satisfaction or money back

Daniel Bros. Company

Nettleton Home of Hart Schaffner & Marx fine clothes shoes 45-47-49 Peachtree Stetson hats

THE CONSTITUTION

The Standard Southern Newspaper.
CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.

Published at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Main 5000.

ATLANTA, GA., JULY 24, 1923.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
By Carrier or Mail.
Daily and 1 Wk. 1 Mo. $3.00 6 Mos. $15.00 1 Yr. $28.00
Sunday . . . 10c 20c 40c 80c 1.60 3.20
By Mail Only.
Daily . . . 10c 20c 40c 80c 1.60 3.20
Single Copies—Daily, 5c. Sunday, 10c.

J. B. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 3 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotelling's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner); Schulte News Agency, at Bryant Park, and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of publication of all news dispatches credited to it, or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

THE WAY OF ESCAPE

It shall come to pass in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from the fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve.—Isaiah 14:3.

LEGISLATIVE DECEPTION.

The 1923 general assembly begins the second half of its 50-day session with an evident purpose to reconstruct the fiscal system of Georgia in a businesslike, constructive manner.

This is most commendable.

There are different schools of economic thought as to the best method for meeting the situation faced by the state, without immunities or penalties; but the fact, under the suggestion of the governor, that the leaders of both houses are willing to go into joint, almost unofficial, conference and call before them students of taxation from the citizenship of the state, shows a healthful, heartening disposition to arrive at some definite plan of action that shall as nearly as practicable meet the just requirements of state service, preserve the integrity and honor of the commonwealth, and stimulate, rather than embarrass, the welfare of the people.

The very fact that the assembly will act frankly and sincerely, in an earnest, consecrated effort to accomplish that which is best for Georgia without demagoguery, trickery or pernicious political design, will demand of all true Georgians a cooperation and a strengthening support in every possible way.

The crisis that is grinding at the very vitals of this state's honor to-day has been produced by an inexcusable policy on the part of past legislatures to play politics with appropriations and to evade the responsibility of providing the funds to meet them.

In order to incur favor of classes to be used in respective political campaigns, politicians in the past have fathered and fostered larger extreme appropriations knowing at the time that the state could not meet them.

This has been particularly true in the matter of pension legislation.

In this they not only took unfair advantage of the old soldiers whom they thus played as pawns upon the chess table, but did them serious injuries by raising false hopes, and by inciting in them a natural spirit of rebellion against a condition about which they had been designedly and most unfortunately misled.

It is gratifying to see that this legislature is not disposed to countenance such nefarious practices. They are wrong, in violation of every tenet of political honor, and actually in violation of the moral obligations of man to man.

The next twenty-five days can bring about a completed legislative program for tax revision that should be supported by the people. It is impossible to please every element in the matter of taxes. Those who complain most about taxes are usually those who pay less.

Of course it is basically right that taxes should be distributed as much as possible, so that no one element may be penalized and no one element given immunity.

Taxes buy service; and the service of government, in roads, schools, care of delinquents, protection of society and advancement of the best interests of all the people through constituted arms of helpfulness, are enjoyed by all classes of citizens alike.

It is thus that moneys paid into tax funds become investments, and every citizen who is able ought to feel the responsibility of citizenship to the end that he or she invests in the service received to the extent of personal ability to invest.

If the state, or any department, is administered in the interest of any class, or to the disadvantage of any class, there is something wrong, just as there would be something culpably wrong in a corporation administering its affairs in the interest of a favored group to the penalty of another group.

The honor of the state involves progressive attention to the common schools and institutions of the state; to the old soldiers who are dependent; to a reconstruction of rural life upon the new economic conditions forced by those factors that are today making rural life in many sections profitless and unattractive; to the delinquents; to improved penal conditions; to a completed highway system—to a progressiveness that Georgia must show in keeping step with this modern age.

That this legislature will meet this crisis with frankness and judgment, and not fall into the reprehensible error of continuing the practice of legislative deception, as have too many of the preceding assemblies, is most commendable. From the people of Georgia the assembly should have the heartiest cooperation in its effort to solve the state's most pressing problem.

AS TO WEATHER!

While the heat wave sweeps over the north and west, prostrating hundreds, killing a few and making everybody fight for air and personal comfort, the people of Atlanta are sleeping under light cover and forgetful that there is such a thing as humidity or heat prostration.

Take, for instance, the official record of maximum temperatures in all of the sections of the United States for last Saturday, a day during which there were crowded hospitals in New York, Chicago and all congested population centers of the north and central west.

Atlanta's maximum was only 88, while New York registered 94, Washington 96, Chicago 90, Salt Lake City 94, St. Louis 92 and even Raleigh, N. C., in the heart of the Virginia-Carolina Piedmont belt, registered 94.

Not only is the official temperature in Atlanta's favor, at all times and at all seasons, but humidity is unknown here, while this feature of the weather is most depressing in the north, and is really the direct responsibility for the prostrations and deaths from heat.

A temperature of 80 is more depressing—more oppressive and unbearable—in the north than a temperature of 90 in Atlanta.

This is due to the humidity that envelops the atmosphere like a smothering blanket, and saps vitality and challenges one's best strength.

When the northern winter is bleak and gray and forbidding the sun is shining brightly in Georgia, and the people are quickened by the crisp, healthful atmosphere and the inviting outdoors.

When the northern summer is oppressive from heat, and the air is stagnant from humidity, the people of Georgia are enjoying the invigorating atmosphere of a mountain resort.

And thus it is, season in and out, the Atlanta climate—the Georgia climate—is incomparable.

AN UNUSUAL TRIBUTE.

No greater tribute can be paid to a man's business ability and personal honor than, when the tide of adversity sweeps upon his business, his creditors choose him to carry on, and to work out the salvation of their own financial interests through a personal management of the affairs that have become temporarily embarrassed.

Such a tribute has been paid to Frank Barrett, president of Barrett & Co., cotton brokers of Augusta, by the leading creditors of that concern, including bankers and business men of some of the larger financial centers of America. It is a rarely given, under similar circumstances, and is an evidence of the high business and personal confidence reposed in him by those who have had the largest experience with him through years of larger business transactions and activities.

When Barrett & Co. announced inability to meet obligations of the company, amounting to around a million dollars, there was deep regret all over the south, for the firm has for many years been of outstanding prominence, with a record unblemished by questionable or unethical business dealings. Telegrams of confidence began to pour in upon the brilliant young financier who has headed the business for the past few years, and among them were those to whom the largest obligations were due. That the assets were found to exceed the liabilities was a later announcement of great gratification to all.

Whatever may have been the direct cause of the temporary embarrassment, an eventuality not uncommon in great businesses during changing and reconstructing economic conditions, it is not possible to keep down such a man as Frank Barrett, in whom his creditors have shown an unusual confidence. He will come again—perhaps bigger and more serviceable than ever.

In the meantime his multitude of friends throughout the country will welcome the announcement that the business will go along as an operating institution with Frank Barrett placed in charge of its affairs by the very interests whose financial claims are to be orderly worked out under his direction.

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. MINYER

New York, July 23.—Shed a tear for the down-trodden author. There are times when he must hide behind anonymity to stir his reading public. One of the recent best sellers was "West of the Water Tower" written anonymously.

I am told reliably it was written by Homer Crox. Critics have said the author was Sinclair Lewis, Zane Grey or Rupert Hughes. Now, at first suspected the versatile Crox. It was his first successful novel, and he had to sit back and see praise go to others.

His publishers had a reason for hiding the identity of the novel. Mr. Crox, who is a fellow Missourian and a friend of mine, has been a successful writer of short stories and a globe trotter of note. But two of his novels were not good sellers.

Those things hurt the author's future sales, no matter how excellent his wares. So Mr. Crox was induced to bring out his latest novel anonymously. It was no doubt a blow, but in the final analysis he will be better off. His next book, blurbled as the author of "West of the Water Tower," will have a following for it. There is precedent for the publisher's method. Basil King, at the start of his literary career, wrote six novels that had very small sales. Then he wrote "Inner Shrine," which was brought out anonymously. It had a remarkable sale.

Mr. King, hiding his light under a bushel, had created a big reading public for himself, and his ensuing novel, as the author of "Inner Shrine," proved he had established himself in a big way.

One of the best known magazine writers began his career anonymously. He wrote for the cheaper magazines under several pseudonyms. He feared a past which had included a prison sentence for some minor offense. Two years ago he decided to use his real name, but he so established himself under fictitious names that he had to go back to the pseudonyms.

Someone has said there are New Yorkers and Americans. I imagine it was a group of New Yorkers who sat at a table near me in a cafe where the dinner was cheap and almost tasteless. They were knocking the food at the Ritz, Biltmore and St. Regis.

In the late evening, a group of the seedy old gay dogs trickle out to Fifth avenue. There is a Chesterfieldian grandeur about them despite their shabby clothes. They go in for "ladies, Ascot ties and brown vests, and their white mustaches have an ochre tinge from incessant cigarette smoking. They are dandies on the toboggan, but they still hope for one more flirtatious conquest.

Upper Broadway reveals more walking sticks than Fifth avenue. Especially is this true of Sunday morning, when upper Broadway goes on dress parade. It is a neighborhood where people know each other. Consequently they like to appear at their best.

The nobbiest came I ever saw, by the way, is carried by a literary agent. It has a gold fob and is made of black ebony, and is topped with a coral lion's head. As might be expected, he is the sort of a fellow who greets you with, "Hello, old thing!"

The old Aquarius is to bow to the modern trend. Constructed as Castle Garden, the scene of many famous events, including the presentation of Jenny Lind by P. T. Barnum, the old landmark is to have an additional story and to be otherwise dolled up.

On a Chinese morning newspaper printed in Chinatown it is the custom for printers to have hot pots of food at their cases. When copy is slack, they play fan-tan. The Chinese printer is almost always a highly educated person. To make a mistake in their work is a serious matter with him. He broods over it for days. (Copyright, 1923, by The Constitution.)

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

BALANCED DIET.

A lot of correspondents have asked me to tell them what a balanced diet is; I have consistently evaded the question because I wasn't sure whether it means a diet having just enough calories, vitamins and such things in it to meet the individual's needs, and no more, or a diet ideally selected to furnish the correct proportions of fat, protein and carbohydrate. Furthermore, I have never been able to learn just what the ideal proportions of these three food elements may be, and I suspect that even the nutrition experts have only vague notions about it. I derived from common sense. But maybe a vague or general notion is all anybody needs.

Suppose a financial youngster who has been spoiled by bad home training and unintelligent school regimen wishes to make a meal wholly of meat or wholly of potatoes or wholly of bread and cake. That is an unbalanced diet. But if the youngster will take some potato along with his meat and maybe a little gravy or some butter on the potato, that is a perfectly balanced diet. That is the queer youngster has a great appetite for crackers or bread crust or cookies or cake and desires to make a meal of them. That is an unbalanced diet. But give the youngster a pint of pure fresh milk, and maybe some butter on the bread, crackers or cake, and tell assured he is receiving a well balanced diet on which he will thrive.

A satisfactory diet for young persons from every point of view, includes the simple and inexpensive foods: corn, rice and whole wheat bread, whole cereals, not less than one pint of fresh milk daily per person, things made from milk, such as cottage cheese, custards, home-made ice cream, soups, fish, the cheaper cuts of meat, potatoes, onions, carrots, greens and fruits in season. Every child must have at least a pint of milk a day to grow normally and thrive and have sound teeth and plenty of energy. Many frail or undernourished children do better if they take a quart of milk every day.

Fresh milk, at 10 cents a pint, is more economical food for children than any kind of meat at 30 cents a pound or bread at 10 cents a loaf.

A few children dislike the taste of milk. For them the milk may be flavored with various things, a little burnt sugar or plain sugar or molasses or cocoa, or the milk may be served in various soups or with cereals. Fresh milk, if used more liberally in the ordinary diet of American families, would solve several nutritional problems, for it furnishes not only the vitamins which are lacking in some household diets, but an adequate calcium or lime ration, an important factor in our nutrition. More milk, less meat, is the cue.

Have the milkman leave never less than one pint of fresh milk per person every day, and your family will probably not suffer from an unbalanced diet.

IRENE CASTLE, DANCER, IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Paris, July 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Irene Castle Treman, the dancer, was granted a divorce here today from her husband, Captain Robert E. Treman.

Just In Passing

BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY

Believe me, Dalton, Georgia, has just opened one of the finest and most comfortable hotels for a city of its size in the country.

Of course I am not referring to any tourist hotel built at some point to which people are especially attracted by health waters, or mountain playgrounds; but as a commercial proposition the new Hotel Dalton is a wonder.

I don't know of any town or city in Georgia that needed a hotel more; but that was the fault of a fire that swept a mighty good hotel away some years ago.

And the citizens, instead of rushing headlong into the rebuilding of a hotel of small-town proportions, simply awaited their time, organized slowly but deliberately with the idea that when a new hotel was built it should be in keeping with the modern day, and to suffice the needs of a city of 20,000 to 25,000 people, the objective that Dalton expects to reach some of these not distant days, and perhaps before so very, very long.

Things point that way now, all right.

The Dalton Civitan club—one of the liveliest "do things" organizations in that beautiful little mountain city—quickened the pace for the new hotel, and when the plans began to unfold the heart of the patriotic Dalton citizens began to swell with joy, for it was seen that this new hotel was to be something extraordinary—a beautiful, fine fireproof structure with great sun parlors, plenty of lobby space, elevators, and so on and so on, including one of the most attractive screened roof gardens in the state.

And then the forty-five or fifty beautiful, airy guest rooms, most of them with private baths, the telephone connections, the handsome, comfortable furnishings! And then the sample rooms, and above all—for that is closest the average man's heart—the large, spacious dining room—

"Will this hotel pay here?" I inquired.

"You bet it will. All but eight of the rooms were 'sold' the night before the official opening," said James J. Copeland, one of the bankers of the city, who is as proud of it as a boy of his first riding device.

The new Hotel Dalton was opened with a dinner dance Friday evening, and there were probably 350 guests present, including a number of visitors from Atlanta, Chattanooga, Rome and other points.

"Cousin Fred" Houser was there to help enliven things, and he did it in his usual inimitable manner. There was an orchestra from Chattanooga, and—

Well, it was a swell society event, opening with prayer and winding up with jazz, but no occasion in Georgia was ever more dignified or more successfully consummated.

With the good lady and boy I drove over in my car in the afternoon, over excellent roads, and was quite in the midst of the gayety almost before I knew it, and as quickly as possible was also in the midst of one of the best prepared, best served dinners I ever ate.

After a ninety-mile ride in four hours across valleys and arid mountains, I like the folks.

I was doubly appreciative of their chef and all his assistants.

Lots of people wanted to know why Ivan Allen and Frank Reynolds, two of Atlanta's outstanding Daltons, whom the home people are as proud of as they are of their new hotel, couldn't get up, but it later developed that both of them sent greetings and flowers—flowers for the quick and not for the dead.

I ran into an old college and class mate, Dr. Crupud, who bled and almost died with me at Wake Forest some years ago. His head is still black although he was not the youngest member of the class. I held that distinction. I think he uses peroxide, or whatever it is.

Anyway God doesn't make them any better than Josiah Crupud and I was glad to see him.

He is a preacher, all right, but he smokes a big black cigar and is a real he-man after all. Most preachers are. The better you know 'em the better you like 'em.

Crupud prayed; Fred Houser led in singing "America" and some other patriotic songs, and then everybody who could fell into the menu that was fat and juicy from soup to nuts.

The great crowd of dinner eaters and dinner dancers had to be fed in relays, of course. I edged in at the beginning. Ninety miles across good mountain roads, in a stiff breeze of crisp mountain air! You bet I did!

Colonel W. C. Martin was there in an evening suit, all set for going, for this hotel has been a hobby of his. My, but if every town had a Colonel Martin! They would all soon be cities; with all the earmarks of cities of enterprise and progress, too.

And then, in addition to Colonel Martin and Colonel Tyler and my good friend Copeland, who is another from the same pattern, there were Mayor McAfee, and Dr. Sims, and President Smith, of the Hotel company, and scores of other upstanding Dalton citizens acting as hosts. Among them was Editor Shope, of the Dalton Citizen—as fearless a writer as there is in Georgia, and as good a business man and citizen.

If you want to know the earmarks of a progressive town look up the hotel and the newspaper. If there is a good, clean, well-kept modern hotel, and a live, progressive, fearless, properly-sustained newspaper just put that town down as in the A-1 class.

Dalton has both of these, for in addition to this beautiful new hotel she has in the Dalton Citizen one of the liveliest, smartest, best weekly newspapers in Georgia. I say that unreservedly.

And more, Dalton has fine schools, churches, banks, stores, factories, streets—and as live and progressive a citizenry as there is in Georgia, and that is saying much. And what a beautiful and historic country about it! It will be a tourist center yet!

The new Hotel Dalton is under the management of Charles S. Lyons and his two partners, his wife and daughter. They showed their ability as hotel managers by the smooth, excellent manner in which the official opening was handled.

Anyway—I am going to Dalton again. I like the folks.

Where Our Angels Fear To Tread

NEW HOUSE BILLS

The following new bills and resolutions were introduced in the house Monday:

By Mr. Fortson, of Calhoun county, by request—To amend the act to create and incorporate the city of Edison in lieu of the town of Edison, and for other purposes. Corporations.

392. By Mr. Smith, of Bryan county—To amend the law as to the payment of poll tax by female voters, requiring them to pay all back poll taxes when they register for voting. Ways and means.

393. By Mr. Collins, of Cherokee county—To increase the salary of the solicitor general of the Blue Ridge circuit from $3,500 to $3,550. General judiciary No. 2.

394. By Mr. Copeland, of Lowndes county, and others—To require all fraternal and secret organizations to record the names of their members for the purpose of the wearing of masks in public. General judiciary No. 2.

395. By Mr. Perryman, of Talbot county—To amend the charter of the town of Talbotton, to provide for vesting the title to school property in the board of education. Education.

396. By Mr. Bird, of Taliaferro—To create the city of Bird of Crawfordsville. Special judiciary.

397. By the Chatham delegation—To amend the several acts creating and relating to the board of education of the county of Chatham and the city of Savannah. Education.

House bill No. 398. By Mr. Harrell, of Stewart county—To amend a section in the code referring to actions to forbid the wearing of masks in public. General judiciary No. 1.

House resolution No. 80. By Mr. Lyons, of Butts, and others—To quarantine the state of Georgia against green peas and green beans from Florida. General agriculture. No. 2.

House resolution No. 91. By Mr. Elders, of Tattnall county—To appoint three members of the senate and five members of the house to investigate the state department of agriculture and recommend any changes seen fit. General agriculture No. 1.

House resolution No. 92. By Mr. Moore, of Appling, by request—To call for the entire record in the contest of St. Mary's and Woodbine over the county site of Camden county. County and county matters.

House resolution No. 93. By Mr. Simpson, or Lee county—To prohibit the teaching of atheism, agnosticism, or to teach as true Darwinism, or any other hypothesis that links man in blood relationship to any other form of life in any public school in Georgia. Education.

House resolution No. 94. By Mr. Head, of Cobb county—To invite the National Council of the Junior Order of American Mechanics to locate a $500,000 orphan's home in Georgia. State of the Republic.

BILLS IN SENATE

The following new bills were introduced in the senate Monday:

By Senator Cason—To amend the act creating a board of education for Chatham county and the city of Savannah.

By Senator Lattimer—To repeal an act fixing the salary of the solicitor general of the Blue Ridge circuit.

By Senator Ficklen—To amend an act relating to insurance, indemnity and bonding.

By Senator Pace—To authorize the state of Georgia to co-operate with other cotton producing states in the work of the board of cotton states commissioners.

By Senator Pace—To amend an act regulating loan agencies lending money in sums of $300 or less.

By Senator Pace (by request)—To make minor amendments in the child labor law.

By Senator Pace—An act for posting of funds by a defendant in a mortgage foreclosure.

Questions and Answers

Any reader may obtain a personal reply to any answerable question of fact or information by writing to Washington Bureau, Atlanta Constitution, 1322 New York avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., enclosing 2 cents in stamps. Legal, medical and marital advice can not be given, nor can extended research be undertaken. Unsigned letters can not be answered. All letters are confidential.

Q—What is the cause of the dangerous undercurrent often found in the surf at the seashore?

A—When the waves are high they roll and break on the shore, the water running back down the sloping shore. This gives the effect of the surface current running shorewards and the current below running seawards.

Q—What place name in the United States has the fewest letters?

A—The village of T. B. in Maryland.

Q—Is tobacco grown in Denmark?

A—It was during the war, and until quite recently, when planting was abandoned with the return of pre-war prices of American grown tobacco.

Q—Is the Bowers, New York, still a tough neighborhood? And is there still a tenebrous in New York?

A—No, the Bowers has been for several years now, and particularly since the passing of the Volstead act, a self-respecting and well-policed business street. The tenebrous practically disappeared a dozen years ago.

Q—Can you give me a brief account of the end of the pirate Francis O'Loonnois who was killed in Central America by the Indians, known then as the Indians of Darien, feared for their cruelty?

A—This was told by one of his companions who was an eye witness: "Hither O'Loonnois came (brought by the evil conscience that cried for punishment) thinking to act his cruelties, but the Indians within a few days after his arrival took him prisoner and tore him in pieces alive, throwing his body limb by limb, into the fire, and his ashes into the air, that no trace or memory might remain."

Q—In a conflict between a state constitution and that of the United States which wins?

A—The federal constitution.

Q—What is the height of the highest mountain in the Adirondacks?

A—Mount Marcy, approximately 5,000 feet.

Q—What is a sinking fund?

A—A fund instituted and invested in such a manner that its gradual accumulations will enable it to meet and wipe out a debt at maturity.

Q—Where and what is Hell Gate?

A—A narrow dangerous channel leading from the East river, New York city, between Long Island and Manhattan, into Long Island Sound.

Q—Why is not helium used more for the inflation of balloons and dirigibles?

A—Because of its extreme scarcity.

Q—Is there a church anywhere dedicated to St. Vitus?

A—Yes; there is a Cathedral of St. Vitus at Prague, Czechoslovakia.

Q—What do the letters, R. S. S. mean?

A—Regine Societatis Socius, Fellow of the Royal Society.

Q—Is it necessary for a man to pay the care fee of a lady whom he meets by accident and with whom he gets on the street car?

A—No; it is entirely unnecessary for him to pay her fare, although if he wishes to do so, it is perfectly permissible for him to offer.

Railway Transportation In the United States

By Albert B. Cummins, United States Senator from Iowa, and Chairman of the Committee on Interstate Commerce of the Senate.

Article II. Modern Transportation Facilities. Main and Terminal Trackage, Locomotives, Cars—Cost of Maintenance and Operation—New Capital Required for Additions, Betterments and Extensions.

Taking up the subject proposed in the closing paragraph of my first article I submit a general outline of our railway property used in the service of transportation. We have 265,000 miles of main track, with about half as much more side, passing, and terminal tracks, and the necessary road bed, bridges, rights of way, lands, lots, stations, houses, warehouses, elevators, machine shops, office buildings, and an almost infinite variety of other equipment. We have 70,000 locomotive engines; we have 58,000 cars of various kinds used in passenger service; we have 2,600,000 freight cars. This is not intended as an accurate description of all the physical property used in transportation, but it will give a general idea of the magnitude of the plant which has been created to render the service which the railways are now supplying and yet as great as this property is in extent, it is unable to meet the requirements of our enormous commerce.

Of the total main track mileage, i. e., 265,000 miles, 235,000 miles are owned or operated by companies known in the terminology of the interstate commerce commission, as class I railways (including the larger switching and terminal companies). Class I railways are railways which have annual operating revenues amounting to $1,000,000 or more. In what I am about to say I am excluding the 30,000 miles owned or operated by more than 800 less important companies, because the information I am submitting is not at hand for those companies.

Cost of Maintenance.
The cost of maintenance and operating the class I railways, including the large switching and terminal companies, was, for the year 1921, $1,400,800,907, and for the year 1922, $4,453,629,216. I think it will be conceded by every student of the subject, that the amounts expended for maintenance and operation during these years were less than it should have been, and less than it would have been if the railways had been in financial position to have expended more of the maintenance and operating facilities, so acute in 1921 and 1922 would not have been so marked if the railways had been able to keep their engines in proper repair.

However that may be, it is safe to assume that the class I railways will require each year of the immediate future at least $4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 to maintain and operate with fair efficiency their existing facilities, with no additions, no betterments, and no extensions, the cost of which, if made, would be properly chargeable to capital account. I believe my readers will all agree with me that it is simply unenlightened that there shall be no enlargement of our transportation facilities. No man who has ever given serious consideration to this subject and who feels that the country will continue to grow will doubt the statement that if we are to have an adequate system of railway transportation there must be expended each year, and for years to come, for additions, betterments and extensions, from $750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. It is not to be expected that any considerable part of this additional investment can be raised through rates charged for transportation service. Substantially all of it ought to come, and must come from investors who are willing to embark new capital in the enterprise of transportation.

At this point we reach the first great question in the governmental control of railways, and must decide whether these systems of transportation shall remain in private ownership under public regulation or whether they shall pass into government ownership and operation. If we adopt the latter policy the money necessary for the enlargement of transportation facilities will, of course, be raised by general taxation or the issuance of government securities, assuming that a sufficient amount for maintenance and operation and a fair return upon the present value of the properties is secured through charges for the service rendered. I am opposed to the government ownership of railways for reasons which I will give later on and which far outweigh in my opinion all the advantages which the advocates of this plan urge upon the country. I am now considering what must take place if we are successfully to maintain the policy of private ownership under public control and regulation.

Sufficient Revenues.
It is obvious that the revenues of the railway systems taken as a whole must be sufficient to operate and maintain the properties and to yield a fair return upon their value as ascertained according to the law of the land. This is true not only because the constitution commands it as against any act of the government in fixing rates but also because the roads could not be operated as a whole, and any general length of time under any condition. Moreover, the annual additions to capital of not less than $750,000,000, in the average, would not be contributed under any other condition. Those who have the money must invest it voluntarily and it needs no long argument to prove that unless these persons believe that their money will be secure and that they will receive fair interest or dividends upon it they will not invest it in either railway stocks or bonds. Let it be clearly understood that I am not at this moment discussing the value of existing railway property nor the methods of ascertaining that value. This question is an exceedingly important one and I recognize not only its importance but its difficulties; I will give full attention to it in another article. I am intent now upon impressing upon the minds of the people of the country just one vital truth, namely, that our present policy of private ownership cannot endure unless the railways, taken as a whole, can earn the cost of their maintenance and operation, with a fair return upon the value of the property which renders the service; if they do not, the necessary extensions, additions and betterments, cannot be made and many of the facilities will fall into inefficiency if not total disuse.

In my next article I will take up the experience of the railways since government operation ceased, on March 1, 1920.

(Copyrighted, 1923, The Atlanta Constitution.)

BUSSEY DEFENDS TAX REFORM BILL

Declaring that solution of the tax problem of Georgia will be found in the system that will give most protection to farmers and agricultural interests, A. S. Bussey, of Crisp, author of the Bussey bill for the reform of the present system now pending in the legislature, Monday morning defended his measure.

The plan provides for the release of the five-mill tax on county districts and in time the counties release corporation taxes and permit the state to collect them.

The exchange proposed by Mr. Bussey would result, he claims, in a net decrease of the state revenue of $1,000,000, and would result in a saving to the counties of $1,500,000, according to the author.

A minimum revenue of $300,000 to the state is claimed by the defender of the bill. Through this system the saving being the money now paid in commissions to collectors of revenue.

Make Up Deficit.
This exchange would leave the state a deficit of about $1,000,000, which the bill proposes could be balanced by placing an increased tax on insurance premiums and interest, an intangible property tax and a limited income tax.

The plan provides for "exemption from taxation—in the interest of primary justice—the following classes of property: agricultural paper, where the rate of interest or discount charged is not over 5-12 per cent per annum; farm tractors from license tag fees; inheritances under $15,000 in value; bonds and notes of co-operative associations of farmers and laborers; incomes of single persons over $1,000, plus allowances for their dependents; incomes of married persons not over $2,000, plus allowances for their dependents, and all other incomes derived from agricultural pursuits."

"The bill," said the author, "amply provides for the state's needs, demands an economical administration, and provides for judicial protection against unreasonable and confiscatory taxes."

Would Exempt Farmer.
The bill, if passed as presented, would exempt the farmer from all taxes on his personal, real or income taxes. The farmer would be the favored class, and banks and other institutions which have not paid taxes on what the author of the bill terms "intangible property" would be taxed on the property at the new rate, which would be fixed by the passage of the bill.

"I have heretofore the income received by persons not owning real or personal property visible and tangible on which taxes could be laid; banks, which have paid practically no taxes except in behalf of their shareholders, and owners of intangible and invisible property generally."

"I move the collection of some taxes from hitherto favored classes and if there is to be a favored class, let it be from those who have hitherto borne the heat and burden of the day."

"The farmer has been the one to carry the burden of taxation. The farmer faces bankruptcy while the public service corporation revenues mount higher and higher and their dividends are made secure by legislation."

In the opinion of Mr. Bussey, rapid and complete reform of the system of taxes in Georgia is the only way to save the agricultural interests of the state.

WHITE AND AVEN OFFICIALLY ENTER RACE FOR COUNCIL

J. A. White, candidate for council from the fourth ward in opposition to Councilman Claude L. Ashley, and Dr. C. C. Aven, candidate for council from the third ward in opposition to Councilman Fred Woodall, both paid their $50 entrance fees to the treasurer of the city democratic executive committee Monday. Both incumbents had paid their fees Saturday, as had Alderman Oscar Williamson, of the ninth ward.

Mr. White is president of the fourth ward improvement club, a member of the city planning commission.

MRS. VIOLA TAYLOR WHO TRIED TO END LIFE RECOVERING

Mrs. Viola Taylor, pretty 39-year-old divorcee, who Monday morning attempted to end her own life by taking a quantity of iodine, was out of danger at night, according to doctors at Grady.

Mrs. Taylor gave as her reason for taking the poison that she became despondent following a quarrel with a girl companion who worked at the same place where she is employed at 50 1-2 West Mitchell street. She drank the iodine while on duty in the factory.

$90,000 APPROPRIATED BY COUNCIL FOR BOOKS

Council agreed Monday to appropriate $90,000 in its January 1924 appropriation sheet for the purchase of school text books for the third and fourth grades, granting the request made upon it by the board of education.

H. Reid Hunter, assistant superintendent of schools, stated Monday night that arrangements had been made for the purchase of the books in anticipation of receiving the money in January.

"The school department was confident that council's interest in the schools would prompt it to assist us and we are grateful for its action," Mr. Hunter said.

Jewelers' Convention Ends Today; Business Sessions Fill Program

Addresses of welcome and the reading of a proposed constitutional amendment, which will be presented to the Georgia legislature for action, were features of the annual convention of the Georgia Retail Jewelers' association, held in Atlanta Monday.

The bill provides for the release of the five-mill tax on county districts and in time the counties release corporation taxes and permit the state to collect them.

The exchange proposed by Mr. Bussey would result, he claims, in a net decrease of the state revenue of $1,000,000, and would result in a saving to the counties of $1,500,000, according to the author.

A minimum revenue of $300,000 to the state is claimed by the defender of the bill. Through this system the saving being the money now paid in commissions to collectors of revenue.

Make Up Deficit.
This exchange would leave the state a deficit of about $1,000,000, which the bill proposes could be balanced by placing an increased tax on insurance premiums and interest, an intangible property tax and a limited income tax.

The plan provides for "exemption from taxation—in the interest of primary justice—the following classes of property: agricultural paper, where the rate of interest or discount charged is not over 5-12 per cent per annum; farm tractors from license tag fees; inheritances under $15,000 in value; bonds and notes of co-operative associations of farmers and laborers; incomes of single persons over $1,000, plus allowances for their dependents; incomes of married persons not over $2,000, plus allowances for their dependents, and all other incomes derived from agricultural pursuits."

"The bill," said the author, "amply provides for the state's needs, demands an economical administration, and provides for judicial protection against unreasonable and confiscatory taxes."

Would Exempt Farmer.
The bill, if passed as presented, would exempt the farmer from all taxes on his personal, real or income taxes. The farmer would be the favored class, and banks and other institutions which have not paid taxes on what the author of the bill terms "intangible property" would be taxed on the property at the new rate, which would be fixed by the passage of the bill.

"I have heretofore the income received by persons not owning real or personal property visible and tangible on which taxes could be laid; banks, which have paid practically no taxes except in behalf of their shareholders, and owners of intangible and invisible property generally."

"I move the collection of some taxes from hitherto favored classes and if there is to be a favored class, let it be from those who have hitherto borne the heat and burden of the day."

"The farmer has been the one to carry the burden of taxation. The farmer faces bankruptcy while the public service corporation revenues mount higher and higher and their dividends are made secure by legislation."

In the opinion of Mr. Bussey, rapid and complete reform of the system of taxes in Georgia is the only way to save the agricultural interests of the state.

WHITE AND AVEN OFFICIALLY ENTER RACE FOR COUNCIL

J. A. White, candidate for council from the fourth ward in opposition to Councilman Claude L. Ashley, and Dr. C. C. Aven, candidate for council from the third ward in opposition to Councilman Fred Woodall, both paid their $50 entrance fees to the treasurer of the city democratic executive committee Monday. Both incumbents had paid their fees Saturday, as had Alderman Oscar Williamson, of the ninth ward.

Mr. White is president of the fourth ward improvement club, a member of the city planning commission.

MRS. VIOLA TAYLOR WHO TRIED TO END LIFE RECOVERING

Mrs. Viola Taylor, pretty 39-year-old divorcee, who Monday morning attempted to end her own life by taking a quantity of iodine, was out of danger at night, according to doctors at Grady.

Mrs. Taylor gave as her reason for taking the poison that she became despondent following a quarrel with a girl companion who worked at the same place where she is employed at 50 1-2 West Mitchell street. She drank the iodine while on duty in the factory.

Sport Goods Store Ambition of Heir To Two Fortunes

BY LOY WARWICK
Milo H. Potucek, of Atlanta, sails for his native country, Czechoslovakia, some time in September. He will come back a rich man for only recently he was notified that he has inherited two fortunes.

Several weeks ago Potucek's father died, leaving his entire estate. Just the other day Potucek's aunt, Kuzena Palous, of Prague, died, and he is sole heir.

The combined estates of his late parent and aunt will fulfill Milo Potucek's ambition in life. This ambition is to own a large sporting goods emporium. He does not aspire to Fifth avenue mansions, and country homes. He always has wanted to own this store. With the inheritance of the two fortunes his dreams may materialize.

Outdoors Man.
His love for sports and outdoors probably explains his desire. He is of muscular build. His skin is tanned. The sun has shone on few countries that haven't at one time been host to Potucek. During the eleven years since Milo Potucek gazed first on the Statue of Liberty he has bumped up against experience enough to fill several books.

His first job was ditch digging. He has served in the United States army and is an expert aviator and gunner. He went with the expedition to the Mexican border. Approximately three years of his naturalized American citizenship were spent in the equal zone. He has been chased by a rhinoceros, an octopus, mountain lion and several Spanish senoritas. He's bagged at some time or another all of these—except the Spanish senoritas.

Unable to speak the English language—much less American slang—when he first arrived, he resorted to correcting New York's landscape. Potucek says he has sunk many a shovel in Gotham's soil. But after mastering a few of our most difficult words he began working at better things. At the outbreak of the Mexican war he joined the army. His industry and natural inclination toward soldiering won him his recognition and advancement.

Came to Atlanta.
Discharged with honor from the army he came to Atlanta. He is now connected with Walthour's Sporting Goods company, 21 North Broad street. Potucek declares Atlanta to be the best town in the United States and the United States the best country in the world.

He is of the belief that if his money is left in the bank for a while it will increase as his native country gets back to normality. Money value in Czechoslovakia, however, has not depreciated as greatly as has been the case in other European countries.

Few people know that Czechoslovakia's declaration of independence was signed in Philadelphia. The papers were drawn and signed on the same table that supported America's declaration of independence.

Czechoslovakian currency is printed in Philadelphia, also, Potucek says. This probably explains its superiority to paper money of other countries, for, according to Potucek, frequently paper money of other European countries is made of inferior materials.

The people, he says, play about the same sports as those of America. Baseball is an exception. Literally with tears in his eyes he expressed the fear that golf had invaded his country by now.

Senator Harris Speaks.

Thomson, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Senator William J. Harris spoke here this afternoon to a representative crowd of McDuffie county people. The senator spoke of impending legislation in congress and some of the things already accomplished for good of the people. After his speech the gathering gave him a unanimous vote of confidence.

MEASURE INTRODUCED TO FORM BOXING BOARD

A boxing commission for the city of Atlanta is contemplated in an ordinance introduced in council Monday by Councilman Harry York. The ordinance provides for a commission of five, including one member of council, appointed by the mayor, to have complete control over all boxing contests held in the city limits. The measure was referred to the ordinance committee of council which will report on it at the regular session of council August 6.

Councilman York's ordinance providing for a continuing billing system in the waterworks department was also referred to the ordinance committee.

LIONEL WEST, HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE, APPEARED HERE

Lionel West, who, telegraphed from Minneapolis, Minn., said:

"I've gained fifteen pounds by taking Tanlac and actually feel stronger than ever before," said Mrs. Sarah F. Haralson, residing at the corner of Woodlawn and Stephens streets, Windsor, Ga.

"For nearly a year I suffered from nervous indigestion, had very little appetite, and my food seemed to do me harm instead of good. I was so weak I couldn't do my housework and my head, shoulders and knees hurt so bad I couldn't get any restful sleep. My very first bottle of Tanlac made me feel much better, and now I haven't an ailment of any kind. My appetite is fine, I never have a pain of any kind and get plenty of sound sleep. I'll always be grateful to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 31 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.—(adv.)

is being held there for Denver, Colo., authorities, charged with the theft of an automobile and alleged fraudulent sale of stock, is well known in Atlanta theatrical circles. He appeared here during the early part of 1922 in connection with a selling campaign of stock in the "Lionel West Photoplays, Inc.," which he said was a $500,000 concern formed to produce "photography with a soul."

West appeared at a local theater in connection with the film "Dangerous Love," in which he played one of the leading parts. He was a tackle on the Mercer football team in 1910. In 1913 he came to Georgia Tech and played on the scrub football team.

Strong Evidence Given By Mrs. S. F. Haralson

"I've gained fifteen pounds by taking Tanlac and actually feel stronger than ever before," said Mrs. Sarah F. Haralson, residing at the corner of Woodlawn and Stephens streets, Windsor, Ga.

"For nearly a year I suffered from nervous indigestion, had very little appetite, and my food seemed to do me harm instead of good. I was so weak I couldn't do my housework and my head, shoulders and knees hurt so bad I couldn't get any restful sleep. My very first bottle of Tanlac made me feel much better, and now I haven't an ailment of any kind. My appetite is fine, I never have a pain of any kind and get plenty of sound sleep. I'll always be grateful to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 31 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.—(adv.)

The South Demanded Clothes of Lorraine

SEERSUCKER and SUITINGS

—And Lorraine fabrics are the answer to those who demand Style, Comfort and Economy.

Lorraine seersucker is a light, but durable cotton fabric with the characteristic crinkle woven in.

Lorraine suitings are flat woven, smoothly finished.

Both are tailored in many smart stripe and check patterns and colors; take a sharp crease and are easily laundered.

Many men who can afford to pay more than the price of Lorraine suits wear them for comfort and many men buy three suits at a time.

Ask your clothier—and be sure to look for our registered label sewn in each garment.

Lorraine Manufacturing Company
New York Office, 66-72 Leonard St.

Look for this Label
GENUINE Lorraine
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

We carry in stock a complete assortment of genuine Lorraine Washable Seersucker Suits, stripes and checks. A style, color and size to suit any man. Priced $12.50.

Pollock & Berg

THE STORE WITH A CONSCIENCE
Ray's Good Shoes to Match 79-81 Peachtree St.

Protect your health Drink Budweiser

A liquid food drink
A quality leader Thoroughly aged not green or unfinished

ANHEUSER-BUSCH
ST. LOUIS

Bradley & Woertz
Wholesale Distributor
Atlanta, Ga.

DANGER SIGNALS OF INDIGESTION

The Disease That Strikes Like Lightning.

Beware of indigestion—the disease that kills more people and kills them quicker than any other. This warning, by physicians, is particularly applicable this season of the year, when your system "lets down" in tone and vigor with the first approach of warm weather.

What are the warnings that nature gives you of the approach of indigestion? The medical books tell us: 1. Gas, which means that your food is fermenting instead of digesting. 2. A feeling of fullness or oppression in the region of your brain after eating. This means that the gas has ballooned your stomach and is pressing up against your heart and lungs. 3. A dull, lazy feeling, which means that you are not getting nourishment from what you are eating. 4. Restlessness, unrefreshing sleep, which means that the poisons of indigestion are disturbing your brain and nerves. 5. Sometimes, pain and fluttering around the heart, though this symptom may come later.

Don't take chances with indigestion—you are too apt to lose. If you have had any of the symptoms mentioned above, get your digestive organs to work at once with Dan-Nax, the greatest prescription that was ever written for a digestive tonic. Dan-Nax immediately aids and assists every one of your digestive organs, including the stomach, liver and bowels. Dan-Nax makes your digestion "perfect and complete." You feel its helpful effect from the very first dose. Get a bottle of Dan-Nax today at any drug store. Dan-Nax is so much superior to any other remedy for indigestion that the manufacturers have instructed every druggist to refund the price if you do not get relief, so it costs you nothing if you are not delighted with results. Delay might be dangerous, get Dan-Nax today.—(adv.)

BOILS

There's quick, positive relief in CARBOIL

GENEROUS 50¢ BOX
At all Druggists—Money Back Guarantee

FIRST IN THE SUMMER vacation kit, put a bottle of CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY invaluable for sudden and severe pains in stomach and bowels. It is the best remedy for colic, diarrhea, and all other ailments of the digestive system. When needed—worth 50 times the cost for single dose.

LOST SLEEP FROM PIMPLES

On Face, Neck and Arms. Cuticura Healed.

"My trouble began with small pimples that broke out on my face, neck and arms. They were hard and red and the skin was sore and inflamed. Later the pimples came to a head and formed small, sore eruptions that itched so badly that I could hardly keep from scratching. The eruptions caused disfigurement and I lost a great deal of sleep."

"The trouble lasted five or six months before I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I purchased more and now I am healed." (Signed) Miss Charlie Harper, Brownsboro, Texas.

Use Cuticura for every-day toilet purposes. Bathe with Soap, soothe with Ointment, dust with Talcum. Sample Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 2, Malden, Mass." Sold everywhere. Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum. Cuticura Soapshaves without lather.

Jewelry to Harmonize With Your Dress

In eastern fashion centers more attention is being paid to jewelry as an essential part of dress.

Now you can see many handsome costumes with jewelry to match. This season with so many shades of brown you will find that a great deal of thought has been given to the selection of jewelry to match. With brown it is quite correct to wear a Topaz stone necklace with earrings to match. In some instances bar pins and rings set with Topaz are worn with the necklace and earrings. The effect is indescribably beautiful.

We have just stocked a new lot of the latest style of stone earrings in the new long lengths and have many stone necklaces to match.

We shall be glad to have you favor us with a visit whether you have a definite purchase in mind or not.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.

GOLD AND SILVERSMITHS
Established 1887 31 Whitehall Street

GIFTS THAT LAST

ADAIR PROTECTED BONDS

Backed by
Fifty-eight years experience

Adair Protected Bonds, issued only upon the highest type of income producing structures, are backed by the reputation of the South's oldest Mortgage Investment House.

For 58 years, the Adair Realty & Trust Company has dealt in first mortgage investments and not once, in all that time, has a single investor ever lost a dollar through a first mortgage investment recommended by this firm!

Adair Protected Bonds are the result of a definite system of safeguards so rigid, that only 5% of the loans we are asked to finance can meet them.

We have prepared a booklet, "How to Judge Southern Mortgage Bonds," which will explain to you the reason Adair Protected Bonds yield the highest interest rate commensurate with absolute safety.

ADAIR REALTY & TRUST CO.

Healey Building, ATLANTA, Ga.

ADAIR REALTY & TRUST CO., Atlanta, Ga.
Gentlemen:
Please send me "How to Judge Southern Mortgage Bonds," together with folder explaining how I can materially increase my income.
Name _____ Address _____

FIVE HUNDRED ATLANTANS PAY TRIBUTE TO BOB JONES

Jess Sweetser Leads Field in Western Amateur

Frank Godchaux and Evans Shoot 75's and Are Among Leaders in the Qualifying

J. M. Wells Equals Sweetser's Fine 33 on First Side, But Fails to Maintain Pace Down the Stretch.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 23.—Over the difficult and beautiful links of the Mayfield Country club fast golf was played today in the first qualifying round of the western amateur championship, and it fell to Jess Sweetser, of New York, national amateur champion, not only to lead the field, but to establish a record of 68, first scored Sunday in practice.

Chick Evans, defending champion, for the seventh time, was seven strokes behind Sweetser, who defeated him at Boston last year in the national event. The Chicagoan went out in a fine 35, one under par, despite the fact that three putts jumped out of the cup after being in, and he played raggedly on the second nine, taking 40 for a 75 although he had two birdsie two holes.

The nearest competition Sweetser had in his better than par run was Captain E. F. Carter, of Chicago, formerly Irish champion, who scored 75-39-71. Ned Sawyer, of New York, who established the previous record of 69 for Mayfield six years ago, and who won the western title here in 1906, playing with Carter, took 70 today.

34 Fine Scores.

There were 34 scores of 78 or better today, indicating that it would require 136 to qualify for match play if the scoring should continue as low tomorrow in the second 18 holes of qualification play. Eleven golfers had 79 today, making 45 who shot better than 80 over the 6,470 yard links, made fast by dry weather, but created exceedingly difficult by mature and man. Scarcely a fairway without its woods, dunes and side slopes and only a few greens without tantalizing undulations for the golfer to solve.

Direction makes the course fairly easy if shots are well placed, and direction was personified in Sweetser today.

He was straight as an arrow from the tee in almost every instance, getting good distance and placing his shots with accuracy. He did not put his irons as crisply as possible, but they always held the carpet and he putted steadily. Once, in accumulating four birdies and an eagle, he slipped on direction getting into the stony bedded creek on the fourteenth and breaking his niblick in getting out, but he proved his power of recovery, for he not only got out, but scored a par four on the 400-yard hole.

The national champion took one more than par on both the 12th and 13th holes, 220 and 200 yards, through trying to play safe in the name of traps, but his eagle on the 455 yard tenth balanced these slips with par.

Sweetser's card with par:

Par (out) ... 445 345 434-36
Sweetser (out) 434 345 424-32
Par (in) ... 553 344 435-36-72
Sweetser (in) ... 354 444 434-35-68

Three 75's.

Three 75's were scattered among Eddie Held, of St. Louis, trans-Mississippi champion; J. M. Wells, of East Liverpool, Ohio, and W. H. Gardner, of Buffalo, Ira Couch, of Chicago, was the only contestant to score 74, but six players, tied Evans 75, including James Kennedy, of Tulsa, the Oklahoma champion, who played with the Western champion and out scored him three strokes on the second nine.

The other 75 players were well scattered geographically comprising Frank Godchaux, of New Orleans; D. Shuter, of Huntington, W. Va.; A. D. Anderson, of St. Louis; Dave O'Connor, of Chicago, and T. F. Lamprecht, of Cleveland.

At the end of the first half of the team play for the Olympic cup the United States Golf association team composed of Sweetser, Anderson, Sawyer and James Standish with 301 was tied for the lead with the St. Louis district team composed of Held, Anderson, Clarence Wolff and James Manion. The Western Association golf team, including Carter, Evans, James Ward and E. H. Bankard, with 304 was tied for third place with the Ohio State team made up of Wells, Harold Weber, A. E. Shannon and C. W. Diebel.

The 32 having the lowest scores at the end of tomorrow's 18 holes of medal play will enter match play on Wednesday.

Other scores included Dexter Cummings, Chicago, 78; Dan Jarvis, Birmingham, 85; I. J. Osburn, Birmingham, 86; A. D. Behm, Cleveland, 86; and others.

Some of the Scores.

E. F. Carter, Chicago, 35-36-71.
Ira Couch, Chicago, 37-37-74.
Frank Godchaux, New Orleans, 37-38-75.
Leonard Martin, New York, 37-39-76.
Kenneth Hiestert, Chicago, 37-39-76.
Clarence Wolff, St. Louis, 37-39-76.
Ned Sawyer, New York, 39-37-76.
B. P. Bayless, Cleveland, 42-41-83.
Ellsworth Giles, Pittsburgh, 38-46-84.
R. McCormick, Peoria, 44-45-89.
W. H. Gardner, Buffalo, 36-37-73.
D. Shute, Huntington, W. Va., 38-37-75.
James Manion, St. Louis, 37-39-76.
Douglass Tweedie, Chicago, 37-40-77.
Howard S. Hendorf, Chicago, 37-40-77.
Russell Martin, Chicago, 36-42-78.
Dexter Cummings, Chicago, 39-39-78.
Bob White, Chicago, 37-42-79.
W. A. Pearce, Cleveland, 41-43-84.
J. T. Schiappacasz, Detroit, 41-44-85.
Robert McDougal, Chicago, 42-45-87.
George Martin, Cleveland, 43-44-87.
C. L. Sebring, Cleveland, 42-45-87.

Gastonia Wants Games.

Gastonia, N. C., July 23.—President-elect of the South Atlantic Golf association, arrived here today to discuss with local business men a proposition to have the homeless Columbia club play several games of its scheduled home series here.

Al Doonan Will Officiate In Birmingham Swim Meet

Dope Indicates Atlanta Athletic Club Will Be Formidable in Invitation Swim Events.

Birmingham, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—Saturday will be a gala day for those aquatically inclined.

Bill Breit has promised a real swimming meet in the seventh annual invitation championships of the Birmingham Athletic club to be held at East Lake and local followers of water sports are anxiously awaiting the crack of the pistol for the initial event.

The announcement of the invitation meet recently has caused a considerable splash in the water local, their ability in the distance and dash events as well as the diving contests. And in addition, the mermaids have not been idle, for the girls will stage some hectic splashing of their own.

Advance reports are to the effect that several teams will represent other cities. Al Doonan's Atlanta crack performers are likely to be the strongest entrants outside the Magic City, although there is a possibility of the Pensacola Aquatic club and Y. M. C. of New Orleans, sending teams to the invitation event.

The Atlanta Athletic club has always been strongly represented in local meets, and will have a team which will live up to the name established by former ones, according to reports from the Gate City.

Interest looks centered around the B. A. C. and East Lake teams, although several other teams may compete in the meet. The personnel of these teams have not yet been announced, but with several veterans in the ranks a high standard is assured.

Alva Allen, the McDougall brothers, Bill Hoskins, Henry Beatty and others competing on teams in former years, will be among the list of entrants from the Athletic club, which has always run one, two, three in the annual competition.

East Lake Team.

However, from the extreme eastern portion of the city comes the strongest competition to dispute the local supremacy with the B. A. C. aquatic stars. Coach Ross, of the East Lake team, has rounded together a clan of thinly-clad water performers, who are likely to stand out prominently in the events Saturday.

The Levy boys, Rubel and Allen Moore and Dewey Byrd are among the performers in the senior events, while several young ladies of known ability in the water will be on the team, among whom are Florence Yates, Clara Ebbart and A. Geman. Tourney have been announced by the B. A. C. management, and the meet is certain of being satisfactorily handled with these men in the officiating role.

Al Doonan, prominent Atlanta sportsman, will act as referee, while C. P. Orr, W. W. Abell, Bill Breit, Charles Stapleton and other well-known men are among the list.

The complete list of officials follows:

Referee, A. A. Doonan; clerk of course, T. M. Starnes; chief swimmer, William Leighton; chief finish judge, C. P. Orr; final judges, Bill Breit, P. H. McEachin, Ray Lang, Ferguson, Eugene Manager, Herbert Warren; chief timer, H. L. Cobbs; timers, Roy Davis, Melvin Carter, Totto Jaffer; diving judges W. W. Abell, Charles Stapleton, A. A. Doonan, Henry Beatty; starter C. W. Breit, Jr.

National Open Golf Champ Presented Silver Service By Atlanta Athletic Club

Mayor Sims, Eugene Black, Lowry Arnold, Asa G. Candler, Sr., H. M. Atkinson And Others Among Speakers.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

Atlanta citizens, 500 of them, last night paid tribute to the new open golf champion of the United States at the East Lake Country club and left no doubt concerning the place Bobby Jones holds in their hearts. The dinner was an elaborate affair. Nothing was spared to make it one that will be remembered for years by those lucky enough to have been present.

Nearly everybody was there to see the new champion receive a silver service given by fellow-members of the Atlanta Athletic club, tendered as a slight token of the esteem in which they hold the boy who recently proved to the satisfaction of all that he is the greatest golfer the world has known since Harry Vardon was in his prime. Perhaps even greater than that. Anyway, this sentiment was freely expressed.

A conservative estimate would place the attendance at 500. There may have been more. There were more, if the capacity of the East Lake pavilion is greater, for this was a complete sell-out of the seats by those who were anxious to show Bobby just how much they appreciated the great honor he had achieved.

Eloquent Speakers.

And the speeches were brilliant. Masters of humor kept their audiences enthralled through every minute of the four hours the banquet consumed, starting at 8 o'clock and ending shortly after midnight. Mr. Jones was ushered in. Sparkling wit was sandwiched in with tributes to Bobby's sterling qualities, not only to his golfing prowess, but the many traits he has displayed for years, whether in victory or defeat.

Lowry Arnold presided in his usual fine style as toastmaster and the speakers more than justified the nice things he uttered in his introductions. Before launching into the introduction of the orators, Mr. Arnold, himself a pioneer in Southern pastime locally, told something of the progress of the game in Atlanta after a faltering start.

The "bit of the evening" was made by Eugene R. Black, who kept the audience in laughter for many minutes with anecdotes of Bobby and Bobby's dad, "Big Bob" Jones. Then Mr. Black told of the real suffering endured by Atlantans during the recent tournament, in their anxiety over the result. His own suffering, according to Mr. Black, was in eating and sleeping during the whole event and he declared it was his belief other Atlantans had gone through the same ordeal. He closed with a beautiful tribute to the qualities in Bobby Jones that have made of this youngster nothing less than an idol of the people of the city, the state and the south.

Tribute By Mayor.

Mr. Black was preceded by Mayor Walter A. Sims, who reminded the audience of the great distinction Bobby had won for his native city and congratulated the new open champion for the success that had crowned his late drive to the objective, that is the goal of all who learn to play the game.

Asa G. Candler, Sr., followed Colonel Lowery and followed Bobby's achievement had warranted the great reception given him when close to three thousand Atlantans gathered recently at the Brookwood station to greet the new champion upon his return from the conquest of the world. This place developing into a spot that would keep Atlanta's young men and young women in the great outdoors. That dream has long since been realized, he said, as the remarkable growth of the Atlanta Athletic club proved.

Major John S. Cohen, Preston Arlwright and "Big Bob" Jones were among other speakers. At the end of Mr. Jones' speech, a little talk in which he told of how happy the bringing of a national championship to the Atlanta Athletic club and Atlanta had made him, he presented Stewart Maiden, the East Lake professional, Bobby's tutor long ago when the champion was a bare-legged kid struggling over the course, with a token given by members of the club.

The speech which preceded presentation of the club's gift to Bobby Jones was made by Henry Hein, a member of the board of directors of the Atlanta Athletic club. O. B. Keeler was presented with a gold watch, the gift of Atlanta golfers. Letters from Governor Clifford Walker, Evelyn Harris and Alfred C. Newell, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and telegrams from Miss Alexa Strirling and John E. Smith were read.

Entries Close August 16.

The entries for the Washington and the other state events will close on Thursday, August 16. The big offering for the opening day is the Capital handicap, which is a $5,000 added money stake. The London and upward to compete for over the spring distance of six furlongs. The National, a $5,000 purse, will be run on the first of October. The Maryland handicap, with $10,000 added, is a race for 3-year-olds, exclusively, and will be run on Saturday, October 27. These stakes will close on August 16.

The Laurel is a weight for age race, where the 2-year-olds have a chance to meet the older horses of all ages for an added purse of $10,000 and will be run on Saturday, October 20. The other $5,000 race is the Manor handicap for 2-year-olds, to run over the mile on October 27. These stakes will close on August 16.

New York, the headless effects city where muscles soften and the lines of the face grow hard, probably has more kinds of sport in the course of a year than any other city in the world. Perhaps the London can compare, but surely London has no football of the American collegiate kind, whereas New York has cricket, polo, rugby, soccer and, yes, even fiddler fishing in the park lawns and tea bouts in the dance dens.

What sport is there that New York has not? Golf? Tennis? Who are the big tournaments this year? Forest Hills and Inwood, within 30 minutes of Penn station. Footbal? The Polo Grounds, and Ohio field will be battle sites of college combats in the fall and Percy Houghton, of the Houghton system, is coaching Columbus now. Baseball? Two champion teams residing in the greater city and now lousy with the repetition of their monopoly which has lasted two years, going on three.

Delightful Wrightsville Beach

Thru sleepers via SEABOARD.
Phone WAlnut 5015-5019.

Fore!

The Perfect Fitting Golf Shoe.

Boarded Tan Calf
Genuine Ralah
Crepe Soles

$10.00

Just received a new shipment of this perfect Golf Shoe

Come in and be fitted today!

Mail
Orders Filled Promptly

Buck's

27-29 WHITEHALL ST.

Pronounced Bix

Men's Section Main Floor

"Listen to Portina!"

Buy a Box of Mildness!

NO matter how many Portina Cigars you have smoked in the past, you don't know how mild this finest of Porto Rican cigars can be until you've tried the new crop Portina on sale now!

Just the proper conditions of the soil—just the right proportions of rain and breeze—have brought forth a crop of tobacco milder, richer, better than Porto Rico has ever seen before.

Portina tells a tale of quality that will wreath your face with smoke and smiles. He has a message of pleasure and economy you'll always be glad to hear.

Many cigars smoked today, although they are not sold as Porto Rican, contain from 50% to 80% of Porto Rican tobacco. Why not smoke this finest of tobaccos in its finest form—the all Porto Rican Portina Cigar?

Try Portina—the new crop Portina—today. And remember—because Portina is imported from Porto Rico duty free, you save the duty!

The New Crop PORTINA
PORTO RICO'S MILDEST CIGARS

CAPITAL CITY TOBACCO COMPANY, Distributors
ATLANTA, GA.

Special Size
10c
Box of 50—$4.50

MILD-THROUGH and THROUGH

The wrapper of a Portina is only 1/16 of an inch thick. It is so thin that it is almost invisible. It is so thin that it is almost invisible. It is so thin that it is almost invisible.

Call IVV 0166 FOR BELLE ISLE'S BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy Belle Isle service, with better equipment. Lower rates.

PILES CURED WITHOUT SURGERY

An instructive book has been published by Dr. T. W. Hughes, showing how piles can be quickly and easily cured by the use of a special "Pile Cure" ointment. This book is free to persons who send for it.

DR. T. W. HUGHES
18 1/2 N. Broad, near Marietta St.
Atlanta, Ga.

South Ga. League

JACKSON'S HITTING FEATURE.

Albany, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Joe Jackson's run was one of the highlights of the fourth inning and his beautiful bunt down the third base line in the ninth were the main factors in a six-run victory for the Americans here today, 5 to 4. "Shaky" Kain, who had a good game, and his teammates were in the lead twice during the game, but luck was against him. Jackson's run was a high fly that barely went over rightfield fence. He beat out a bunt in the ninth and paved the way for the two runs in that inning which won the game for the visitors. A big crowd of Americans came over for the game. The two teams play in Albany tomorrow and in Albany again Wednesday.

AMERICAN	Box Score.	R.	H.	E.	PO.	AB.	PO.	AB.
Nolan, 2b	3	0	0	0	4	0	0	0
Williams, 3b	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0
Elmore, rf	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0
Jackson, lf	4	2	2	3	0	0	0	0
Brannon, c	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	0
Wade, cf	4	0	0	2	0	0	0	0
Lindsey, ss	4	1	1	5	2	0	0	0
Burns, c	4	0	0	1	1	0	0	0
Wingard, p	3	0	1	0	3	0	0	0
Totals	33	5	7	27	11	0	0	0

ALBANY	Box Score.	R.	H.	E.	PO.	AB.	PO.	AB.
Cooper, 3b	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Briggs, lf	4	1	3	0	0	0	0	0
McClough, 1b	4	0	0	8	2	0	0	0
Mitchell, cf	3	0	1	4	6	0	0	0
Kimber, c	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	0
McClough, rf	4	1	1	3	0	0	0	0
Cameron, 2b	4	1	1	1	1	0	0	0
Kain, p	4	1	1	1	1	0	0	0
Totals	33	4	8	27	10	1	0	0

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Albany 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Americans 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Summary: Two-base hits, Williams, Elmore, Kain, Elmore; home run, Jackson; double plays, Williams to Lindsey to Brannon; struck out, by Kain 4, by Wingard 3; bases on balls, Kain 2, Wingard 2; hit batsmen, by Mitchell (Kain); left on bases, Americans 3, Albany 6. Umpires, Evans and Waggon. Time, 1:30.

Beds are almost unknown in Bulgaria outside the cities.

Few drug stores of Germany have soda fountains.

LILIAN

BY ARNOLD BENNETT

Next Week, "The Blood Ship."
By Norman Springer

(Continued from yesterday)

She went wrong in the matter of clothes, aspiring after elegance and missing it through a fundamental lack of distinction, and also through inability to concentrate her efforts. Her dress consisted of ten thousand details held together by no unity of conception.

The contours of her visible garments gave the impression that the concealed system of undergarments, cache-corsets, corsets, lingerie, hose and suspenders was of the most complicated, innumerable and unprecedented variety.

The purchase of the typewriting business by Felix had changed Miss Grig's life from top to bottom. It had transformed her from a relic festering in sloth and frustration into the eager devotee of a sane and unassailable cult.

The business was her perversion, her passion. It was her mystic husband, the spouse to whom she joyously gave long nights of love. Apart from the business, and possibly her brother, she had no real thoughts. The concern as it existed in Lilian's time was her creation. She would sacrifice anything to it, her own health and life, even the lives and health of tender girls. Yes, and she would sacrifice her conscience to it. She would cheat for it!

Lilian found her seated alone in faint dignity at the great desk. "Yes, Miss Grig?"

"May I enquire?" asked Miss Grig in grave accents of reproach, but of pain, "why you did not put an appearance yesterday, Miss Share?"

"Well, madam," Lilian answered with surprise and gentle rebuff. "I stayed here all the night before and I was so tired I slept all day. I didn't wake up until it would have been too late to come."

"But you knew I was ill, and that I should count on you upper girls to fill my place. Or you should have known. What if you were tired? You are young and strong. In a crisis we don't think about being tired. We just keep on, my dear Lilian."

The address, "my dear Lilian," caused misgivings in the employee's bosom. Lilian knew that it was Felix, and not Miss Grig, who had admitted her to employment, and that Miss Grig had been somewhat opposed to the engagement. She also guessed that Miss Grig objected to her good looks, and was always watchful for an occasion to illustrate her theory that a girl might be too good-looking. Miss Grig had been known to depart without warning into frightful incoherence.

The culprit offered no defense. There was no defense. As surely she ought to have run up on the previous evening. Nevertheless, while saying naught, she kept thinking resentfully: "Here I worked over twenty hours last end and this is my reward—a slating! This is my reward—a nice old slating!"

"And there's something else, Miss Share. (Now please don't cry.) When Mr. Grig came up the night before last to tell you that I was unwell, you ought not to have allowed him to stay. You know that he can stand night work. Men are not like us women—"

"But how could I possibly—" Lilian interrupted.

"You should have seen that he left again at once. It would have been quite easy—especially for a girl like you. The result is that he's been a wreck ever since. It seems as if he'll till 4 o'clock and after. I tried my best to stop him from coming at all; but he would come. . . . Please, this is over what I've said! Thank you."

Lilian felt all the soft, cruel, unpossessionable force of Miss Grig's individuality. She vaguely and with inimitable deference comprehended the secret of Miss Grig's success in business. Youth and beauty and charm, qualities so well appreciated by Felix, so rich in promise for Lilian, were absolutely powerless against the armour of Miss Grig.

And yet Lilian was not cast down. On the contrary, she was quite uplifted and agreeably excited, and her brain was working on lines of which Miss Grig had absolutely no notion whatever.

Miss Grig, obviously truthful, had said that she had tried to prevent her brother from coming to the office on the last night but one. Miss Grig had been ready enough to let Lilian stay till morning without a word. But Felix had told Lilian that he had come to the office to warn her at his sister's urgent request! Why had Felix lied?

The answer clearly was that he had had a fancy to chat with Lilian alone, without Lilian's suspecting his fancy. And, in fact, he had chatted with Lilian alone and to some purpose. . . . The answer was that Felix was genuinely interested in Lilian. Further, Miss Grig suspected this interest.

Finally Miss Grig herself had confessed, perhaps unthinkingly, that Lilian was not without influential attributes. The phrase "especially for a girl like you" shone in the girl's mind.

To Lilian's practical sense there was throughout the office an atmosphere of nervous disturbance. She felt sure that before the end of the day the electrical fluid would concentrate itself in one spot and then explode in a tense, violent, bitter and yet only murmured scene between two of the girls in the large room—unless, of course, she herself and Milton happened to get across one another.

Gertie Jackson came in. She was a tall, well-made girl of twenty-eight and she held herself rather nicely. She was cheerful, and of an agreeable temper—as placid as a bowl of milk. She loved her work, regarding it as of real importance, and she seemed to be entirely without ambition.

Lilian's attitude towards her senior colleague was in various respects critical. In the first place the poor thing did not realize that she was growing old—already approaching the precipice of thirty! In the second place, though possessed of a good figure and face, she did nothing with these great gifts.

She had no desire to be agreeable; she was agreeable unconsciously, as a bird sings: there was no merit in it. She was not interested in men; but she did not talk about them, she twiddled about them.

To Lilian, she had the soul of an infant. And she was too pure, too scientific; her nature lacked something fundamental, and Lilian felt, but could not describe, what it was—save by saying that she had no kick in either her body or her soul.

And now Gertie straightened herself, stuck her chest out bravely, according to habit, and smiled a most friendly greeting. Behind the smile lay concealed no resentment against Lilian for having failed to appear on the previous evening, and no moral superiority as a first-class devotee of duty. What lay behind it, and not wholly concealed, was a grave sense of responsibility for the welfare of the business in circumstances difficult and complex.

"Have you seen Miss Grig?" she asked solemnly.

"Doesn't she look simply frightfully ill?"

"She does," admitted Lilian, "she oughtn't to be here!"

"No," Gertie agreed. "No! And she isn't going to be here, either! Not if I know it! I shall see that she goes back home at lunch time. She's quarreled already with Mr. Grig this morning about her coming up."

"Do you mean at home this morning?"

"Yes. He got so angry that he said if she came he wouldn't. But she came all the same."

"Miss G. must have told Gertie all that herself," Lilian reflected. "She'd never be as confidential with me."

"We must do all we can to help things," said Lilian.

"Of course!" agreed Lilian. Nevertheless, Lilian appreciated profoundly the heroic madness of Miss G. in defying common sense and her brother for the sake of the beloved business. Gertie saw in Miss G.'s act nothing but a piece of naughty and sick foolishness. But in contemplating Miss G., Lilian unobtrusively realized her own precariousness. Miss G. was old and plain (save that her eyes had beauty), and yet was fulfilling her great passion and was imposing herself on her environment.

Miss G. was doing. Lilian could only be; she would always remain at the mercy of someone, and the success which she desired could last probably no longer than her youth and beauty. The transience of the gifts upon which she must depend frightened her—but at the same time intensified anew her resolves. She had not a moment to lose.

Collapse.

The two girls had not settled to work when the door of the small room was pushed cautiously open and Mr. Grig came in—as it were, by stealth. Evidently he was secreting himself from his sister.

He shut the door, and in the intimacy of the room faced the two girls. "Is she in here?" he snapped.

"Yes," they breathed. "Oh! Mr. Grig, she ought never to have come out in her state!"

"Well—let it go, of course she oughtn't!" retorted Mr. Grig. "Didn't I do everything I could to keep her at home?"

"Oh! I know you did!" Gertie agreed. "She told me."

"Look here, one of you must go to her and tell her I'm waiting in a taxi downstairs to take her home, and that I shall stick in it till she gives way, even if I'm there all day. You'd better do it, Miss Jackson!"

"Yes, do, Gertie! You go," Lilian seconded the instruction. Then: "What's the matter, Gertie? What on earth's the matter?"

Mr. Grig stepped out of the room on a pretext.

A long time elapsed. Then the door of the principal room opened, and Lilian, discreetly peeping, saw the backs of Miss Grig and Gertie Jackson. They seemed to be supporting each other in their progress towards the outer door. How had Gertie managed to beat the old fanatic?

After a little pause she went to the window and looked at the pavement below. The taxi was there. Two

ANDY SEARCHES THE HOUSE FROM CELLAR TO ATTIC WITHOUT FINDING ANY TRACE OF $5000 BUT STILL THINKS, SOONER OR LATER, HE WILL KNOW WHO SENT HIM ALL THE MONEY—AND WHY.

I CAN'T STAND ANY MORE OF IT—ALL I HEAR IS BABE, BABE, MORNING, NOON AND NIGHT—THAT WORD IS AS WELCOME TO MY EARS AS A RATTLE-SNAKE'S RATTLE—I'M JUST GOING TO PACK UP AND BEAT IT TO SHADY REST AND GET AWAY FROM IT ALL.

I DON'T KNOW WHAT MADE ME HAVE MY PICTURE TAKEN WEARING BABE'S HAT—IT SEEMED VERY FUNNY AT THE PICNIC BUT NOW I REALIZE IT WAS ABOUT AS FUNNY AS A HAUNTED HOUSE—SINCE THE PICNIC MIN IS ABOUT AS FRIENDLY AS A FRETFUL PORCUPINE.

AFTER I'M GONE A COUPLE OF DAYS MAYBE MIN WILL REALIZE OLD ANDY WASN'T THE WORST GUY IN THE WORLD—THEY SAY; ABSENCE MAKES THE HEART GROW FONDER—THEY ALSO SAY; OUT OF SIGHT, OUT OF MIND—I'M GOING TO FIND OUT WHICH IS RIGHT.

"DEAR OLD TIMER:— WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW ON NO. 3—IF YOU HAVE ANY FAVORITE FISH IN THE LAKE YOU'D BETTER GET THEM OUT BEFORE I ARRIVE BECAUSE AFTER I LEAVE, THE LAKE WILL BE AS EMPTY AS A PAUPER'S POCKET-BOOK—REMEMBER ME TO YOUR MUCH BETTER HALF—ANDY."

foreshortened figures emerged from the building. Mr. Grig emerged from the taxi. Miss Grig was induced into the vehicle, and to Lilian's astonishment Gertie followed her. Mr. Grig entered last.

At 3 o'clock she was summoned to the telephone. Mr. Grig was speaking from a call office. "Miss Jackson's ill, too, the doctor says," he announced grimly. "So she has to stay here, a nice handful for me. You'd better carry on. I'll try to come up later. Miss Grig said something about some accounts—I don't know."

Lilian replied with soothing sympathies, and went with dignity into the principal room, now for the moment lawfully at her mercy.

In the evening Lilian, after a day's urgent toil, was saturated with bliss. She had dismissed the rest of the staff at the usual hour, firmly refusing to let anybody remain with her. Almost as a favor, Milton had been permitted to purchase a night's food for her.

Just as the clock of St. George's struck eight, it occurred to her that to be found by Mr. Grig in Miss Grig's place might amount to a grave failure in fact; and she removed all the essential paraphernalia to the small room.

She was positive that he would come. She would hear the outer door open; she would hear his steps, and he would see her, faithfully laboring all alone for him.

For this hour she had made a special toilette, with much attention to her magnificent hair. She looked spick and span and enchanting.

Nor was she mistaken. Hardly had she arranged matters in her own room when the outer door did open, and she did hear his steps. The divine moment had arrived. He appeared in the doorway of the room.

He had a marvelous charm and his expression was less worried. He was almost too good to be true. She greeted him with a smile that combined sympathy and welcome, fidelity and womanly comprehension, the expert assistant and the beautiful young Eve.

"I do hope you aren't thinking of staying, Mr. Grig," he said next. "I'm not going to stay. Neither are you," replied Mr. Grig curtly. "We'll shut the place up."

"But we're supposed to be always open! Suppose some work does come in! It always does—"

Tears came into Lilian's eyes. She had expected him, in answer to her appeal to him to depart, to insist on staying with her. She had been waiting for heaven to unfold. And now he had decided to break the sacred traditional and close the office. She could not master her tears.

"Don't worry," he said in tones charged with tenderness. "You've been splendid. But I had to promise Isabel I'd shut the office tonight. She's in a very bad state and I did it to soothe her. You know she hates me to be here at nights—thinks I'm not strong enough for it."

"That's not her reason tonight," said Lilian to herself. "I know her reason tonight well enough!"

But she gave Mr. Grig a look gratefully for his exquisite compassion, which had raised him in her sight to primacy among men.

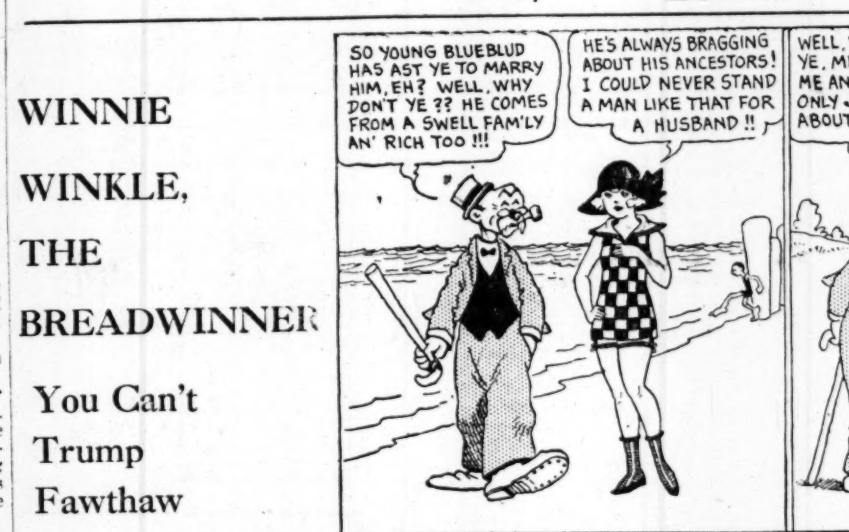

On the way to the Dorset street tube she did not once glance behind her to see if he was following.

Great joy.

A fortnight passed. The two patients were getting on well. Mr. Grig's attendance grew more regular, but he did little except keep the books and make out the bills; in which matter he displayed a facility that amazed Lilian, who really was not a bit arithmetical.

(Continued Tomorrow)

SOMEBODY'S STENOGR—Why Bosses Go Insane

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER

You Can't Trump Fawthaw

The Little Scorpions Club

"AW! GEE! MOTHER! EVERY FELLER IN THE CLUB HAS HAD TO GO DOWN HERE WHEN HE WAS INITIATED AND NOBODY AINT BIN HURT YET!"

THE INITIATION OF NEW MEMBER, SPUNKY EDWARDS, HAS BEEN DELAYED

Movie of a Man Bidding Friend Wife Son Voyage

By Brigg

GANG PLANK IN WAVES AND WAGGLES STRAW HAT TO FRIEND WIFE

WONDERS WHY SHIP DOESN'T MOVE OUT

BELL RINGS AND AGAIN WIGGLES HAT

STILL BOAT MOVES NOT... HAS NOTION TO LEAVE ANYWAY.

WHISTLE BLOWS AND ONCE MORE GOES THROUGH HAT WAGGLING ACT

FIFTEEN MORE MINUTES OF INACTION. LEANS AGAINST POST WEARILY.

AT LAST BOAT MOVES... WAVES HAT AND KERCHIEF ENTHUSIASTICALLY

BEATS IT OUT ERE BOAT HAS CLEARED DOCK

Brigg

HEY STUPID! DONTCHA KNOW THIS IS A ONE-WAY STREET?

SURE, BUT I'M ONLY GOING ONE WAY

THE FIXER-ONE SPASM

JOHN, FIX THIS ONE ELECTRIC LIGHT—IT DOESN'T BURN STEADILY

IT'S NOT IN TIGHT THAT'S ALL

HM-M-M—NOW IT DOESN'T BURN AT ALL

I JUST KNEW YOU'D BREAK IT

WHO BROKE IT? IT AINT BROKE, I CAN FIX IT

BETTER CALL AN ELECTRICIAN

GET OUT! I KNOW ALL ABOUT ELECTRICITY—THIS LITTLE HOOT NANNY IN HERE NEEDS ADJUSTING—NOW WATCH—

PFETT

I KNEW YOU COULDN'T FIX IT—NOW THEY'RE ALL OUT

Brigg

JUST NUTS

HEY STUPID! DONTCHA KNOW THIS IS A ONE-WAY STREET?

SURE, BUT I'M ONLY GOING ONE WAY

THE FIXER-ONE SPASM

JOHN, FIX THIS ONE ELECTRIC LIGHT—IT DOESN'T BURN STEADILY

IT'S NOT IN TIGHT THAT'S ALL

HM-M-M—NOW IT DOESN'T BURN AT ALL

I JUST KNEW YOU'D BREAK IT

WHO BROKE IT? IT AINT BROKE, I CAN FIX IT

BETTER CALL AN ELECTRICIAN

GET OUT! I KNOW ALL ABOUT ELECTRICITY—THIS LITTLE HOOT NANNY IN HERE NEEDS ADJUSTING—NOW WATCH—

PFETT

I KNEW YOU COULDN'T FIX IT—NOW THEY'RE ALL OUT

Brigg

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The Emory Woman's club will meet at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. B. Peebles.

The regular meeting of the Kirkwood chapter, O. E. S., No. 223, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock.

A regular meeting of the East Atlanta chapter of the Eastern Star, No. 108, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the E. A. Minor lodge, corner Flat Shoals avenue and Glenwood.

There will be a meeting of Martha chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, this evening at 8 o'clock at the chapter rooms in the Masonic temple of Battle Hill lodge, on Lucile avenue, in West End.

Mrs. E. A. Pierce Gives Bridge-Tea.

Mrs. E. A. Pierce was hostess Monday at a bridge-ten at the Atlanta Woman's club in compliment to Miss Whitehead, of Macon, who is the guest of Mrs. Milner La Hatt, and Mrs. Hoham, of Baltimore, the guest of Mrs. M. R. Hardin.

The tea table was placed in the palm room and was overlaid with a cover of lace and embroidery. A large wicker basket of pink and white phlox adorned the center.

Mrs. Pierce received her guests wearing a gown of peach-colored crepe embroidered in gold beads. A hat of brown straw completed her costume. Miss Whitehead was wearing a white crepe with a hat of white straw. Twenty guests were invited to meet the guests of honor.

"The Store of Dependability"

Diamond and Platinum Jewelry

From Latham & Atkinson's May Be Inspected in Your Own Home

Any person, in the city or out, who furnishes commercial references, or who is known to us, may have an assortment of diamonds sent to their home for inspection. If you find what you want, keep it and return the rest. There is no obligation to buy. Latham & Atkinson Diamonds are sold for cash or on terms; the price being the same either way. Every Latham & Atkinson Diamond is guaranteed to be in every detail just exactly what it is represented.

LATHAM & ATKINSON, Inc.

Successors to DAVIS & FREEMAN, Inc.
DIAMONDS AND PLATINUMSMITHS
47 Whitehall

The Only Change Is in the Name

It's a Westinghouse Ivory Fan

Turn on the Breeze

Hot scorching days! Sleepless nights! Why put up with them when you can have cool breezes made to your order? This new Ivory Home Fan pleases the eye too.

Westinghouse Sales & Service

Know Your Westinghouse Dealer by this Sign

Westinghouse

Half-hearted advertising won't bring whole-hearted returns

Keep on telling them
And you'll keep on selling them

The regularity with which you tell them is just as important as the copy. For regular business

Dont Tell 'em Yesterday
Tell 'em Today

TELL them regularly in
The Atlanta Constitution
Main 5000

F. J. Paxton Is Honored By Connally's

An interesting event of Sunday evening was the birthday dinner given Sunday evening by Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Connally at "The Homestead" on West End, in compliment to Col. Frederic J. Paxton.

This affair is an annual event in celebration of Mr. Paxton's birthday anniversary and assembles a group of life-long friends.

The attractively appointed table was overlaid with a lace cover and adorned in the center by a mound of summer flowers from the garden of the hostess.

Many good wishes were extended, the guest of honor in the form of telegrams, letters, postcards and gifts.

Fidelis Class Is Entertained.

The Fidelis class, of the Inman Park Baptist church, was delightfully entertained at a party Thursday evening on the adjoining lawns of Miss Mary McCorkle and Miss Jennie O'Farrell.

The spacious lawns were beautifully decorated with varicolored Japanese lanterns and large baskets of sunflowers.

Punch was served by the younger sisters of the hostesses. Above the table was suspended a large Japanese umbrella, each tip hung with an electric light softly shaded in different colors. The punch bowl was embedded in a mound of sunflowers and daisies.

The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. McCorkle and Mrs. O'Farrell. About sixty guests enjoyed the evening.

Homecoming At Fort Lamar.

The regular annual homecoming of former residents and those now residing in Franklin and Madison counties, as well as adjoining counties, will be held at Fort Lamar, Liberty church, Madison county, Saturday, July 28.

It has been the custom for many years to hold these all-day reunions, and a special program has been prepared for this occasion, consisting of speeches, music and varied entertainments. There will be dinner on the ground for all who come.

A cordial welcome is extended to all who have ever lived in or near the section and a treat is promised for all who attend, besides the opportunity to see old friends and renew old acquaintances of a lifetime.

Absolute Law!

There is one department in our store where accuracy is an absolute law. That's our prescription department. No one dares deviate a single iota from a given prescription.

You get here exactly what your doctor prescribes. There is no risk to run in having your prescriptions filled at—

FRANKLIN & COX
Optical at Atlanta

Georgia Women Ask More Funds for State Welfare Work

Mrs. Sanford Gay, president of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, who represents 75,000 Georgia women who want the legislature to give more funds for the increased work of the state welfare board.

BY MARTHA GOODE ANDERSON. The Georgia state department of public welfare created four years ago has doubled its work and in addition, now has the extra work of child placing since the child placing law went into effect in 1922.

It is the duty of the welfare department to visit in the course of the year the forty children's institutions, 150 jails, 75 almshouses and 100 juvenile courts in the state which come under it for inspection.

Seventy-five thousand women in Georgia, represented by the Federation of Women's Clubs, League of Women Voters, the Parents-Teachers Association, King's Daughters and Daughters of the American Revolution, are asking an increased appropriation from the legislature to carry out the work of the department.

"We are apt to stress our glory in Georgia for her physical and material possessions such as her rich wealth of minerals, her vast water powers, her great variety of climate and richness of soil, forgetting that these very possessions must not hold our eyes from the fact that simultaneously with material progress must go soul progress."

Children's Code Commission. "Nothing has been more important within the last four years than the creation in our state of a children's code commission, the report of which went to the governor Monday," Mrs. Gay said further. "In this report it is urged that no further laws be enacted in behalf of children but that the present laws on our statute books may be made more operative. Speaking generally, these laws have been made in regard to child labor, night work for children, age of consent, compulsory education and the regulation of orphanages and reformatories. There are many changes which will have to be made and which will come about as time goes on."

"It is wonderful how greatly awakened Georgia's social conscience is since the terrible events which caused the creation of the welfare board in 1919," concluded Mrs. Gay. "and it is to be devoutly hoped that this awakening will be further stimulated by more funds to carry on the very vital work the board has undertaken."

Stewart's Under-Price Cash Basement

$3.50 Sandals at Clearing Price of $4.00 Pair

These include white calf with Red, Green or Blue Trim, also several Widths AA to broad.

Final clearance of $2.00 Pair

White Reingcloth Lace Oxfords and White Reingcloth Strap Pumps at choice

All Sales Final

Stewart

Down Stairs

Final clearance of $2.00 Pair

White Reingcloth Lace Oxfords and White Reingcloth Strap Pumps at choice

All Sales Final

Stewart

Down Stairs

KRYPTOK BIFOCALS

The Ballard Make

has proven a revelation to glass wearers. Far and near vision all in one solid glass—absolutely invisible while on the face, no disfiguring lines to blister, blur or cause trouble. No more looking over your glasses or taking them off to see distant objects—put them on just like you do your shoes and forget glasses. Are all Kryptok glasses the same? No; the materials only from which they are made is patented, sold and guaranteed perfect by the Kryptok Company, but after this material leaves their factory they are not responsible for the grinding and finishing which is finished up and sold by optical houses all over the country. Unless the actual grinding and finishing is done by an expert, your eyes carefully fitted, your face correctly measured to correspond in every detail, you will have trouble the same as buying the highest grade watch made with some little something left out of it.

We have many thousand satisfied Kryptok wearers—we can satisfy you.

Walter Ballard Optical Co.
85 Peachtree Street, Atlanta

SIGNOR E. VOLPI
GRAND OPERA STUDIO
423-424 Wesley Memorial Building Phone Ivy 3797
Voice Culture, Repertoire and Opera Coaching
Special Attention Given to Beginners.

Mrs. Richardson Will Speak to West End Club

Mrs. Alonza Richardson, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, will speak at the regular meeting of the West End Woman's club Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Masonic temple on Lee street, near corner of Gordon.

Mrs. Richardson's subject will be "What the West End Woman's Club Can Do for West End." Every woman in West End is cordially invited to attend. Visitors from all sections of the city will be welcomed.

Fair and No Change In Temperature Today Predicts Weatherman

Fair weather with the mercury around 90 degrees was predicted by C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, for Tuesday. Atlanta was rather warm Sunday and Monday, Mr. von Herrmann said, but he did not expect temperatures to go any higher during the first part of this week.

throughout, brought about by whatever causes," continued Mrs. Gay. "The work of the state board of welfare is greatly increased. For instance, poverty increases petty theft, which fills the jails. Poverty forces mothers, who have never worked before to undertake gainful occupations, to the neglect of their small children. This fills the juvenile courts—and so on down the long list of causes which give to the state its woe."

"When the report of the appropriations committee is presented to the house Tuesday morning," went on Mrs. Gay, "our hope will surge that some way will surely develop by which the house will further increase the money so badly needed for the welfare department."

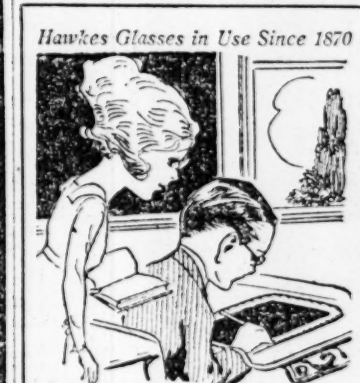

Georgia Is Behind.

"Georgia is behind all other states," commented Mrs. Gay, "in her progress for care and protection of the state wards such as the feeble minded, criminally insane, tubercular and juvenile delinquents and in infant and maternal hygiene. As Georgia was one of the original thirteen colonies it is to be hoped that we will maintain our prestige in every way and rank among the 'colonial states' in welfare work. After all a state is only as great as its people, and while 'it is great to be a Georgian,' it is greater still to be a humanitarian. Our greatness can only be measured in human terms."

We are apt to stress our glory in Georgia for her physical and material possessions such as her rich wealth of minerals, her vast water powers, her great variety of climate and richness of soil, forgetting that these very possessions must not hold our eyes from the fact that simultaneously with material progress must go soul progress."

Children's Code Commission. "Nothing has been more important within the last four years than the creation in our state of a children's code commission, the report of which went to the governor Monday," Mrs. Gay said further. "In this report it is urged that no further laws be enacted in behalf of children but that the present laws on our statute books may be made more operative. Speaking generally, these laws have been made in regard to child labor, night work for children, age of consent, compulsory education and the regulation of orphanages and reformatories. There are many changes which will have to be made and which will come about as time goes on."

"It is wonderful how greatly awakened Georgia's social conscience is since the terrible events which caused the creation of the welfare board in 1919," concluded Mrs. Gay. "and it is to be devoutly hoped that this awakening will be further stimulated by more funds to carry on the very vital work the board has undertaken."

Books!

Soon it will be time for wee youngsters to embark on their life's education—and for the older boys and girls to return to their studies.

Now, while you have ample time we would suggest that you have your children's eyes examined so that they will not be putting undue strain upon them when school starts. Defective eyesight may prove a serious handicap in later years unless prompt attention is given the eyes while they are young.

Come in comfortable time and you will not be so apt to neglect so important a matter at the last moment.

A.K. Hawkes Co.
Optometrists-Opticians
14 Whitehall

To Wear Thin Waists or Sleeveless Dresses (Beauty Topics)

With the aid of a delatone paste, it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package and mix fresh.—(adv.)

Prominent Speakers Feature Better Films Conference

Formation of a strong central organization in which the various individual better films committees will be closely linked together resulted from a conference of representatives of committees from six southeastern states, held at the Atlanta Woman's club Monday and attended by Colonel Jason Joy, head of the committee on public relations co-operating with the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America. Accompanying Col. Joy was John W. Donaldson, assistant executive secretary of the public relations committee. Colonel Joy was an outstanding speaker at the luncheon in honor of the southeast conference delegates.

These delegates were Mrs. B. M. Boykin, delegate for Georgia; Mrs. Eugene Kelly, for North Carolina; Mrs. C. E. Earle, of Spartanburg, representing Mrs. J. Fraser James, head of the Spartanburg committee and delegate from South Carolina; Mrs. Conrad Ohme, delegate from Alabama; Miss Ruth Rich, delegate from Florida; and Mrs. McCord Roberts, representing the Better Films Bulletin.

Rapid spread of the better films movement in the south and the decision of Colonel Joy and his associates to carry the plan originated by the Atlanta chapter to the publication of a series of bulletins, which are being distributed throughout the United States brought about the organization of a central committee for the purpose of acting as a clearing house for communication between the producer and the patron of moving pictures and to standardize activities being regularly conducted in a number of places. Organization on Monday resulted in the election of Mrs. B. M. Boykin as president of the southeastern executive committee; Mrs. Eugene Kelly, of Charlotte, N. C., as president; Mrs. Fraser James of Spartanburg, S. C., treasurer; Mrs. Conrad Ohme, of Alabama, secretary; Mrs. McCord Roberts, executive secretary-editor; H. Guy.

Mrs. E. G. Willingham, chairman of extension, and Mrs. Ruth Rich, assistant publicity director. Plans for future development contemplate state organizations in each of the six states represented on the board, with each state president a member of the board. Mrs. Boykin appointed Mrs. Porter Langston chairman of selected programs on the southeastern board and Mrs. E. Harry Goodhart chairman of review, appointment of Atlanta distribution facilities.

"Human Wrecker," Mrs. Wallace Kelly's dramatic moving picture assaulting the dope evil, was reviewed with deep interest by a representative gathering of better films members immediately following luncheon, and pronounced a powerful dramatization of an evil which is receiving earnest consideration from a number of influential organizations and which the General Federation of Women's Clubs has conceived the idea of putting forth its entire strength in aid of the national government's war of extermination of the illegal narcotic traffic.

Mrs. Norman Sharp, first vice president of the Atlanta Woman's club, welcomed the better films committee at luncheon in the absence of Mrs. Richardson, president of both organizations, who was unable to attend because of sudden illness in her family. Mrs. R. Frank McCormack, vice president of the Atlanta better films committee, presided at the luncheon and introduced the speakers, who were Colonel Jason Joy and W. Donaldson, of New York; Turner Jones, of the Southern Enterprises, Inc.; Howard Kinsmore, manager of the Howard theater; W. V. Darley, manager of the Alpha theater; Mrs. Clifford Walker, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, Mrs. Eugene Kelly, Mrs. Conrad Ohme, Mrs. C. E. Earle, Mrs. Porter Langston, Mrs. E. Harry Goodhart, Mrs. E. D. McDonald and Mrs. G. H. Guy.

"Practicing Our Virtues"

BY MARTHA GOODE ANDERSON.

"Life after all offers at best only four or five ways of being wicked but it offers a thousand ways of being good," said Corra Harris Georgia's gifted writer, to a group of close friends with whom she sat on a wide front porch one summer day recently.

Then she told this story: "I was staying one summer at a big hotel in the southern mountains, in the room next to mine was a charming woman. I shall call her Mrs. Smith for the reason that that was not her name. She was gentle, lovable, refined, feminine and courteous—in fact she seemed to embody all the virtues which go to the making of the type everybody loves. Her praises were sung by all who came into contact with her. Her presence was sought and for two weeks Mrs. Smith enjoyed a peaceful reign of love, friendship and good-will, proving some of the thousands of ways of being good I mentioned just now."

"Then one day there arrived at this hotel about 200 women, delegates to a convention in that particular city. The gentle Mrs. Smith, who knew many of the delegates, was suddenly transformed. She became a veritable little 'spit-fire.' She was cross, dictatorial, arrogant—in a word the very antithesis of what she had been. In the afternoon of the morning the delegation arrived, I heard great sobs in the room next to my own," continued Mrs. Harris.

"On my way down stairs in the late afternoon, I met Mrs. Smith in the corridor. Her whole bearing was changed. Her eyes were red with weeping. She had a crestfallen, 'picked' look, worn and worsted, she seemed."

"Why, Mrs. Smith," I said to her, "what has happened?" "Instantly she flamed, so to speak. 'It's those women,' she said. 'I've got to leave. They set me on fire. They arouse all my worst traits.' Standing there in the dusk of that hotel corridor, between sobs, she told me of her experience as a club woman, of things she did and things done to her in her quest for office and club position, and of her longing for rest and freedom."

"Now that woman had a lovely soul and she knew she had it. She had come away to practise her virtues, for she knew she had them. She had come for peace and patience, kindness and courtesy, gentleness and meekness—and for two weeks she had revelled in her own self expression. It was not in the least because she was a club woman that she had gotten her contracts lacerated, for as every one knew, the very virtues she was seeking to express belong in large measure to that particular class of women, but it was because of her own point of view, her mental and soul slant, too, that her virtues had been hidden and she was seeking the war out. It was all of her experience when the delegation arrived, for while the fight had been victorious for a time, she now had to follow the admonition of St. Paul and turn and flee when her soul was troubled and carry her virtues with her." "I hope," concluded the speaker, "she is able to practise them wherever she may be."

As the little thoughtful silence which always follows an interesting story settled down on the group I

Turner Jones Joins Publicity Department Of Coca Cola Company

Turner Jones, who for more than two years has headed the public relations department of the Southern Enterprises, Inc., has resigned to accept a similar position with the Coca-Cola company. It was announced Monday. Mr. Jones takes the position made vacant by the appointment of W. S. Kell as secretary to the vice-president of the Coca-Cola company. Mr. Jones is a graduate of the University of Virginia. Prior to his affiliation with the Southern Enterprises, he was a member of the republican staff of the Atlanta Constitution. He is the son of Dr. M. S. Shy Jones, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church.

CITY ELECTRICIAN ORDERED TO TEST GAS

The quality of gas furnished Atlanta with the tests heretofore by City Electrician R. C. Turner, under provisions of a resolution by Alderman I. N. Ragsdale adopted by council Monday afternoon. The resolution had the informal approval of Mayor Walter A. Sims. Since the position of R. P. Bearse, in the purchasing department, was abolished July 1 by the June appropriation sheet, no one has inspected the gas. The average required by the public service commission is 5.75 British thermal units. Three tests are to be made daily to see that the quality is maintained.

Establishment of a municipal playground in one district of St. Louis caused a decrease of 75 per cent in the number of juvenile court cases.

found myself wondering why under some circumstances it is so easy to "practise our virtues" and why under others we have none at all. I wondered, too, if, as Alice Gerstberg has so cleverly portrayed in "Worthies," we could ever dare show our real selves.

I thought, too, I'll go right off and practise my own virtues and defy fate to prevent me. A little later I tried for a telephone number.

Yes.

P. S. I am not "practising my virtues today. Are you?"

MORRIS Supreme Ham and Bacon

For true economy, buy a whole ham—Supreme of course

ASK for Horlicks The ORIGINAL Malted Milk Safe Milk and Malt Grain Ext. In powder, makes The Food-Drink for All Ages

Avoid Imitations—Substitutes

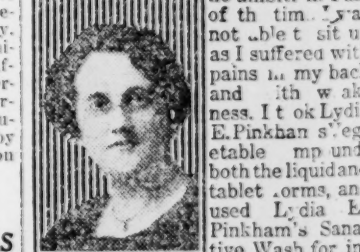

Call IVy 0166 FOR BELLE ISLES BLACK and WHITE CABS

The usual competent, trustworthy, reliable service, with better equipment, lower rates.

TODAY I AM REAL WELL

So Writes Woman After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Jamestown, N. Y.—"I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged, I had no ambition, a part of the time I was not able to sit up as I suffered with pains in my back and in my abdomen. It is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that has made me well and enabled me to do my work."

flammation. Today I am real well and run a rooming house and do the work. I recommend your medicine to every woman who complains, and I may use my letter to help any one else. I am passing through the Change of Life now and I keep the Vegetable Compound in the house, ready to take when I feel the need of it."—Mrs. Alice D. Davis, 203 W. Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Often somnolent derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, backache, lack of ambition and general weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

Her Friend's Husband

by INEZ KLUMPH

Illustrated by MARGUERITE NEALE

CHAPTER XXXII.

Mimi's Curious Story.

There was to be a dinner-dance that evening. As she dressed for it, Gloria's thoughts were of Virginia, and the way in which the threads of her life had been tangled. Virginia, who had always ordered her affairs so capably, who had taken just what she wanted, now found herself thwarted when she should have been happiest.

Mimi, wandering about the huge room in exquisite lingerie, diverted Gloria's thoughts at last from Virginia's troubles to her own.

"I don't see why I have to be so ghastly poor!" she declared, looking at the string of square-cut sapphires that Gloria had taken from her jewel case. "Here you are, with jewels to match your frocks—and you haven't even come out yet!—and loads of pretty things to wear!"

"But this is an old necklace that belonged to my mother, and her mother, and—oh, it's been in the family forever!" Gloria told her. "But I won't wear it if you'll be happier not to have me dressed up. Money doesn't mean so awfully much, Mimi—you exaggerate its importance."

"Exaggerate it?" Mimi laughed disgustedly. "I tell you, I'd rather be cross-eyed than as poor as I am! Why, I can't even have love. You don't know what money can mean. Listen to this—"

"Last year—a year ago this last winter—I was down at the springs with mother. We were visiting some friends and there were other guests too—among them a man whom I loved with all my heart. He loved me, too—he still does. But he hasn't any money, and neither had I, so mother would have fits if she'd known we cared anything about each other, and we tried not to let her know. "One afternoon we all started on a motor trip—just two days' journey.

There were to be three cars. Mother went in the first one, thinking I'd come in another big car with our hostess and several other people. But I didn't—I left last, in this man's roadster with him. We thought we'd have just that afternoon alone, and then when we all met for dinner, of course, mother would see to it that I was transferred to the car with her! She doesn't trust me at all—and since I've found that she didn't, I suppose I've become untrustworthy."

"Somehow, he and I took a wrong turning—I swear we didn't mean to. But we got lost in the hills, and then, when we found our way back, we skidded on the wet road and were ditched. Luckily, neither of us was hurt, but we broke two axles and something inside got smashed. It was a foreign car—this man's cousin owned it, and let him use it—so it pretty things to wear—"

"But this is an old necklace that belonged to my mother, and her mother, and—oh, it's been in the family forever!" Gloria told her. "But I won't wear it if you'll be happier not to have me dressed up. Money doesn't mean so awfully much, Mimi—you exaggerate its importance."

"Exaggerate it?" Mimi laughed disgustedly. "I tell you, I'd rather be cross-eyed than as poor as I am! Why, I can't even have love. You don't know what money can mean. Listen to this—"

"Last year—a year ago this last winter—I was down at the springs with mother. We were visiting some friends and there were other guests too—among them a man whom I loved with all my heart. He loved me, too—he still does. But he hasn't any money, and neither had I, so mother would have fits if she'd known we cared anything about each other, and we tried not to let her know. "One afternoon we all started on a motor trip—just two days' journey.

"I'd rather be cross-eyed than as poor as I am," Mimi declared. It couldn't be fixed. We walked to the nearest town and got a man to go for it. The town was just a cluster of houses and two stores—no garage, of course—but the blacksmith said he'd bring it in and keep it for us till someone came for it.

"We decided that we'd have to go back to the house; our hostess' sister was there, and we'd stay there and telephone ahead so that mother wouldn't worry. The blacksmith said he'd let us take his buggy. We had ten before we started in a house on the main road, and as we sat there in the window, a young man and girl came out of the house opposite, and an older man came out to the steps and called 'God bless you!' after them."

"That's the minister; they've just been married! The woman who was waiting on us said. And all at once, I looked up and met the eyes of the man I loved. I knew what he wanted to ask me. He said, 'Will you do it?' and I said 'Yes!' Just at that minute, my mother and what she'd say if I married this poor man, didn't matter. I didn't care."

"We didn't have a license, but that was arranged somehow, and we were married in the minister's parlor, and he called 'God bless you!' to us in his kind voice, as we drove off in the blacksmith's buggy."

"You were really married?" asked Gloria, amazed.

"Yes, really and truly—just as much as if it had happened in the church at home with you and the other girls I know for bridemaids. And that 10-mile buggy ride was our honeymoon. I don't know of a lovelier one—through country lanes with honeysuckles hanging down low over our heads, and the moon shining through. It was heavenly—I never hope to be happier than I was right then. I wasn't even afraid of the future—the future when we wouldn't have any money!"

"We planned to have a little house somewhere, and I was to learn to do my own work, and make my own clothes—I could have done it, too. And we were going to be wonderfully happy!"

Gloria looked at her in surprise. This was a new Mimi; that was a side of the girl's character that she would never have supposed could exist. And irresistibly, her thoughts turned to the man in the story—who was he?

Tomorrow—A Coward's Tragedy. (Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

The Constitution's Patterns

A PRETTY STYLE FOR A SCHOOL DRESS.

3860. For the frock that shall be a "little different," this design will be just right. It is in suspender style, and made to slip over the head. The guimpe is finished separately. Crepe or pongee may be used for the guimpe, and pongee, gingham, chambray or serge for the dress. The sleeve is attractive in wrist or elbow length.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. A 10-year size requires 2 yards of 27-inch material for the guimpe and 2 1/4 yards of 36-inch material for the dress.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

A PRACTICAL ONE-PIECE MODEL FOR THE GROWING GIRL.

4442. Linen or ratine, with embroidery or contrasting material for collar and cuffs, would be good for this style. The closing is at the left side under the plait.

This pattern is cut in three sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. A 14-year size requires 4 1/4 yards of 40-inch material. Collar and cuffs of contrasting material requires 3/8 yard 40 inches wide.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

A DAINTY FROCK FOR A "LITTLE TOT."

4043. With sleeves flowing or puffed, and the fullness at the neck shirred or smocked, this dress will be very pleasing. Nainsook, voile, challie or gingham may be selected for the making.

The pattern is cut in five sizes: 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. A 3-year size will require 2 3/4 yards of 36-inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-to-date Spring and Summer 1923 Book of Fashions.

In ordering patterns write name and address plainly on a sheet of paper. Order by number and inclose price in silver or stamps. Do not mail letter to The Constitution building in Atlanta, but address as follows: Fashion Department, The Constitution, 1188-89 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Takes Away Stains.

Discolored and blackened aluminum pots and pans will brighten wonderfully if rubbed with a cloth dipped in lemon juice.

There's This Much About It.

The early riser has all her nasty hot jobs done before the extreme heat of the day and can relax and find the cool places while her more tardy neighbor perspires copiously.

Why Not?

Use a little salt to remove stains from fine china.

Dissolve a lump of salt in the sink to keep it sanitary.

Try placing a little salt in the frying pan to prevent the sputtering of hot grease.

Preserve the color of your rugs and carpets by sprinkling them with a little salt when sweeping.

The HOUSEHOLD

Edited by Anne Rittenhouse

RASPBERRY DESSERTS.

Raspberry Ice.

The best raspberry ice is the easiest to make. It calls for one quart of the berries. Extract the juice and add to one pint of granulated sugar, dissolved in the juice. Add the juice of one good-sized lemon and a half pint of water. Freeze in the usual manner. The addition of a beaten egg white or a tablespoon of granulated gelatine soaked in cold water, adds somewhat to the smoothness and flavor of the ice.

Raspberry Sherbet. Raspberry sherbet can be made with a quart of water and a pint of sugar boiled together for ten minutes. To this add a teaspoon of granulated gelatine that has been soaked in a

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Millie T. F.—To increase your weight at this season of the year, give preference to a light nourishing diet, rather than the rich and heating diet used during other seasons for gaining weight. Drink plenty of milk. Take as much exercise in outings as possible. Sleep outside. When the weather becomes cooler, take a tablespoonful of olive oil three times each day. The latter can be made more palatable through adding an equal amount of grapejuice to it.

Perplexed: As eczema comes from so many causes, it would be difficult to treat it without knowing the underlying cause. Some relief may be obtained through bathing with a weak solution of boracic acid. A reliable doctor should be consulted.

Overweight Ellen: All starchy foods are fattening, and you may include with these all sweets and oils. You can easily see which foods to avoid if you keep this in mind.

Mrs. S. K. T.: Your skin needs to be nourished with a good cream. Use a cleansing cream liberally and remove it with Lot wet cloths which will open the pores. Follow this treatment with some good cream massage until the skin has absorbed all that is needed. Wipe off all surplus cream and apply a small piece of ice all over the surface that has been treated.

Perplexed Blonde: The proportions of lemon juice and baking soda little cold water and strain. When it is cold add a pint of strawberry juice and the juice of two lemons. Freeze very hard.

A variation of the above recipe is to make the raspberry sherbet as described, and to fill in the center of the sherbet when the dasher is removed with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with a little sherry.

Raspberries can be blended with almonds in a delicious ice cream. To do this freeze very sweet raspberry juice, and pack it in layers in a mold with the following almond cream:

Seal a pint and a half of cream with half a cup of granulated sugar. When it is still hot, but not on the fire add six beaten egg yolks and three-quarters of a cup of blanched and pounded almonds. Put it back over the fire and cook it in a double boiler, until it is thick.

for keeping the hair light, are a tablespoonful of juice and a third of a teaspoonful of soda to a quart of water. This should only be used at the final rinse after the shampoo. As a general rule, a woman who has a large nose looks best if her hair is pulled down a little on the sides and finished with a knot rather high on the back of the head.

Admiring Reader: It is impossible to suggest a style of hairdressing when one has not seen the person.

As a general rule, a woman who has a large nose looks best if her hair is pulled down a little on the sides and finished with a knot rather high on the back of the head.

Mrs. T. H. D.: Creams made from mineral oil are only cleansing; those for building the tissues are made from vegetable oils, such as almond or olive oil. If you will send me a self-addressed envelope I will send you a formula for a flesh-building cream. Use this for the lines and also rub the skin with a small piece of ice, which serves as an astringent.

Tomorrow—When You're Convalescing.

Employees of Two

Civic Departments

Get Week's Holiday

Employees of parks and constabulary departments are to receive a week's vacation with pay under provisions of a resolution introduced by Councilman Fred C. Woodall, of the third ward, and adopted by council and the aldermanic board Monday afternoon. Heretofore, no provision has been made for vacations for the employees.

Priest realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Atlanta, Ga., for week ending Saturday, July 21, 1923, on shipments sold out, ranged from 10.00 cents to 18.50 cents per pound and averaged 14.15 cents per pound.—(adv.)

In Quality Alone
Is There
Real Economy

Without Quality Merchandise
Is Without Value

Watch Our Windows!

Day by Day They Are Telling of Unusual Opportunities to Buy

Quality Merchandise

At Prices Exceptionally Low

To Be Seen Today

Shown in Window 1

Crepe de Chine

A genuine quality value of the most unusual kind is this splendid heavy grade crepe, 40 inches, shown in white, black and forty shades.

Examine and test it carefully. Note its superior quality—close, durable weave. Fine for dresses, blouses, underwear, linings. Superb every-day value here, at $1.95 Yd.

Main Floor

Shown in Window 6

New Voiles

Extra hard twist voiles at an extraordinary price are shown in this offering of most attractive new patterns. There are light or dark grounds, as fancy may dictate, for choice.

The qualities offered at this price are most unusual.

39c yd.

Main Floor

Points of Interest About These Offerings

First of all, let us tell you that they are not "special sales" offerings. Although exceptionally low in price they are just a few of the splendid, staple things that one will find here from day to day in each of our many departments. The Crepe de Chine is just one of the splendid values to be found in our section of quality silks. There are lots of good silks at low prices, but never anything to be seen but high quality.

The elastic girdle meets the present demand for a comfortable support of really good quality at a very modest price—frankly about 50 per cent less than the usual.

The men's golf sox are so extraordinary that we can't compare them with anything we have seen heretofore!

The Pajamas are the kind that one usually accepts as really good two-dollar values. The high neck night gowns are really most remarkable values at their modest pricing and we hope they will be critically examined.

Such voiles as these are selling regularly everywhere for at least twenty-five per cent more.

Shown in Window 2

Elastic Girdles

Made of very fine grade surgical elastic, these girdles conform exactly to the mode of the moment for a practical, comfortable support in lieu of a corset. Popular medium-short models, striped with satin, and having four substantial hose supporters. A girdle of very superior quality at quite a low price.

$1.95

Corsets—Second Floor

Shown in Window 3

Golf Sox for Men

They are all-wool, these very practical golf sox, of medium weight, in grey, camel and dark brown heather—all with fancy tops—drop-stitch ribbed weaves.

To say that they are quite unusual at such a price is not half enough praise for such splendid value.

95c Pr.

Men's Shop—Front

Shown in Window 4

Men's Pajamas

Of strong domestic, well tailored double-stitched seams—these pajamas offer real comfort and durability at a very modest price indeed. Trimmed with silk frogs and nice grade pearl buttons. May be had in all sizes in white, light blue, grey, pink, tan, and lavender.

$1.45 Pr.

Men's Shop—Front

Shown in Window 5

Night Gowns

High neck and long sleeves in a gown appeal to so many women that our underwear section makes a specialty of quite unusually good offerings in these models. A superior grade of cambric is used, the tailoring is neat and well done, and very pretty bands and edges of embroidery with tucks form the trimmings.

$1.95

Second Floor

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

RADIO DEPARTMENT

PROGRAM GIVEN BY MUSIC MASTERS

Three Soloists of Atlanta Dance Organization Are Heard in Numbers From Station WGM.

Three splendid soloists of Inex Marvin's Music Masters entertained listeners to Station WGM, The Atlanta Constitution, from 3 to 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The soloists were L. V. Johnson, pianist; L. B. Gresham, trumpeter, and Wayne West, saxophone soloist. All of them are finished musicians and while all their numbers were popular offerings, they were warmly received by listeners. Many requests were received for special numbers and several of them given.

The program consisted not only of solos, but included several trio offerings and duets that met with generous response by listeners.

PROGRAM AT SIX BY MISS BITTICK

Talented Soprano Arranging Broadcast for Early Period This Evening From WGM.

In the program at 6 o'clock tonight Station WGM, The Atlanta Constitution, will present a concert sponsored by one of the first entertainers to be heard from The Constitution's studio.

For months Miss Ethel Bittick, soprano, has been heard from time to time by Constitution listeners and tonight she is coming back after an absence of a month.

Miss Bittick has a well-trained soprano voice that is particularly sweet by radio. Her numbers will be of the classical and semi-classical type entirely. These are the specialty of Miss Bittick, who is a pupil of Miss Margaret Hecht, of Atlanta. She is a well-known to listeners.

Those on the program this evening with Miss Bittick will combine their efforts in making the broadcast a memorable one. They will give both vocal and instrumental selections that are well-known to listeners.

HONOLULU

SUVA, AUCKLAND, SYDNEY

The Well Equipped Royal Mail Steamers "Majestic" (20,000 tons), Aug. 3, Oct. 1, Dec. 1, 1923. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Jan. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Feb. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Mar. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Apr. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) May 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Jun. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Jul. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Aug. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Sep. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Oct. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Nov. 1, 1924. "Majestic" (15,500 tons) Dec. 1, 1924.

EUROPE

ENGLAND BELGIUM

IRELAND GERMANY

FRANCE SWITZERLAND

MEDITERRANEAN CRUISES

117 ships over 1,000 tons

Included in this vast array of vessels is the MAJESTIC, the world's largest ship, the famous OLYMPIC, the HOMERIC, BELGIUM, and many others, all of which are cabin staterooms, and have a large number of staterooms.

For rates, etc., apply to the agents, or to the White Star Line, Ltd., 117 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

WHITE STAR LINE, LTD.

International Maritime Company

John T. North, Gen. Agt.

Broad St., corner of Atlanta, Ga.

or Local Agents.

FRENCH

New York

Line

Join the Experienced Travelers

LAFAYETTE Aug. 4 Sept. 1 Sept. 20

PARIS Aug. 15 Sept. 12 Oct. 2

FRANCE Aug. 15 Sept. 12 Oct. 2

NEW YORK Aug. 15 Sept. 12 Oct. 2

Popular priced one-class ships

St. Louis Aug. 15 Sept. 12 Oct. 2

Carson Praises Constitution And Tech on Radio Donation

The following telegram was received Monday by The Atlanta Constitution from D. B. Carson, commissioner of navigation in charge of radio, United States Department of Commerce, relative to the donation by The Constitution to the Georgia School of Technology of the complete equipment of Station WGM:

"Clark Howell, Editor, 'The Constitution.'

"I have noted the article in Sunday's Constitution concerning the gift of your radio equipment to the Georgia School of Technology to assist them in the execution of their plan to establish a radio course for the purpose of satisfying the growing demand for young men having expert knowledge of the science of radio.

"This public spirited action on your part is highly commendable and the school is to be congratulated upon the extension of its facilities which will enable the students to better master this fascinating and rapidly developing art, now becoming so important in commerce.

"You undoubtedly know I am planning to establish in Atlanta headquarters for the fourth radio district, comprising the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Undoubtedly these two important steps in radio will serve to greatly stimulate interest among the radio students and give to them the encouragement which has been lacking for so many years in the fourth district.

(Signed) "D. B. CARSON,
"Commissioner of Navigation in charge of Radio,
"United States Department of Commerce.
"Washington, D. C."

Trinity Church Quartette Feature of Late Broadcast

VOLPI TO RETURN TO WGM TONIGHT

Will Present New Tenor With Mrs. Irene Free and Rudolph Lehman, Old Favorites.

Tonight station WGM will present another Volpi program between 9:30 and 10:45 o'clock. It has been several weeks since Signor E. Volpi, noted Atlanta voice teacher, has been heard from station WGM with his advanced pupils, and his return tonight will have a warm welcome from listeners.

The 9:30 program tonight Signor Volpi will present two favorites with Constitution listeners and a new entertainer, a tenor, who will be heard from station WGM with his advanced pupils, and his return tonight will have a warm welcome from listeners.

The new entertainer will be Slim Cody, Mr. Cody has been receiving training from Signor Volpi for months, and has developed an unusually fine voice.

The old favorites on the program tonight are Mrs. Irene Free, soprano, and Rudolph Lehman, baritone, both of whom have endeared themselves to thousands of listeners through their vocal offerings from WGM.

Signor Volpi will play all of the piano accompaniments tonight.

MISS CROWE HAS PROGRAM FOR 3

Will Present Miss Castleberry, Miss Coppedge, Mr. Styron and Mr. Timms.

The program to be given from station WGM, The Atlanta Constitution, between three and four o'clock this afternoon will be in charge of Miss Martha Crowe, a talented soprano, who many months ago made her radio debut from the Constitution's studio.

Miss Crowe will bring to station WGM this afternoon a group of entertainers who have been heard before from the Constitution, and who in the past have received the high praise from hundreds of listeners.

Assisting Miss Crowe as piano accompanist will be Miss Mae Castleberry, who has always played with Miss Crowe at station WGM.

The other assisting Miss Crowe will be Miss Evelyn Coppedge, a pianist, pianist, and Hugh Timms, tenor soloist. All of these artists have been heard before from WGM, and the excellence of this afternoon's program is assured.

GREAT PROGRAM BY FOOTWARMERS

Orchestra in First Radio Concert Since Howard Engagement Pleases WGM Listeners.

When the Footwarmers last night at 6 o'clock played their first program from station WGM, the beginning of their week's engagement at the Howard theater, it was to give the radio program they have presented yet for radio listeners.

The Footwarmers to a man last night were at their best. There was new energy in their organizations, a new supply of pep right at the end of every number and the breaks were their best.

The Footwarmers are gaining rapidly in popularity in their concerts from station WGM. This popularity was given a big boost last night by the solo of the program. In this Bishop Foreman, who plays saxophone and clarinet in the orchestra, gave "Volma," a particularly difficult number as a saxophone solo.

One of the feature organizations given last night by the Footwarmers was their new number, "By the Shamal." This was an original arrangement of breaks by Bill Munn, pianist and musical director of the Footwarmers, and elicited high praise from listeners.

The program which the Footwarmers broadcast last evening from station WGM was typical of the music with which they are making a big hit this week at the Howard.

Other numbers the Footwarmers gave last evening were "Louisville Lou," "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans," "Gee," "Dearest," and several others.

C. T. Work Dies.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 23.—Charles T. Work, 70, who arrived last week from Miami, Fla., died at a hotel here today. He was a brother of Henry G. Work, noted composer and author of "Marching Through Georgia."

HENDERSON SPRING, Tenn.

This well known summer resort is now open for the reception of guests. It is a beautiful place with private and public electric lights, creek and river within a few hundred yards of hotel for fishing and boating.

HENDERSON & MCOSHE.

ROGERS HALL

FRANKLIN, N. C. ALTITUDE 2,850 FEET

LOCATION—One-half mile from center of town, overlooking the Little Tennessee Valley. Scenic grandeur, unexcelled mountain views, new golf course, BUILDING modern; 21 bed rooms with private or connecting bath; broad, cool veranda. Wholesale meals $1.50 per week.

For further information apply to MISS MARGARET ROGERS, Franklin, N. C.

Next Winter to the MEDITERRANEAN

A Grand Cruise with New Red Star Line

BELGENLAND

the most modern, luxurious, replete and the largest steamer sailing to the Mediterranean. A carefully planned itinerary, including every main point of interest; a long stay in Egypt—Cairo—the Valley of the Kings—Palestine, etc. Optional visit to Paris and London on the homeward trip. Stopover privileges with return by Majestic, Olympic, Homeric, etc. January 19—March 26, 1924.

Cruise Limited to 500 Guests

THOS. COOK & SON

245 Broadway, New York Local Steamship Agents

CURB MARKET

Total sales of stocks, 238,700 shares.					2 Creason Gold 35 3/4 35 3/4
Total sales of bonds, $28,000.					2 Crown Reserve 35 3/4 35 3/4
New York, July 23.—Following is the list of official list of transactions on the New York stock exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded in:					10 Fortuna 32 3/4 32 3/4
					60 Golden States 32 3/4 32 3/4
					50 Golden States 45 45
					50 Gold Jackpot 45 45
					3 Goldfield Flouren 65 65
					10 Hilltop 65 65
					10 Hilltop Minn 65 65
					1 Howe Sound Co 31 3/4 31 3/4
					50 Independence Lead M 37 3/4 37 3/4
					10 Kerra Lake 25 25
					1 Kerr Lake 25 25
					10 Keweenaw Mining 31 3/4 31 3/4
					10 Lake State Div 31 3/4 31 3/4
					10 National Tin 12 1/2 12 1/2
					1 Nipissing 51 51
					1 Ohio Copper 68 68
					10 Ohio Copper & 68 68
					60 Red Hills 33 3/4 33 3/4
					10 Red Warrior 43 43
					10 St. Louis 11 1/2 11 1/2
					10 St. Louis 11 1/2 11 1/2
					10 Silver Queen 30 30
					5 South American F & 35 3/4 35 3/4
					30 Spearhead 11 11
					10 Sulphur Div 31 3/4 31 3/4
					10 Sulphur Div 31 3/4 31 3/4
					7 Tonopah Belmont 75 75
					10 Tonopah Divide 35 35
					10 U S East Mines 32 32
					11 United States 114 114
					10 United Imperial 90 90
					1 West End Cons 78 78
					20 West End Ext 90 90
					Bonds.
					1 Allied Paper Co 55 55
					1 American Cotton Oil 92 92
					5 American Oil & 92 92
					5 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil & 92 92
					10 American Oil

WHEAT DECLINES

ON HEDGING SALES

Chicago, July 23.—Despite a rally due for the most part to reports of Today's selling chiefly to persistent weak-ing sales and to slowness of export demand. The close was unsettled

1-2@5-8 cents net decline with September 98 3-4@98 7-8 cents and December 101 7-8. Corn finished at a range varying from 7-8 cents decline to 1 1-4@1 3-8 cents advance, oats unchanged to 1-2@5-8 cents lower and provisions unchanged to 10 cents

Estimates that more than 1,000 car loads of wheat had arrived here today gave the market a downward tendency at the outset, but the actual total was much less, 864 cars and this fact together with important damages in sections of the northwest and unfavorable weather both sides of the Canadian line soon gave bulls a temporary temporary advantage. Besides, country offerings were only of fair amount in the central west and were small in the southwest. Sustained buying power was lacking and price gains gradually were more than wiped out under pressure of continued hedging sales and in the absence of any indication of enlarged business with Europe.

rope. Considerable attention in the last part of the day was given to figures purporting to show that for world supply purposes the increase of Canadian wheat acreage since 1911 would alone more than make up for stoppage of exports from Russia. Notice also was taken of reports of seed crops in foreign countries.

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.
Following were the ruling quotations of today's exchange:

WHEAT—
		Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev.
July98½	1.00½	.99½	.99½	1.00½

Sept.	1.98%	1.99%	1.98%	1.98%	1.99%
Dec.	1.01%	1.02%	1.01½	1.01½	1.02½
CORN—
July	.85	.86½	.85	.86	.84½
Sept.	.76½	.77%	.76½	.76½	.76½
Dec.	.64½	.65%	.64½	.64½	.65½
OATS—
July	.41%	.41%	.40%	.40%	.41%
Sept.	.35½	.35½	.35	.35	.35½
Dec.	.37%	.37%	.36½	.37	.36½
PORK—

(Not quoted.)
LARD—
Sept . . .	11.20	11.22	11.07	11.07	11.11
Oct . . .	11.27	11.32	11.17	11.17	11.21
RIBS—
Sept . . .	8.80	8.80	8.77	8.77	8.80
Oct . . .	8.77	8.77	8.65	8.65	8.70

GRAIN LETTER.

Chicago, July 23.—Further fairly liberal acceptances over night and estimates of heavy receipts caused the grain market what but buying by the opening dip in prices. The market was a rather choppy affair with not sufficient buying power to hold advances and the close was fractionally lower. Country offerings today were the lightest in some time from Illinois and southwest also. Cash wheat in Kansas City one cent up.

A further decline was expected to uncover butter demand.

Corn—Shorts were busy in corn, influenced by reports from widely scattered sections that prospects were a little less favorable. July made another new high on the crop. There was some profit taking on the advance and a little pressure in the late trade. Premiums for carlots here were shaded $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

Cuts—Had an easier tone and no particular feature. Traders were Provisions.—Buying by smaller packers caused some firmness in the early trade. Some selling late in the day by warehouse interests took the edge off the market. Lard was 25 to 35 cents higher.—Fennell & Beane.

CASH GRAIN

Chicago, July 23.—Wheat: No. 2 red
$1.00½@1.02; No. 2 hard, $1.00½@1.01½;
Corn No. 2 mixed, 87½@88c; No. 2 ye low, 89½@90½c.
Oats No. 2 white, 42½@46c; No. 3 white
41½@44½c.
Rye No. 2, 65½c. Barley, 65c. Tim othy seed, $3.50@6.50.
Clover seed, $15.00@17.50. Pork, nom
nal. Lard, $10.95. Ribs, $8.37@9.23.

hard, 95c@ $1.05; No. 2 red, 94c@ 98c.
Corn: No. 2 yellow, 85c; No. 2 mixed,
82c@ 2½c.
Oats: No. 2 white, 40½@ 43c; No.
mixed, 40c.

Livestocks.

Chicago, July 23.—Cattle: Receipts, 17,000; beef steers, yearlings and desirable grades of fat she-stock, active, closing medium to good yearlings; top mature steers, $11.00; few loads, $11.00@11.50; choice yearlings, very scarce; few young ones, above $10.00; some long yearlings, $10.50; bulk beef steers and yearlings, $9.00@10.50; low grade beef cows, few; steady to strong; bulls closing 15 to 25c lower; vealers and stockers, firm; bulk vealers to packers, $10.00@10.50; weighty calves more numerous, unevenly lower; bulk calves around $5.00; bulk beef heifers, $7.00@7.50.

Hogs: Receipts, 55,000; fairly active and mostly 25 to 40c higher on better grades; others slow sales, uneven, 10 to 25c higher; bulk 160 to 240-pound average, $7.85@8.00 top, $8.05; bulk 250 to 325-pound butcher $7.50@7.80; packing sows, mostly $6.10@6.40; strong weight pigs, up to $7.25; estimated holdover, 15,000.

Sheep: Receipts, 9,000; fat western lambs, strong to 25c higher; others and

Kansas City, July 23.—Cattle: Receipts 19,000; calves, 4,000; butchers' stock, 10,000; range, 10,000; total, 33,000. Market generally steady; four doubles at Idaho's average 76 pounds to shippers at city butchers, $13.75; bulk good and choice westerns, $13.35@13.60; bulk natives, $12.50@13.00; top, $13.25; practically no yearlings or aged weathers offered; bulk medium and heavyweight ewes, $5.25@6.50; lightweights upward to $7.00; heavy weights downward to $3.50.

steers, steady to shade higher; early top $10.25; some held higher; several low cake fed Texas, $8.25@9.40; Kansas grass ers, $9.23; yearlings, $8.50@9.50; cows mostly $4.25@5.50; bologna bulls, $4.65@
5.00; practical top yearlers, $8.50; stock and feeders, strong to 15c higher; desire ble native feeders, mostly $7.00@8.35.

Hogs: Receipts, 8,000; active, 25@40c higher; packer and shipper top, $7.50; bulk of sales, $7.20@7.50; 165 to 185-pound av-

Agee, $7.25@7.40; bulk: delivered 190
300 pounder butchers, $7.40@7.50; packsows, 25@40c higher; bulk, $5.90@6.10;
stock pigs, weak; bulk, $3.85@6.25.
Sheep: Receipts, 6,000; lambs, weak
25c lower; Idaho's, $12.75; odd bunches natives up to $12.50; other, $9.50@12.25; sheep steady to strong; Texas wethers most yearlings and two-year-olds, $3.00; other $6.75@7.50.

Receipts: 2,100; slow, weak; heavy steers $8.00@9.00; beef steers, $5.00@8.50; heifers, $5.00@8.75; cows, $2.00@7.00; feeders, $6.00@7.00; stockers, $3.50@6.75.

Hogs: Receipts, 1,600; 35c higher; 10 pounds up, $7.75; 120 to 165 pounds, $7.75; pigs 120 pounds down, $6.00; throwouts, $5.75 down.

Sheep: Receipts, 3,600; steady; lambs $12.00@12.50; choice, $13.00; sheep, $3.50@5.50.

ATLANTA LIVE STOCK.
(As Corrected by W.-H. White, President
White Provision Company.)

Good to choice steers...	800-1000	$7.00@7.75
Good steers	700-800	6.00@6.75
Medium to good steers...	650-750	7.35@8.00
Good to choice heifers...	700-825	4.50@5.00
Medium to good cows	600-750	4.50@5.50
Good to choice heifers...	550-650	4.25@5.00

The above represents the ruling prices.

quality fed cattle, good inferior grades and dairy types quoted below:
Medium to good steers...	700-800
Medium to good cows...	600-700
Mixed common cattle
Good butcher bulls
Choice veal calves
Yearlings, common
Yearlings, common
Beluga hogs
	HOGS
	195-250
	250-300
	300-350
	350-400
	400-450
	450-500
	500-550
	550-600
	600-650
	650-700
	700-750
	750-800
	800-850
	850-900
	900-950
	950-1000
	1000-1050
	1050-1100
	1100-1150
	1150-1200
	1200-1250
	1250-1300
	1300-1350
	1350-1400
	1400-1450
	1450-1500
	1500-1550
	1550-1600
	1600-1650
	1650-1700
	1700-1750
	1750-1800
	1800-1850
	1850-1900
	1900-1950
	1950-2000
	2000-2050
	2050-2100
	2100-2150
	2150-2200
	2200-2250
	2250-2300
	2300-2350
	2350-2400
	2400-2450
	2450-2500
	2500-2550
	2550-2600
	2600-2650
	2650-2700
	2700-2750
	2750-2800
	2800-2850
	2850-2900
	2900-2950
	2950-3000
	3000-3050
	3050-3100
	3100-3150
	3150-3200
	3200-3250
	3250-3300
	3300-3350
	3350-3400
	3400-3450
	3450-3500
	3500-3550
	3550-3600
	3600-3650
	3650-3700
	3700-3750
	3750-3800
	3800-3850
	3850-3900
	3900-3950
	3950-4000
	4000-4050
	4050-4100
	4100-4150
	4150-4200
	4200-4250
	4250-4300
	4300-4350
	4350-4400
	4400-4450
	4450-4500
	4500-4550
	4550-4600
	4600-4650
	4650-4700
	4700-4750
	4750-4800
	4800-4850
	4850-4900
	4900-4950
	4950-5000
	5000-5050
	5050-5100
	5100-5150
	5150-5200
	5200-5250
	5250-5300
	5300-5350
	5350-5400
	5400-5450
	5450-5500
	5500-5550
	5550-5600
	5600-5650
	5650-5700
	5700-5750
	5750-5800
	5800-5850
	5850-5900
	5900-5950
	5950-6000
	6000-6050
	6050-6100
	6100-6150
	6150-6200
	6200-6250
	6250-6300
	6300-6350
	6350-6400
	6400-6450
	6450-6500
	6500-6550
	6550-6600
	6600-6650
	6650-6700
	6700-6750
	6750-6800
	6800-6850
	6850-6900
	6900-6950
	6950-7000
	7000-7050
	7050-7100
	7100-7150
	7150-7200
	7200-7250
	7250-7300

Thin hogs	165-230	1.50
Light hogs	130-165	7.00
Heavy pigs	100-130	6.50
Light pigs	Under 100	6.00
Roughs		6.00

62 Beaver Street
New York

605 Cotton Exchange Bldg.
New Orleans

CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

John Littel Given Ovation As He Begins Final Week

John Littel made his last bow to Atlanta's devoted "first-nighters" at the Forsyth theater Monday night. He could not have pleased them better than he did in the role of Burton Crane, in "Come Out of the Kitchen." It is with reluctance that Atlanta

$5 down

THIS is your chance to buy the new Corona—the latest model, with 10-inch carriage, Automatic Ribbon Reverse, Standard Portable Keyboard and all the modern typewriter conveniences. Comes with neat traveling case so you can carry it everywhere. Weighs less than seven pounds!

Don't delay. Take advantage of our easy terms—$5.00 down, $5.00 a month. Phone or call today for free demonstration.

BAYLIS Office Equipment Co.
Phone Main 2600
No. 1 S. Broad St. Atlanta, Ga.

ASPIRIN

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-three years and proved safe by millions for:

Colds Headache
Toothache Lumbago
Earsache Rheumatism
Neuralgia Pain, Pain

Accept "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" only. Each unbroken package contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Drugists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturing Co. Monrovia, California.

Home Buying Talk No. 13

Economy of Continuous Production is recognized as a cause of low cost and excellence of any product.

The factory which operates every business day of every week in every month of every year can certainly produce a better article at lower price than another which operates only part of the time.

Business Men Say that the firm continuously in the market and buying materials every day will get a better grade of material at a lower price than one who buys only occasionally.

Any Employer Will Tell You that the firm which gives steady year-around employment gets more dependable labor and can hold them to a higher standard of work than one which picks up the unemployed only at intervals.

ALL THE ADVANTAGES OF CONTINUOUS PRODUCTION ARE YOURS if you buy your home from us. We are building homes continually—all the year round—and have our regular force of expert workmen who use only the best material.

As evidence we ask you to call Mr. Settle, Walnut 2811, and ask him to show you the five-room house on Fairbanks street, just completed and offered for $5,300—$300 cash and $50 a month, with no loan to assume.

W. D. Beatie
207-9 Trust Company of Georgia Bldg.

PEACHTREE—Tenth Street—FOR SALE

We are offering a real opportunity in this rapidly advancing retail section. There are practically no lots between Peachtree Place and Eleventh street that can be bought at any price. Seventeen new buildings are now in course of erection in these blocks and nearly every one is already leased.

It is reported that a big chain store will open a store in this section in a few weeks. We offer a lot with two stores at a price considerably below today's market. Prices in this section are increasing and will continue to do so as retail rentals always make for higher land value.

It will pay you to call us in reference to this.

"Create An Estate"
A. S. ADAMS-CATES CO.
Grant Building. Walnut 5477

TAX NOTICE

Those who have not made STATE and COUNTY RETURNS for the Year 1923—and they are many—will do well to attend to this at once.

No returns taken after JULY 28, 1923.

FAIR WARNING

Atlanta, Ga., July 23, 1923.

W. H. Abbott,
Tax Receiver, Court House

LITTLE PROGRESS AT COAL MEETING

Atlantic City, N. J., July 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Expecting today to enter the bargaining cycle in their efforts to agree on a new contract and avert a coal strike this fall, anthracite miners and operators tonight failed to reach their objective. At the end of a four-hour conference the joint committee of eight still considered itself in the preliminary stage of negotiations. The result of the sessions, which have been held intermittently since July 6, was that the miners had outlined to the operators in detail the grounds upon which several of their demands were based.

All of the session today was taken up in discussion of the demand specifying rates for "dead work," blasting rock and removing refuse in getting at the coal vein.

Both sides agree that it probably will be a day or two before the operators get the floor to have their say about the demands and possibly to offer a series of counter proposals. "Wages and the check-off are expected to excite the major controversy," the miners' program calling for increases of 20 per cent for contract men and $2 for day men with universal adoption of the check-off.

Heads of the conferring delegations did not reflect the confidence that there would be no suspension on September 1, reported to have been expressed at Boston today by two members of the United States coal commission, John Hayes Hammond and Thomas H. Marshall.

"I wouldn't cast doubt upon the value of their judgment," said John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, "but I am not yet seen anything that would justify their optimism."

S. D. Warriner, spokesman for the operators, assured questioners that anthracite operators, in communication with Mr. Hammond and Mr. Marshall, did not know upon what their predictions were based.

As chairman of the general committee of anthracite operators, Warriner also issued a statement pleading "not guilty" to allegations reported emanating from the United States coal commission that the operators "were stalling" in the present negotiations.

OFFER THRIFT COURSE AT BERRY SCHOOLS

Mount Berry, Ga., July 23.—With the assistance of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, which at its recent convention outlined a course of study for schools and the national thrift week committee, the Berry schools, where many mountain boys and girls of Georgia are educated, will present to the students the coming year a course on thrift, it was announced today.

The course as outlined is one which will be up practice with theory, and the text used will be such as has been adopted by the association. This will be supplemented by various lectures on subjects allied with thrift, one of which will be the matter of insurance. Mary B. Reeves, of the association, is in charge of preparing the textbooks and John Goddell, of the national thrift week committee, has promised to give a lecture on the subject of insurance.

"The problem at Berry school is not so much one of teaching the students to save money, because there is very little to save among the students of this institution," according to an official. "It is, however, planned to put over the idea of thrift in every part of the life of the student. It will naturally affect his pecuniary resources when he comes into the same."

During the past year a thrift campaign was planned and executed by the Y. M. C. A. of the Berry school, with some very tangible results in material and labor saved. National thrift week was observed closely and brief talks made at chapel on the subject.

Berry school authorities believe, it was stated, that a thrifty citizenship will meet and answer a great many of the "so-called problems of the present generation."

EARL QUILLIAN STRUCK BY MACHINE MONDAY

Earl Quillian, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lake Quillian, of 471 Crew street, received injuries to his head Monday afternoon when he was struck in front of his home by an automobile driven by L. E. Fetter, of 504 Crew street.

Quillian was rushed to the Atlanta hospital for medical attention, and a charge of reckless driving was placed against Fetter. Witnesses said that the boy ran into the street while playing ball, and that the accident was unavoidable.

Sealed proposals will be received by the city of Atlanta, Mississippi, until 5 p. m., August 6, 1923, for the construction of 600 square yards of concrete pavement, or of equivalent material on concrete base, with appropriate. Bids are invited on On-site, Vibrocrete, Modified Topsoil, Sheet Piling, Warrenton, Rock Asphalt, etc. The board reserves the right to accept the bid which in their judgment represents the best value for the money. A certified check for $3,000 must accompany each bid. Bids may be obtained from the city clerk; plans in file at his office, or copies may be had from him for $2.

S. T. TATUM, Mayor.
J. H. L. BROWN, City Engineer.
C. E. NEELY, City Clerk

Collections by U. S. District Court Set New High Record

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—A total of $3,000,844.40 in fines, forfeitures, penalties and judgments in favor of the United States government were imposed during the last fiscal year, according to the report of F. G. Boatwright, United States district attorney for the southern district of Georgia, which was completed today. The total amount collected was $2,354,558.03, which is said to set a new record for the district.

The huge boost in the total is due directly to an admirably case disposed of in Savannah, in which a judgment was rendered in favor of the government, awarding two steamships' value of $2,640,950.44. Increases were shown, however, in all different kinds of cases tried.

Prohibition cases showed substantial increase. At the beginning of the year there were 705 cases pending; 11,180 cases were commenced during the year, 795 disposed of and at the end of the year, July 1, 1923, there were 1,003 cases pending. During the preceding year there were only 695 cases commenced and 450 disposed of.

The total amount of fines imposed during the year was $18,734.55, of which $48,510 was collected.

POLK COUNTY SINGERS HOLD CONVENTION

Cedartown, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—The Polk County Singing convention, which is held annually every fourth Sunday in July, was held at the court house here Sunday. The attendance was estimated at 2,000, mostly from this county, but there were a number of visitors from a distance.

"I wouldn't cast doubt upon the value of their judgment," said John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, "but I am not yet seen anything that would justify their optimism."

S. D. Warriner, spokesman for the operators, assured questioners that anthracite operators, in communication with Mr. Hammond and Mr. Marshall, did not know upon what their predictions were based.

As chairman of the general committee of anthracite operators, Warriner also issued a statement pleading "not guilty" to allegations reported emanating from the United States coal commission that the operators "were stalling" in the present negotiations.

BIRTHS REPORTED

To Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lamb, 128 East Eleventh street, a boy, July 31.
To Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gresham, 60 Springdale road, a boy, July 31.
To Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Echols, 87 Highland view, a boy, July 4.
To Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Harmer, 12 East Thirteenth street, a boy, July 6.
To Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Hangerford, East Price street, a boy, July 8.
To Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Duggan, 209 Lake street, a boy, July 8.
To Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lowery, 222 Lee street, a boy, July 9.
To Mr. and Mrs. Candler Hargett, 130 Montgomery drive, a boy, July 9.
To Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lacy, 101 West Harris street, a boy, July 9.

Lima beans planted with the "eyes" down will grow faster and better than if the eyes are up.

Hydroelectric development now under way in southern Italy will cost nearly $20,000,000.

Is Your Name Printed Here?
(A new name every morning. Watch for yours.)

THE BRITLING CAFETERIA CO. Invites
Mr. Tom Jefferies, Court House

And two friends of his own selection to be its guests for one meal within five days.

Please detach this coupon and present to Cashier with your meal check. Good at either Britling, 90 N. Pryor street, or Peachtree Arcade building.

The Britling Concert orchestra will render your favorite requests. Noon—12 to 1:30; Evenings—6 to 7:30.

Breakfast Luncheon Supper

High-Grade Jellico Large Lump $8.00
High-Grade Jellico Medium Lump $7.50
D. H. THOMAS, IVY 8168

Steel Engraved Stationery will help your business.

It makes a poor letter good, and a good letter, still better. Before placing your order for Letter Heads, Envelopes, Business Cards or Announcements consult us about Engraving the work—we are specialists in this line and our prices are right.

Call Ivy 7211 for city salesman.

J. P. STEVENS ENGRAVING CO.
103 Peachtree Street Atlanta, Ga.

ROSEMARY FUNERAL DIRECTORS

QUALITY, COURTESY AND EFFICIENCY.
W. PEACHTREE AND KIMBALL STS. HENRIK 6380
W. GARTINE JOHNSON CLARENCE J. HILL T. J. CLIMER

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.

P. O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

MORTUARY

JOEL M. PUTMAN.
Joel M. Putman, 70, 220 Peachtree street, died Monday morning at the residence. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Matilda Putman; three daughters, Mrs. R. L. Beddingfield, Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, Brooks, Ga., and Mrs. Floyd Moody, Atlanta; three sons, E. H. Putman of Forsyth, P. A. Putman of Freeport, Texas, and W. C. Putman of Brooks; one brother, John P. Putman of Gadsden, Ala.; and one sister, Mattie Sanson, also of Gadsden. Awtrey & Lowndes in charge.

MRS. MARTHA MCAFEE.
Mrs. Martha McAfee, 76, of Blue Ridge, Ga., died Sunday at a local hospital. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Wilson and Mrs. T. H. Smith, of Atlanta, and four sons, J. N. and W. G. McAfee, of Copper Hill, Tenn., and T. A. and C. W. McAfee, of Blue Ridge, Ga. Barclay & Brandon in charge.

MRS. JESSE R. PENNY.
Mrs. Jesse R. Penny, 52, died Sunday morning at the residence, 111 McDaniel street. Besides her husband, Mrs. Penny is survived by three daughters, Mrs. C. E. Reynolds, Mrs. Z. A. Cooper, and Mrs. T. M. Howard, and one son, Mr. T. M. Howard and Mrs. A. T. Cox, Barclay & Brandon in charge.

A. OWEN MAFETT.
A. Owen Mafett, 71, of 50 Simpson street, died Sunday at a private hospital.

Service Talk Talks Atlanta Multigraphing Co.
Georgia Savings Bank Bldg. Walnut 1436

GOV'T MATERIAL
Government Wagons, Dump and Log Chutes, Wheels, Axles, Water Tanks, Tires, Formers, Furnaces, Write for list and prices.

The J. B. McCrary Co.
ATLANTA, GA.

GABRIEL SNUBBERS
SAVE YOUR CAR. Keep you on the road.
Hopkins Automobile Equipment Co.
Sales and Service Station 397 Peachtree

PROFESSIONAL CARD
P. H. Brewster, Hugh Holding, Albert Howell, Jr., Hugh Howell, M. Horner, and P. Bloodworth, Arthur Heyman, Herman Heyman, Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman, 507 to 520 Connally Building, Atlanta.

Buy a Home—Have the Title Guaranteed and Insured by ATLANTA TITLE & TRUST CO.
15 East Alabama St.

AUTOMOBILE SPRINGS
To fit all cars and trucks. Prompt installation and service in our own shops. LOW PRICES.

YANCEY BROS.
90 N. Jackson St. IVY 1383

EVANKS MANTEL & TILE COMPANY
MANTELS
TILE FLOORS AND WALLS
45 AUBURN AVE. ATLANTA, GA.

Is Your Name Printed Here?
(A new name every morning. Watch for yours.)

THE BRITLING CAFETERIA CO. Invites
Mr. Tom Jefferies, Court House

And two friends of his own selection to be its guests for one meal within five days.

Please detach this coupon and present to Cashier with your meal check. Good at either Britling, 90 N. Pryor street, or Peachtree Arcade building.

The Britling Concert orchestra will render your favorite requests. Noon—12 to 1:30; Evenings—6 to 7:30.

Breakfast Luncheon Supper

High-Grade Jellico Large Lump $8.00
High-Grade Jellico Medium Lump $7.50
D. H. THOMAS, IVY 8168

Steel Engraved Stationery will help your business.

It makes a poor letter good, and a good letter, still better. Before placing your order for Letter Heads, Envelopes, Business Cards or Announcements consult us about Engraving the work—we are specialists in this line and our prices are right.

Call Ivy 7211 for city salesman.

J. P. STEVENS ENGRAVING CO.
103 Peachtree Street Atlanta, Ga.

ROSEMARY FUNERAL DIRECTORS

QUALITY, COURTESY AND EFFICIENCY.
W. PEACHTREE AND KIMBALL STS. HENRIK 6380
W. GARTINE JOHNSON CLARENCE J. HILL T. J. CLIMER

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.

P. O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Miss May Maffett and Mrs. E. W. Hawkins; three sisters, Mrs. T. G. Townley, Mrs. O. McNamee and Mrs. Rainey, Harry G. Poole in charge.

MRS. LAWRENCE E. GEE.
Mrs. Lawrence E. Gee, 73, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. P. Brown, 47 Columbia avenue. Besides her daughter, she is survived by one son, D. E. Gee, H. M. Patterson in charge.

ALTHEA CLYDE CUBROW.
Althea Clyde Cubrow, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cubrow, 427 Crest street, died suddenly at the residence Sunday. Besides her parents, she is survived by a little brother and sister, Barclay & Brandon in charge.

EDITH FAY DODD.
Edith Fay Mildred Dodd, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dodd, 26 Carroll street, died Monday at the residence, Harry G. Poole in charge.

MRS. CLARA DARGAN MCFEEN.
Mrs. Clara Dargan McFeen died Monday at a private hospital. She is survived by one son, Major Stewart McFeen, of Seawance, Tenn. H. M. Patterson in charge.

Football is the rage in Spain. crowds of 30,000 to 40,000 enthusiasts at games being common.

Peter Heinlein, locksmith in Nurnberg, Germany, invented the first watch about 1520.

How the enzyme can live at a temperature of 187 degrees F in yeasters is to be studied to obtain the secret for humanity.

Hunter Blanchard-Gartrell Co FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Ambulance Service
235 IVY STREET
Phone IVY 0859

Piedmont Avenue Corner

On this promising thoroughfare we can offer a very large corner lot having 130-ft. frontage on Piedmont avenue, running back to a depth of approximately 150 ft., containing 4 good dwelling houses. These dwellings bring in a rental income of $3,000 a year and we can sell the property at a price such that the present rental income yields a fair percentage and the enhancement will be net to the purchaser. Buyers who take advantage of present-day prices on Piedmont avenue will have something good to resell later on when prices have advanced. The particular corner that we offer possesses the merit of having substantial improvements and the holder of the property will not be carrying a heavy load of expense while awaiting enhancement.

Adair Realty & Trust Company
Healey Bldg. Walnut 0100

LOANS FOR SALE

Between these two years there lies the record of a conscientious and successful service to the people of Atlanta.

1890 The dependable character of our mortgages is shown conclusively by the fact that in our entire thirty-three years' experience we have not lost a single dollar for any of our investors. This record speaks for itself, and we are proud of its distinction.

1923

Founded 1890

"Thirty-three years without a loss"

WEYMAN & CONNORS
Wal. 0942 621-7 Grant Building

Loans Insurance Rents

Engraving of Social and Business Stationery

Must be as nearly perfect as human agency and the most improved machinery can make it.

Our experts in steel dye and copper plate engraving are at your service. Let us quote prices.

Boote & Davies Company
Stationers.

"Five Seconds from Five Points"

Alonzo Richardson & Company
1420-1425 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.
540 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C.

Certified Public Accountants
Auditing and Accounting in All Its Branches
Special Income Tax Department

MICE and RATS

We have neither in either of our three warehouses. The reason is we do not store anything, on which they can live.

JOHN J. WOODSIDE STORAGE CO., Inc.
239 Edgewood Ave. Atlanta, Ga. IVY 2036

25,000 Square Feet—Railroad Frontage

Within five blocks of Five Points and almost under the Spring Street Viaduct. Has frontage on three good streets and the N. C. & St. L. Ry tracks.

Signs on a building on this lot would stick out like a sore thumb. It is in the very center of Atlanta's biggest industrial section. Convenient to the Depots, Post Office, City Hall, Express Office and Banks. Is close to your labor supply and with good street car service. Cannot be excelled for your own use or to build on and rent as an investment or for a quick turn at a sure profit.

"Create an Estate"

A. S. ADAMS-CATES CO.
Grant Building Walnut 5477

Money for large loans

Funds now available for farm and city loans in Georgia and adjoining States in amounts up to $500,000.00.

Communicate with us if you need a loan, or have applications to submit.

Sessions Loan & Trust Co.
Marietta, Ga.

Whitehall Street Store Lease

In center of retail shopping district one of the most desirable locations on the street. Frontage 23 feet, depth 75 on main floor and basement. Second floor has 3,300 square feet daylight space. Unexpired lease—about six years to run. Price very reasonable for location.

A. S. ADAMS-CATES CO.
Grant Building Walnut 5477

LODGE NOTICES

East Point Chapter, R. A. M.
Regular convocation, Tuesday night, July 24, 8 o'clock, at the City Lodge No. 2, P. O. Box 100, Atlanta, Ga. All R. A. M. members, including new members, are invited to attend. By order
P. A. JOHNSON, Sec.

The regular convocation of Mt. Heron Chapter No. 155 will be held in W. B. Luckie temple this Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. All duly qualified members are invited to attend. By order L. H. PALMER, H. P. C. C. CHAMBERLAIN, Sec.

The regular communication of the City Lodge No. 2, P. O. Box 100, will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the City Lodge No. 2, P. O. Box 100, Atlanta, Ga. All members are invited to attend. By order
T. R. FAY, W. M. HOWARD GELBERT, Sec.

The regular communication of Capital City Lodge No. 62, P. O. Box 100, will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the City Lodge No. 62, P. O. Box 100, Atlanta, Ga. All members are invited to attend. By order
J. G. BENTON, Sec.

A regular meeting of the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, 412 Campbell street. All members are invited to attend. By order
J. G. BENTON, Sec.

The regular meeting of the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, 412 Campbell street. All members are invited to attend. By order
J. G. BENTON, Sec.

The regular meeting of the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, 412 Campbell street. All members are invited to attend. By order
J. G. BENTON, Sec.

The regular meeting of the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, 412 Campbell street. All members are invited to attend. By order
J. G. BENTON, Sec.

The regular meeting of the City Lodge No. 15, Junior Order of United Mechanics and Trades, will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the City Lodge No. 15, Junior